Gen. O.O. Howard:

For the Jours of So just received. While unable to promise to a certainty to your proposition - I fell confident our S.I. will be glad to have an interest in your Mission. Unfortunately I will be away from home the coming Sunday, but will have the subject brought before them - the following statement. If this is satisfactory, will we consider the question settled? Otherwise will you kindly advise me. Very respectfully,

My dear General Howard,

Will you kindly accept a copy of the New Year's greetings I am sending out to a few Christian friends. To bring in some of the precious promises of the Scriptures, I have made use of the context of the mail. I pray you may be of the Lord and have a bountiful journey. I am looking forward to see you. My regards to General. With your life, by the grace of God that your fellow countrymen, your home. The ends of the earth travel.

In common with many hundreds who honor God and love you, I thank God.
our life has been and I pray with them, that it may be a year fraught with mercy and blessings from our loving Lord to yourself and to your family.

It is twelve five years, since

The new year I spent in Savannah, as a member of your staff.

It will not be long before

The dawning of a year that shall never end, in the fair city of our God. That I may sit there with you in the family of the Redeemed is my earnest prayer,

and, by God's grace, my husband

I am dear General, with much love. Very Respectfully,

Your former Staff Officer

Major Gen. O. C. Howard:

Dear Sir:

Probably you do not remember me, though we have very pleasant memories of your stay in San Francisco.

I venture to write you now regarding our Boys' Brigade work. In this same mail I send you copies of our Manual No. As you will see we are largely following the British plan, with some important changes, and maintain the most cordial relations with the Parent Brigade.
Mrs. D. W. Provost:

I was very much pleased to receive your letter of August 8th. It was like a ray of sunshine to a poor little flower. You see I am very much in need of a home and I have sent a number of letters asking for assistance but have not yet received any response. I am now living with a family in the city and they are treating me very kindly. However, I would much rather have my own home where I can be more comfortable.

I have been thinking of ways to raise money to purchase a home for myself. I have been selling my paintings and I am hoping to make enough to buy a small house. However, I am not sure if I will be able to do this. I have been told that the cost of houses is very high in the city and I am not sure if I will be able to find one within my budget.

I have been thinking of taking a job in the city but I am not sure if I will be able to find one. I have been told that the competition is very stiff in the city and I am not sure if I will be able to find a job.

I am hoping that you can help me in some way. If you have any suggestions or ideas, I would be very grateful. I would be very happy to have your support in any way that you can give it.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely yours,

Honorary President, the Earl of Aberdeen, and among its Honorary Vice Presidents, Gen. Sir Donald Stewart and R.P.
Henry Drummond.

In this country we now enrol about 60 companies, about half of them in the East. Many other companies are being formed and the work is receiving the most enthusiastic endorsement of all Christian people who come in contact with it. We expect soon to have a new printed edition
(The 3rd) of our manual.

My special object in writing you now is to ask, behalf of the Ex. Com., if you will not accept the position of Honorary President. We should be exceedingly glad to have a favorable response. The duties of the office will not be burdensome, while your interest therein manifested would be of great help to us in pushing our organization which, we believe, is second to none in the Church in its future for the future. Please examine our documents and give us an early and favorable answer. Our Sec. will then keep you informed of the movement. With great respect,

Dear General Howard:

May I not know something of your literary plans for the coming winter to embody in our weekly literary letters to the newspapers?

I shall be very glad to know -- with as much detail as your time will allow -- of any books or special articles which you may have in contemplation, as well as any personal information which you will allow us to publish.

It is unnecessary for me to add, I am sure, that the source of information of this sort imparted to us, is always regarded as confidential, and that the material is printed as coming directly from us and not from the giver.

Hoping that you will favor me to such an extent as you feel at liberty to disclose your literary plans, I remain,

Yours very cordially,
