My dear General Burdett, I feel extremely like a deserter in retreating during the bombardment of good old General Sigel; & I was particularly sorry not to hear your defense remarks. But I had to catch my homeward train to Boston. I desire to thank you for the kind words you said about my "Chancellorville". I am aware, (without vanity, I think,) that it was the first true exposition of the causes of the defeat of May 2^d; & though I have published many (& better) volumes since, I feel that that one, my first, was of real service. But such service is not always followed by appreciation. It is for this reason that I thank you for the appreciative words you were good enough to say to me. Already ninteen, I do not do much in the field, except on every additional good heart counts. I hope to live long enough to do some better work with you, than I was permitted to do with Brad.

I am just starting on a six months trip around the Mediterranean basin, to sketch out Caesar's battle fields, from Africa round to Spain. I hope to send you the results in the third volume of my Great Captains.

Yours very truly,

Gen. T. C. Howard,

Howard and Dear Sir: Your welcome letter came to me when I was, at my home, since which time I've entered school.

I enclose several letters together with Yoursown to me Oct 31st, and that of Senator Cullum of Ill., who has been letters tried to aid me to get some departmental work to help tide me over and graduate April next.

I've been unable as yet to secure any thing, hence I'm penniless, having scarcely any thing to wear to keep me comfortably from the ravages of Washington's weather; nor to defray my tuition, yet with all this I'm hopeful and in school.

h. R. reference sister you

Mr. Rankin, to whom you wrote in reference to me, could lend me no assistance except in doing my letters as you'll see by enclosed letters.

Truly mine is an uphill and gigantic fight. I'm working daily for my board, but earn no money with which to pay my tuition.

Can't you, General, send me to some of your friends here? Mr. Paris and Rankin will tell you I must pay $5.00 before I can go up for examination and graduation April 15th, '92.

I enclose you letters to show you how earnestly I've sought to help myself. I trust you will be able to write me a personal letter to some one in authority so I may be able to get some thing to do to earn my fee between now and Feb. 1st, '92.

Week Nov. 8
I am needing my friends a to exposit for food and clothing, just as I am means to graduate April next — $50⁰⁰/₁₀₀.

I think if you but knew me as Mr. Rankin would write to some public officer who after finding I am not an impostor from Mr.
Rankin & Purvis, I would get some one to either give me work or a wanted assistance to help me through.

It is as strange one in any profession but that of the Christian ministry can't get any thing or body baid them.

To help me help myself you see, I am comparatively shortless because I am determined to graduate. Over this not my big ambition to succeed by this I should be living on. I am so, as it are here they now. Thank God, Yours Obediently Jos. S. Cook.

Dear Sir,

I must apologise for not having written to you before, my delicate health has been the cause of my negligence.
Some friends of mine with myself have been looking up all the work that treat of Isabel la Catalica and Fernando. also of C. Colon: two of the best are by English authors - H. Prescott "History of Queen Isabel and Fernando," and the works of Washington Irving.

An interesting work written in Spanish, but I should say translated in English, is "Praises of the Queen Isabel - by Clemencia - also a book called the Catholic Kings," (that is to say Isabel la catolica and her husband Fernando) by Ber-naldez. Another great work written in French is "The life and voyages of Colon," by Rosselly de Lorquer.

As I have not a list of precisely what you want to know I do not know what notes to make, and the books are much

In the year 1465 some sailors and notabilities of that town told him of some voyages made by people of that country to that the distance was so great that they left young men and returned quite old ones - this being the case America was known to exist before Co-

I am afraid that all I have said will be old news to you. It is indeed very difficult for a person so poor in knowledge as myself, to be of any use to such a well read and talented person as you are: nevertheless, if you
