REGULAR MEETING,
GRAND PACIFIC HOTEL,
APRIL 18, 1892.

The next meeting of the Club will be held at the Grand Pacific Hotel, Monday evening, April 18, 1892, at half past five o'clock. Supper will be served at six.

Seats nearest the speakers will be reserved for members in the order in which the enclosed postal card notices are received by the Treasurer. Members desiring seats at any particular table for themselves or guests should call at once at the Treasurer's office and procure them. Those failing either to call or write can only be assigned seats that are left after those who have given due notice of their coming have been provided for.

Visitors' tickets may be procured of the Treasurer at $1.50 each.

Please observe that Members' tickets are not transferable.

The Secretary should be notified of any change in the address of members.

REV. GRAHAM TAYLOR, D.D.

Pastor of the Fourth Congregational Church, Hartford, Conn., will deliver an address upon

SOCIOLOGICAL CONDITIONS OF CHRISTIAN WORK.

WHY THE CHURCH SHOULD CONFORM TO THEM.
HOW THEY ARE TRANSFORMING THE CHURCHES.

At the close of Dr. Taylor's address there will be an opportunity for questions regarding the Institutional Church works so successfully conducted under his direction. The following members have also been asked to speak five minutes each upon this subject:

Rev. WILLARD SCOTT, D.D.,
Rev. G. L. MORGAN,
Rev. H. N. HOYT, D.D.,
Rev. J. G. JOHNSON, D.D.

If time permits there will also be an opportunity for general discussion.

An Open Letter to the People of the United States.

THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION will be attended by millions of our citizens, and no better opportunity has ever presented itself, or is likely to present itself, during the lifetime of any one now living, to teach the great lesson of the need, the construction, and the maintenance of good roads.

But under the present arrangement and classification of exhibits the opportunity will be wholly lost. Any one interested in the subject and endeavoring to learn what he can as to the best methods and machinery to be used in the building of a highway will probably consult the one hundred and twenty page Catalogue, a "Classification of the WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION: Chicago, U. S. A., 1893: adopted by the World's Columbian Commission," and find classified in Department A. Agricultural Building.

(Area, with annex, thirteen acres.)

- GROUP 14: CLASS 79, "Models of fences, construction of roads; literature and statistics."
- GROUP 16: CLASS 84, "Ploughs and rollers." CLASS 88, "Stump extractors." CLASS 89, "Traction engines and apparatus for road making and excavating."
- GROUP 19: CLASS 99, "Samples of wood for paving." CLASS 102, "Timber prepared in various ways to resist decay." CLASS 117, "Stump pulling devices."

Department E. Building of Mines and Mining.

(Area, five and sixth-tenths acres.)

- GROUP 43: CLASS 293, "Asphaltite and asphaltic compounds."
- GROUP 44: CLASS 296, "Building stones, granites for bridges."
- GROUP 47: CLASS 311, "Artificial stone mixtures for pavements." CLASS 312, "Asphaltic mastics and mixtures."
- GROUP 64: CLASS 392, "Rock breakers."
- GROUP 65: "Sizing appliances." CLASS 398, "Sieves." CLASS 399, "Perforated plates."

Department F. Machinery Building.

(Area, with annex, fifteen and eight-tenths acres.)

- GROUP 77: CLASS 488, "Street rollers, sweepers, and sprinklers."

Department G. Transportation Building.

(Area, with annex, over fourteen and four-tenths acres.)

- GROUP 80: CLASS 499, "Systems of drainage."
- GROUP 83: CLASS 509, "Wheelbarrows." CLASS 510, "Carts." CLASS 511, "Sprinkling carts."

Department L. Manufactures and Liberal Arts Building.

(Area, thirty and a half acres.)

- GROUP 147: CLASS 829, "Conduits of water and sewerage. Drains and sewers."
- GROUP 152: CLASS 879, "Construction and maintenance of roads, streets, and pavements."
- GROUP 152: CLASS 880, "Bridges." CLASS 889, "Working plans for paving and draining."

In other words, he finds that he must visit five enormous buildings having with their annexes an aggregate area of seventy-nine and three-tenths acres. Some of these buildings are necessarily located at long distances from the others. These buildings and the pathways between them will be thronged with thousands of persons, and the great difficulty of even finding these several special exhibits is apparent to any one who has ever attended any of the great expositions.

Fully realizing this, I sent the following letter to the Director-General:—

HON. GEORGE R. DAVIS,

BOSTON, FEBRUARY 15, 1892.

Director-General of the World's Columbian Exhibition.

SIR:—

I have the honor to suggest to you that strenuous efforts be made to make a comprehensive exhibit of improved roads and road making machinery at the Exposition. To carry out this plan some of the roads adjacent to the Exposition grounds should be constructed in accordance with the most approved systems used in Europe and this country. Cross sections of these roads should be shown in some suitable place, together with the best machinery for preparing the material, making, and taking care of roads. Stone crushers, steam rollers, street sweepers, watering carts, etc., should be included in this exhibit.

I would further suggest that "Road Construction and Maintenance" be classified as a Department instead of a "class" of one of the numerous "classes" of Liberal Arts. There should be a building constructed for this Department in which road making and road machinery could be daily shown by skilled workmen, so as to be an object lesson to every visitor.

To meet the expense of such an exhibit, and to provide the necessary building, and to attend to all the details, so as to bring it to a successful issue, it would be advisable to form an association and invite all persons interested in good roads to join and to send in subscriptions. The railroad companies, agricultural societies, carriage builders, builders of road making machinery, furnishers of paving materials, owners and lovers of horses, and the public generally would probably be willing to contribute to such a cause.

Personally, I should be very glad to give $1,000 to such an object, and I think there ought to be no difficulty in raising sufficient funds to erect a building and provide means for so important an enterprise. It would be well to give liberal prizes for the best methods and machines submitted. Such prizes would attract the attention of engineers and mechanics throughout the civilized world.

An exhibition of this kind would benefit this country incalculably, and its effect would last as long as roads are used. It would give a great impetus to the movement now being made to have interstate roads provided and maintained by national legislation.

Looking upon this matter as one of great practical importance, I cannot urge you too strongly to give it the careful consideration that it deserves, and should you give the movement your approval, I will gladly cooperate in carrying it out.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ALBERT A. POPE.

The reply was as follows:—

ALBERT A. POPE, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR:—I am in receipt of your communication of February 15th, with reference to a comprehensive exhibit of improved roads and road making machinery at the World's Columbian Exposition, and I have referred the same to Dr. S. H. Peabody, Chief of the Department of Liberal Arts, under whose charge exhibits in that class will be placed.

Yours very respectfully,

GEO. R. DAVIS, Director-General.

On March 11th Mr. Peabody sent the following letter:—

ALBERT A. POPE, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 15th February was referred to me by the Director-General, and I have also yours of the 2nd, received 7th, inquiring as to my action in the matter.

There can be no doubt that this subject is one of paramount importance to the people of this country. Whether on the gravelly soil of Massachusetts, the clays of New York and Indiana, or the prairies of the Mississippi Valley, our common roads are worse than in any other civilized country. No other material interest in the United States rests under so dense a cloud of ignorance. No improvement would so greatly aid the American farmer as that which would give him as good roads as may be found in the poorest districts, say of Ireland and Italy. I have written so much as evidence that I have some appreciation of the subject.

What can the Exposition do? How? By what department?

In Group 152, Class 879, in the Department of Liberal Arts,—Subject, Civil Engineering,—we find the title, Construction and maintenance of roads.

In Group 14, Class 79, Department of Agriculture,—Subject, Farms and farm buildings,—the title Construction of roads. The first assignment is from the engineering point of view; the second from the farmer's practical position. The latter seems the most appropriate assignment.

What can be done?

Your suggestion that some of the roads adjacent to the Exposition grounds should be examples of the most approved systems of road-construction is easily satisfied. The boulevards and parkways lately constructed have been built upon the best methods, except, perhaps, that they have not been surfaced with the hardest material. Examples of road-making, the processes of construction actually going on, will not be so easily found, as both hosts and visitors will expect that this preparatory work will have been finished before the Exposition is opened. The attempt to illustrate such work in a large and practical way in the Fair ground will occupy considerable room, which it will be difficult to find. The same statement will apply as to the probable site for a building.

Doubtless the collection would have much value if the implements and machines for road-making were assembled in such a building. They are, however, all provided for in other departments, thus: plows and harrows, Class 74; stump extractors, 88; horse-shovels, graders, ditchers, 89; stone-crushers, 329; steam-rollers, street-sweepers, watering-carts, 488; etc.

I am of the opinion that the extensive material exhibit which you propose is not practicable within the conditions that exist in Jackson Park. When it is made it will be found to be applicable only to costly roads in the vicinity of large cities, or to interstate roads, built at state or national cost. The yet more important lesson, how to build good and cheap country roads in districts where good materials for road metal are entirely wanting, will not have been reached.

Could not a valuable and practical exhibit be made by showing —

1. Statistics of the extent and kind of improved roads made in several European countries; cost of construction and maintenance, with rates of wages, etc.

2. Diagrams and photographs of good and bad roads at home and abroad; and of larger machines used in the work.

3. Sections of good roads; gravel, Telford, macadam; plank; covered with asphalt; paved with wooden blocks, bricks, granite blocks, stone slabs, etc., etc. As the methods of construction are the important lessons, these sections need not be long; they might show the curb, gutter, the rise of the road, and the sequence of strata. All these items could be seen on a form, say 10 feet long and 3 feet wide; the length extending from the outer edge of the gutter, towards the middle of the road, and the width extending along the length of the road.

4. Printed matter illustrative of the art of road-making, for distribution to such as might wish for it.

If an exhibit of such sort could be made, I would try to find a place for it in the Liberal Arts. If that will not answer your purposes, I should have to refer you to the Department of Agriculture. I am quite confident that your proposition to make a separate department, with a house, grounds, and a collection of machinery, will not be entertained for lack of opportunity.

I shall be glad to assist in any scheme that seems to be practicable under the conditions and limitations of the Exposition, and recognize that your offer of pecuniary aid is very generous. I send you in another cover a copy of the General Classification.

Yours very truly,

SELIM H. PEABODY, Chief, Department of Liberal Arts.

The main buildings are to be dedicated Oct. 12, 1892, and the Exposition is to be opened May 1, 1893. In these intervening twelve months there is ample time to erect a suitable building in which can be grouped all the things which would be useful in educating the people how to build good roads. Every state ought to send cross sections of roads, showing the construction best adapted to the particular locality, taking into consideration the most available material of which to build roads. Examples of country road bridges should also be shown.

A comprehensive road exhibit at the Exposition would be the most powerful factor to bring about national and state legislation for the construction and maintenance of good roads.

It now remains largely with the representative men of the country whether or not the matter shall be agitated so as to give the people a clear and full understanding of this most momentous subject. When the importance of it is once realized, I venture to predict that it will become one of the leading issues of the time, far transcending in practical importance the tariff, silver coinage, or Republican or Democratic rule.

Very respectfully,

ALBERT A. POPE.

My dear Brother -

The trunk and watch came safely. Many thanks for your trouble.
Rowland carried a large valise with him. I wonder if Harry has said ^{to you} anything about that. Perhaps he stored it on his arrival in Liverpool - The valise itself is not worth much, but I do not know if there is anything in it, but I would not want Harry to give himself any trouble about it.

Have you been notified that there is to be a memorial service in East Orange on the 17th? Prof. Geo. W. Marden, Rowland's immediate successor ^{in Farmington}, is to give the principal address. He is now Prof. in Colorado College, Colorado Springs. He knew

Rowland well, and had sympathy his work. I hope the services will not be unworthy of the occasion.

I hope you can be present. Perhaps you know Mr. Marden. I think he said he used to be in Washington when you lived there. He knows no one in E. C.
This will be the last one of the Memorial Services to be held, no doubt and I do hope it will do good for the cause of Peace.
Mr. Trueblood signified his readiness to come here the 1st of May -

I do not "trouble" about the expenses of our dear one's sickness, except that I do not want you and Lehas, to pay them. You both have your own families to maintain. If he had returned he would have paid his own bills except what the Peace Soc. could have helped him. There are the $2000.00 dollars Mother left him.
I would much rather it would go to settle those bills than in any other way -

Please let me do 'em. The boys refuse to take the $1000. that belongs to them. If they chose to help pay the expenses, why would it not be well for them to use that. It is theirs and I want to pay every cent that is owing & know just what I have. If my health is continued I can in some way earn enough to keep along until the children can earn for themselves. My courage is good. I did think I would go to Farmington and keep summer boarders, but the one house suitable, is not to be had. Then I applied for a dilution as housekeeper but was unsuccessful. I presume, my work this summer will be to take care of my mother. She is slowly failing in Strength. She is nearly 85 years old.

If, next fall, when the schools open, I could get a place as matron, where both Ella and Rowlie could attend school it seems to me that would be a good thing. Does it not seem so to you?

I have thought of applying to Augustine Jones, who is at the head of the "Friends Boarding School," ^{in Providence, R.I.} From what I know of the school, it would be a desirable one for the children. Farther than this I have made no plans. The Lord will take care of us, for dear
Rowland's sake, if not for our own.
I trust you are well - What news from the travellers?

The children are well and in school.

Genl O. O. Howard:

My dear Sir:-

The Young Men's Christian Association of our city is to hold its anniversary exercises some Sunday evening in May. We feel that the occasion should be one of unusual interest.

During the past two years our very existence has been threatened by a debt which is now happily almost raised and our prospects for continued life and usefulness are bright and promising.

But we are in the midst of a canvas for a new building

Norwich, Conn.
 which we feel are completed. 1 d. to

The first of these is a copy of the original manuscript of the book, which is now in the possession of the Library of Congress.
 It is a very valuable document, and one which we feel it
 our duty to preserve.
 It is now in the hands of the Librarian, and will be made available to the public as soon as possible.

Norwich, Conn., _____ 189

which we feel anxious to push to completion. Over $2000 are already subscribed, but $5500 are required before any subscription is binding.

You will readily see that a crisis is upon us which demands wise planning and enthusiastic effort.

To this end we want to secure your presence and help at our anniversary. We feel that an address from you will give the impulse which is needed to complete the canvas.

Your well-known zeal in all kinds of Christian work and your world-wide fame thro' your long and varied public service would, we are sure, so reinforce your words that the interests of Christ's Kingdom in this particular line of work would be greatly advanced.

Norwich, Conn., _____ 189

If impossible for you to come on a Sunday evening I think we could arrange for some week day evening. Norwich is easily reached from New York and your trip need not consume a large amount of your valuable time.

You may be assured that "The Rose of St. E." would give you a hearty welcome. An early reply stating date and terms on which you will come will greatly oblige.

Yours very respectfully

Gen. O. O. Howard,

Governor's Island, N. Y.,

My dear General;-

At a meeting last evening of the Committee on Arrangements for laying the corner-stone of the Grant Monument, it was decided

That we would accept the infantry that you propose to send, and one band.

They considered that in the short space of time the President would have to stay, that we could use but one band, unless the two were consolidated, which probably would not be feasible.

Also that we would not use the battery, as we have arranged with the Navy to fire a salute ~~to~~ ^{from} the ships.

I will notify you in due time to whom to report. However, they should be on the ground, say, by twelve o'clock.

Thanking you again for your courtesy in the matter, I am

On behalf of the Committee.

April 24, 1862.

Dear Sir,

Wm. D. ...

Governor's Island, N. Y.

My dear General:-

At a meeting last evening of the Committee on Arrangements for taking the command of the Great Western, I was advised that we could not have the ship for use for some time. They concluded that in the short space of time the President would have to stay, and we could not have the ship, unless the two extra companies, which probably will not be needed. Also we will not have the ship, as we have arranged with the Navy to have a ship of our own.

my dear General

allow me to call your notice to a work I am called on to assist. to wit to ask kind friends to aid in donating a Book or more - toward a Library now being organized sixteen ^{east} miles of this point. I can assure you - that nothing would give our settlers greater pleasure than to receive a volume from one so well known as yourself.

If consistent with your feelings
I sincerely hope my dear General you will thus please and gratify our settlers in this portion of Dakota who are trying to build up

Home on these praries - Wishing you a long continued life - and good health.

Remain yours

Dear Sir:

A great deal of information about the life of General Taylor can be gathered in New Orleans that would be of use in the preparation of your book.

In the Record room of the City Hall will be found all the files of the Newspapers of the time giving reports etc. that have never yet gotten in book form and in the Memorial Hall (Col. Wm. Owen in charge) some papers etc. may be found.

My late father, James M. Zacharie, ~~the~~ one period president of the Chamber of Commerce of New Orleans and one of its oldest merchants was a friend and a great admirer of General Taylor. I have heard him often relate that at a banquet given just after the first of Taylor's victories he proposed the heart of Gen. Taylor president of the United States and her suggestion was received with enthusiasm and was the first time Taylor's name was ever mentioned for that office.

Gen Taylor owned the Fashien Plantation in the Parish of St Charles & was often in New Orleans his grand daughter lives here. In the old Sacred St. cemetery the handsome monument is that of Colonel Bliss, a ^{white marble} broken column with a military deal over it with a sword & on the base many inscriptions relating to Bliss & Taylor.

At home we have the old engraving of Taylor & old whiter, but few copies of which exist and at the City Hall are ~~two~~ portraits of the general.
 With a little searching ^{here} I think you will find much data for your book, as many of those who fought under Taylor are still alive.
 He was the popular idol of Louisiana at the time and the Legislature of the State sent a committee headed by my uncle, Shadrach Zacharie, to congratulate him in person. This committee,

With all legislative committees, had a great time and summer got it abroad the general entertained them so well that some got awfully drunk.
The droll stories about Taylor's campaign in Mexico would fill a book and many of the sayings or doings spread to the heroes in after life ~~even~~ With some it was a benefit in the hot political campaigns, ^{that followed} and with others it was the contrary as in the case of that Ohio colonel, who was ordered to entrench his regiment at Menting & threw up the fortification on the wrong side, so the regiment was left outside.

It is also related that ^{at} Roumania the pass word was "Gonting" and the counterword "Saxe", but when the Irish Sergeant had to give it he got it "Gonting" and — "Wage".

If I could be of service to you in getting any data for you I will do so with pleasure

I have taken this liberty of writing to you thinking it might be of service. Apart from knowing you as a public man I have often heard your name recalled by my brother-in-law, J. S. Denton Hardie, who knew you many years ago.

Yours truly

Major General Oliver O. Howard, U.S.A., Head Quarters, Department of the East, Governor's Island, New York.

My dear sir:--

My reply to your valued communication of 31st ult., has been delayed from various causes which I need not detail, except to say that among them are not to be enumerated any want of consideration of you or the subject matter.

Our Committee accept your proposition and trust that nothing will occur to prevent us from receiving the pleasure and the honor which your participation in the Exercises of Memorial Day of 1893 will give us.

For myself, let me say that it will give me great pleasure to entertain you at my house during your stay in New Bedford, and that I shall do all in my power to make your visit an agreeable one.

Yours respectfully,

*Thomas R. Williams, Chairman of Memorial Day Committee of New Bedford Grand Army Post,
