Dear Sir,

I herewith enclose a few notes about Isabel la Católica prove interesting and be of some use to you.

The other day I went nearly all over Madrid to see if I could find some little pictures or photographs of the castles & towns where she lived etc. - there were plenty; but no small ones, they are all large photographs from forty to sixty inches square and mounted on thick card-board ready to be framed. Of course those make very pretty pictures framed, but would not do for a book.

I will try and get a copy of Isabel's will, also a copy of Juana's (her daughter's) letter to el Señor Veyre.

I do not know if you were at the last Paris exhibition, if so, you will doubtless have seen the Spanish section: there were two beautiful pictures that would have

they decided to give it to the latter (Guerra la are two chef-d'œuvres of the modern Spanish school and are at present in one of the best in Europe

There are lovely photographs of these splendid pictures, but as I said before

they are all large ones

Gen. O. O. Howard,

My Honored Friend -

I do not know just where you stand politically, but I know you to be an earnest worker for Christianity and temperance, and I venture to hope that you will be willing to help forward the movement in which some of us are as earnestly interested as we were more than thirty years ago in the Wide Awake movement which helped the Republican party on to its first grand victory.

An earnest effort is being made to have a million voters pledge themselves to vote the Prohibition ticket this year, ~~the~~ pledge to be binding if the million voters sign. The outlook is hopeful, and we trust that a great multitude of those who have been waiting for some definite onward movement will now enroll themselves under the banner of Prohibition. The increase in the number, the power, and the audacity of the saloons is ~~so~~ great that many many men who have never been known as temperance men say that a halt must be called.

A German Jew, who has been a staunch Republican, said to me a short time since: "Mr. Bliss, I am a German, a Republican, and a drinking man (not an intemperate man, but I take a drink when I want it); but I see that that the saloons absolutely rule this city, and I am not willing that they should do so. They will rule the nation unless they are checked, and I want them checked. I see no power that can check them except your party, and I hope you party will succeed. Bless. Z. M. He has now signed the Million Voters Agreement. If a German Jew who likes his drink can do this it seems as if temperance Christians ought to stand together in a party pledged to eternal hostility to the liquor traffic.

I venture to enclose a couple of the Million Voters' blanks.
If you have not already had similar ones in your hands will you not sign and get others to sign, and return them to me?

Very truly and sincerely
Your friend

March 8th, 1892.

Dear General:-

I enclose one letter to Guy. There has been no important personal letters received since I last wrote, and all others have been attended to.

In this morning's "Tribune" an article appears stating that it was rumored that Mr. J. H. Staring would be given the contract for the transportation of the immigrants from Ellis Island to New York. If this is true, it means one or two things; first, that the ferry slip, built at the barge office by the Immigration Commissioners, has been decided an improper expenditure and will not be authorized by the Treasury Department and must be removed, or Mr. Staring has been given possession of it, and by his prominence and political power, make it impossible for either the War Department or the Collector's Bureau to remove him. Mr. Staring, however, I am sure, is a man who will not lend himself to any such small practice as to keep us away from our proper landing place. I do not think the matter will be fully decided until Mr. Foster returns from Europe.

Guy's children and the Barnett children are doing nicely, and say they do not want their parents to come back as they are having their own way.

Sec. and Treas.

Washington, D. C. Mar. 8th 1892

My dear Gen. Howard:

Our Charter Day
has been a great success. It will be observed, henceforth, annually. A splendid portrait of Sen. Pomeroy was presented by Mrs. Pomeroy. I gave a sketch of all the Presidents, but myself:
of Sen. Pomeroy. I am looking for that portrait, which you promised me, when I was at Governor's Island.
Send me a good photograph.

Dr. S. B. Nichols of Vankam, T.D.
made a memorial address, which was capital. He has had a real orator here. The students have given him a gold-headed cane.
He is my guest; goes back to Dakota, today.

Now, Sen, can't you be met us the last of May, & make us a 25th anniversary address, at our commencement? We all hope so.

Have been reading Sturges Locke & Life, by his wife. Is Mrs. Howard to auto quore, or shall I have to do it?

Aff. Yours,

J. Rankin.

March 8th 1892.

Major General. O. O. Howard U.S.A.

Respected Sir,

At the risk of being troublesome, I again address you on a matter of very great importance to me.

You were good enough, some months ago, to give me, very valuable information in connection with a comedy-drama I am writing based on incident of the late war.

I would ask of you to settle just one more point for me, if time and inclination will allow.

The hero of the play while he is only a sergeant, defends a negro from an unprovoked assault; and in doing so strikes his own superior officer -

Would this mean death? And if just before he is executed his Colonel should receive word that ~~he~~ had been commissioned a Captain ~~before~~ his commission being dated before the assault

would it be considered that his having been the military equal of the man
he had assaulted, freed him from the crime of which he had been ~~found~~ found guilty.

If yes. Could he be tried again for an assault on a brother officer?

Do you think the title of my play, "Battery B" a good one?

I can offer no excuse for thus troubling you, except that I need the information badly and feel sure that I can apply to no one more able (and perhaps ^{not so} less willing) to help me. From the present outlook it is more than likely that the play will be seen next season.

2
as several gentlemen
well known in the theatrical world, are much interested in the play. —

I am now traveling and will give you my route, in order that you may answer at your leisure.

Most respectfully

Genl O. O Howard.

As seen in a San-Antonio paper a few days ago that you purposed taking a trip down through Mexico, for purpose among other things of collecting some facts about Genl Taylor whose history you were writing. I take the liberty of suggesting that you try and see Dr J. M. Prescott of Zacatecas, who was a Surgeon in regular Army under Genl T. and on battle field acted as special aid or bearer of dispatches. The Dr as you may know is noble Christian gentleman and has been one of most efficient helpers to our Mission & without remuneration that we have had or still have.
You would find it pleasant, and I am sure helpful to your work you have in hands to stop a day or so at Zac and see the Dr as well as our Mission work there. I shall not be there for several weeks, but my son Rev William Wallace is there in my absence, and both he and Dr P will give you a welcome.

Wallace, T. F.

If you can go please drop a Postal to either of them before hand letting them know when you will arrive, and or which will be some thing of advice me at Villa Lerdo, State of Coahuila.

I have just met in this town an old man 83 years of age who was with Gen Taylor in Seminole war who has given me some incidents of Gen. T. This man was afterwards with Gen Scott in Mexico - His name is Bradley, - He was when quite young a soldier in English Army, and more than usually intelligent for a common soldier, and but of full seems to have a firm and child like faith in the Savions. Excuse me an unknown friend to your letter, of writing this hurried note.

Yours fraternally, -

T. F. Wallace -

P.S. should you get this before you get to Saltillo you will find that I will be glad to arrange in some way a vista battlefield - T. F. W.

The Chaplain-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Rev. Samuel D. Paine, the present Chaplain-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who is pastor of the Flagler Memorial Presbyterian Church, of St. Augustine, Fla., has had quite a military experience. He was born in London, England, in September, 1837. At a little over 16 years of age he enlisted in the English Royal artillery, and went to the Crimea at the breaking out of the war between the combined forces of England, France and Turkey against Russia. He took an active part in some of the great battles, and in the siege of Sebastopol; was present and assisted in the capture of the Russian Black Sea stronghold, Sebastopol, on Sept. 8, 1855.

After the close of this war he came to America, and entered the Union army in 1861 from the State of Maine, and was commissioned by Gov. Washburne, of Maine, Senior First Lieutenant of the 2d Maine battery, or Battery B.

At the battle of Fredericksburg, under Burnside, in December, 1862, he had three horses shot under him. He went to Florida about 12 years ago from Illinois, where he was Department Chaplain for two years.

He is one of the charter members of O. M. Mitchell Post, 4, Department of Florida. He has been Commander of O. M. Mitchell Post and Department Chaplain a number of times, and is Department Chaplain now.

Comrade Paine has interested himself in the G.A.R. work in Florida, and has collected considerable funds for O. M. Mitchell Post, to enable them to assist comrades from the North who have come to Florida in search of health or work, and have been taken sick or died in Jacksonville. They have buried quite a number who would have been buried as paupers without the help of O. M. Mitchell Post.

He has been largely instrumental in getting a handsome monument in memory of the Union soldiers who are buried in the Evergreen Cemetery outside of Jacksonville. He was unanimously elected Chaplain-in-Chief at Detroit last August.

Comrade Paine was formerly a Methodist preacher, having built four Methodist churches in Florida. He is now in the Presbyterian ministry, and Pastor of one of the handsomest Presbyterian Churches in the United States. It was built by H. M. Flagler, of New York, in memory of his daughter, Mrs. Benedict, who died on her way to Florida. The church and manse cost nearly $250,000. The manse is one of the handsomest in the world; in the parlor of the manse hangs the old sword—faded scarlet sash—shoulder knots, etc., which the Presbyterian preacher occupying the manse had presented to him in Portland, Me., in 1861, and which he carried in a number of severe and bloody battles for the preservation of the Union.

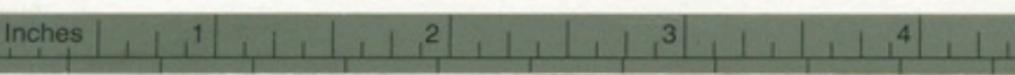

Comrade Paine has two silver medals, one presented to him by Queen Victoria for the siege of Sebastopol, and the other by the Sultan of Turkey; also a handsome miniature G.A.R. badge, enamel and gold, presented by O. M. Mitchell Post, of Jacksonville, Fla. He is well known as an eloquent preacher and a famous lecturer. He has a most interesting lecture on the invasion of the Crimea and siege of Sebastopol, which he has given both North and South for the benefit of G.A.R. Posts and other good causes.

He married in 1865 a lady from Maine, a gifted, handsome woman, who has been a great help to him in the ministry. She is a talented organist and pianist, and a magnificent alto singer. He has two children, a boy and a girl. His son, 19 years of age, born in Illinois, stands six feet one and a half inches, weighs nearly 200, and is one of Yale's game football players, and is on Yale's Varsity Crew.

Comrade Paine is always glad to see his comrades at his church or manse, and any Grand Army man or old Union soldier going to St. Augustine ought not to fail to visit his magnificent church and manse. He will always receive a hearty welcome from Comrade Paine.

A TESTIMONIAL

From the Soldiers of St. Francis Barracks to Rev. S. D. Paine.

We, the undersigned, enlisted men of the Fifth Regiment of the U. S. Infantry, stationed at St. Francis Barracks, St. Augustine, Fla., having learned of the expected severance of Rev. Dr. S. D. Paine from his pastoral connections with the Memorial Presbyterian church of this city, do hereby desire to express our deep regret therefor, feeling as we do, that his place could not be filled by any one more highly esteemed, both as a minister and a christian gentleman.

The plain, liberal and practical religious truths which the Doctor teaches and his manner of illustrating them, together with the deep interest which he has at all times manifested for the welfare of the soldier, has won for him our lasting friendship and highest appreciation.

Dear Father: Yesterday Mr. Barber asked if I would go to Europe at once for the lov of to get a rest on the voyage. I said yes. I leave therefore on short notice on the Hamburg Line Steamer "Gellert" from N.Y. City Thurs A.M. at 8.00 for Hamburg.

I take Adelheid & Hildegard with me, also Miss Ada Chandler.

I secured the best state rooms on the steamer - a good one. Very few passengers. They go on board Wed. night Feb 16.

I am well also Hildegard. Adelheid has had a long spell - weak & so I remain in Göttingen one week. Then go probably to Vienna, Paris, Berlin London & then home - getting here within 6 or 7 weeks.

Adelheid & Hildegard will remain in Göttingen for at least two months & until a good opportunity arrives to return - Perhaps with mother or others - However that can be determined upon later on. I am sorry to go before you return, but a passage to Europe is so easy & it is best that I start at once to get back in time for other work.

Please have my & Jamie regard this letter to them also and excuse Adelheid from writing - she has much to do just now.

With love Jamie

OPEN LETTER FROM H. H. HINMAN.

415.

To the Secretaries of the American Missionary Association, New York City.

DEAR BRETHREN:

You can not be ignorant of the existence of two circulars recently published, with reference to Berea College, Ky., bearing date Nov. 14, 1891, and Feb. 10, 1892, signed by L. C. Warner, and others. These papers (though it is not so stated) seem to have your endorsement, for they contemplate action on your part affecting this College. As a life member of the A. M. A., and as one who has served both as a home and foreign missionary under its patronage, I desire to make my humble protest against a course that would place the A. M. A. in a false position before the Christian world, and do a great wrong to a struggling College and a veteran Christian philanthropist. Believing these circulars to have been written and signed under a misapprehension of facts, I desire to charge on no one any unworthy motives. Nevertheless I protest, for the following reasons:

1. There was no just occasion for the issuance of these circulars. No change had been made, or was even suggested, in the constitution, the by-laws, or the practical administration of the College. The same policy under which this institution has been so signally blessed in the past, was being steadily pursued. No one would deprecate such a change more earnestly than Mr. Fee. The pretence that by his influence it was likely to be drawn into the "narrowest kind of a sect, hostile alike to all missionary societies and religious denominations," is unwarranted and absurd, as will be seen.

2. These circulars make the officers of Berea College responsible for the personal opinions of Mr. Fee. They arraign his views of baptism as if they were to be enforced by the College. They assume that his personal relations to other questions were matters about which the donors to the College ought to be deeply concerned. Mr. Fee's views on baptism have long been well known. He has never sought to have them endorsed either by the College or by the church over which he has for so many years been the faithful pastor. There was about as much occasion for assailing Dr. Gordon, of Boston, or the late Mr. Spurgeon, as to have made this attack on Bro. Fee. So, too, of his personal relations to the A. M. A. He has never opposed, in the slightest degree, the excellent work in which you are engaged, save that of recent sect building, as stated in his autobiography. The church of which he is pastor has for years made the A. M. A. one of the objects for which it takes collections. As a member of that church I have, according to my ability, helped the work of the A. M. A. Mr. Fee has a right to his views, and it was utterly unjust to assume that he wished to make any one but himself responsible for his utterances.

3. These circulars affirm what is untrue and unjust, when they say that he has founded a sect under his special control, known as the "Missionary Association of Kentucky." The only element of truth in this statement is that a few individuals, of whom I was one, united as a missionary society, that by the terms of its constitution was to be strictly undenominational, and which had for its object to aid certain feeble churches in Kentucky. It is in no way opposed to any other society, save in its anti-sectarian attitude. It seeks to labor in needy and unoccupied fields, and is in no sense a "sect." Those who so regard it see it through a medium which gives its color to all they behold.

4. These circulars assail the mental and moral characteristics of the veteran Christian philanthropist, through whose efforts Berea College was founded, and who has done and suffered more for its prosperity than any other person living. They now assume that his influence is so pernicious that they must resist it or the College will be destroyed! The pretext is puerile.

5. And mainly. The issuance of these circulars is an attempt to coerce and bribe a struggling institution, by the promise of aid, if the demands are met, and the threat of withholding it, if they are denied. In the opinion of some of the friends and patrons of the institution the proposed action will tend to subvert rather than promote the original purposes of this institution. They would have the institution change its basis, be negative and not positive against the sin of schism. They are the innovators, not Mr. Fee.

Let me briefly recapitulate: 1. The statements of these circulars, even if we should concede their truthfulness and fairness, do not warrant their demands. 2. These statements are partial, irrelevant, and in some things, untrue. 3. They appeal to unworthy motives, and assail a good man by unchristian methods. The A. M. A., so signally blessed of God in its great work of beneficence, ought not to lend itself to such an undertaking.

CONSTITUTION, CHARTER ^{and} BY-LAWS

—OF—

BEREA COLLEGE, KY.

(ADOPTED JULY 15-18, 1859.)

In order to promote the cause of Christ, we, Jno. G. Fee, Jno. Smith, Thos. J. Renfro, Wm. Stapp, Geo. Candee, Jas. S. Davis, Jno. A. R. Rogers, Jno. G. Hanson, do voluntarily unite ourselves together to establish and maintain an Institution of Learning, under the following articles of agreement:

ARTICLE I.—This Institution shall be called BEREA COLLEGE.

ARTICLE II.—This College shall be under the care of a Board of Trustees, who shall receive and hold in trust, all lands, legacies, moneys, and other property committed to them for said Institution, and exercise their trust in the use and disposal of the same in such manner, as shall, in their judgment, promote the highest interests of said College.

ARTICLE III.—The Board of Trustees shall elect a President, Vice-President, and Secretary, of said Board, from their own number.

ARTICLE IV.—It shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees to appoint the President and Teachers of the College, also, a Secretary and Treasurer of the same, fix their salaries, prescribe the course of study, confer degrees, receive and disburse moneys, make contracts, and enforce the same, audit accounts, appoint examiners, and transact all other business for the interests of the Institution.

ARTICLE V.—The Board of Trustees may make such By-Laws as it may deem necessary to promote the interests of the Institution.

ARTICLE VI.—The persons named in the Preamble of these Articles of Agreement, shall constitute its original Board of Trustees, and new members may be added to said Board, or vacancies therein filled by the addition of such persons as shall be elected members thereof by the Board and sign these articles of agreement.

To these six Articles, two others were added, when the Constitution was recorded in the office of the County Clerk, Richmond, Ky., April 5th, 1866. These are as follows:

ARTICLE VII.—In case of the dissolution of this Institution, all its funds, real estate and property shall be given to the American Missionary Association of New York City, to be applied under the direction of the Executive Committee of that Association, to its charitable uses and purposes.

ARTICLE VIII.—This Constitution may be amended by a vote of three-fourths of the Trustees at any annual meeting, providing a written notice of amendment shall have been sent to each trustee as much as three months previous to said meeting.

BY-LAWS.

1.—The object of this College shall be to furnish the facilities for a thorough education to all persons of good moral character, and at the least possible expense to the same. To promote this end all the facilities and inducements for manual labor, which can reasonably be supplied by the Board, shall be offered to its students.

2.—This College shall be under an influence strictly Christian, and as such, opposed to Sectarianism, Slaveholding, Caste, and every other wrong institution or practice.

Definition:—To be anti-sectarian is to oppose everything that causes schism in the body of Christ, or among those who are Christians,—those who have a righteous practice and Christian experience.

3.—In the election of future members of the Board, of a President and Professors, or the employment of Teachers, no sectarian test shall be applied; but it shall be required only that the candidate be competent to fill the office, and have a Christian experience with a righteous practice.

Definition:—By prohibiting the application of sectarian tests, we mean to say that in the selection of the members and officers named, we will give no weight in our decision, nor select in view of the fact, that the candidate is in favor of sprinkling or immersion; or demand that he agree or disagree with us, in regard to other theological tenets on which Christians differ.

4.—Any Trustee who shall be guilty of a gross immorality, may be expelled from the Board by a vote of a majority of the Trustees.

5.—The Board of Trustees may appoint a Prudential Committee of five or more persons, who shall transact all business committed to them by the Trustees.

6.—The Trustees shall hold an annual meeting at such time and place as they may designate.
