

310 West 128th Street,
NEW YORK, Sept. 16, 1893.

General OLIVER O. HOWARD, Governor's Island, NEW YORK.

My dear Sir, --

Learning from the newspapers some weeks ago, that you are engaged on a book shortly to be produced, I beg to introduce to your notice the business that I have been engaged in for the past eighteen years, in the hope that you may find that my services may be of some use to you.

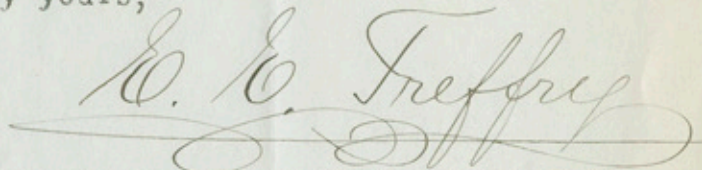

I have recently concluded an editorial engagement on the Standard Dictionary, of which you are the Military Editor. If Dr. Gregory, the Managing Editor, has not already mentioned my name to you (he intended to, at an early opportunity), I refer you to him personally, or to the enclosed copy of a letter he wrote for me on the occasion of my leaving the Dictionary. For details of my work I can also refer you to the printed copies of letters herewith, and to any of the authors, publishers, and others named in the enclosures.

A specialty with me is Indexing, and in that line I have had an extensive experience, having made, and being now engaged in the making of, Indexes to several important books. Among these I may mention Kennan's "Siberia;" Jefferson's "Autobiography;" "Life of Lincoln," by Hay and Nicolay; "Speeches of Lincoln," by the same authors; Duruy's "Middle Ages"; some of Longmans' series of "Historic Towns"; besides many law books, and smaller works.

The preparation of MSS. for the press (in some instances, I copy the MS. on the Caligraph and revise at the same time), giving careful attention to uniformity of style, etc.; the reading of a set of author's proofs, either before or after his reading, or, sometimes, to save his time, instead of his reading; research in libraries for new matter or for verification of dates, names, etc., -- all fall within my field of work, and the success I have met with in these lines is such as to justify my offering my services to you.

Should you have need of assistance, I shall be very glad to hear from you, and I can assure you of prompt and careful work.

Very truly yours,

If you have an opportunity, from your knowledge of others having similar work in hand, will you kindly use the enclosed cards.

210 West 128th Street,
New York, Sept. 15, 1893.

E. E. TREFFRY,

General OLIVER O. HOWARD,
Governor's Island,

September 16th 1893.

I have just received your letter of the 14th inst. and am glad to hear that you are engaged on a book shortly to be published. I have been engaged in the same business that I have been engaged in for the last few years, and the hope that you may find that my services are of some use to you.

I have recently concluded an editorial engagement on the Atlantic Monthly, of which you are the Managing Editor. It is not, as you are already mentioned in your letter, an early opportunity. I refer you to the person who has written a letter to you in regard to the matter of my leaving the Atlantic Monthly. For details of my work, I can refer you to the editor of the Atlantic Monthly, and to the editor of the Atlantic Monthly, and other persons in the same line.

I have also written a book on the subject of the Atlantic Monthly, and other persons in the same line. I have also written a book on the subject of the Atlantic Monthly, and other persons in the same line.

The preparation of the Atlantic Monthly is a very important work, and I am sure that you will find it very interesting. I should be glad to assist you in any way that I can, and I am sure that you will find my services of great value to you.

Very truly yours,
E. E. Treffry

Dear General Howard

I thank you for your kind reply. It is too much to ask of you, and where ever it may be necessary again I will not object to the writing by Annamie.

They have returned the papers from Tuckey but I don't wish to send forward this and to be reconciled till

I am sure they have ratified that ¹Wightson's claim as to a hundred acres part of the boundary line. They promised to go and see him and those who with him said the price was not straight and made it right and let me know.

If you these points are all made had I not better bring the paper all you to come away worth a visit. 189

I hope I shall be able to winter here as I have a comfortable room at very moderate price, The food is excellent and I know a restaurant near where some artists and writers dine and where the coffee is very nice so after my coffee and roll of shame go forward.

Dear General don't say "Blacks propose as I know them" are the ebony type. You mean slavery, a rumour from savagery, they followed in tone and among the tyrants on Aunt Cheney's plantation I recall few positively black people. I think about 70 per cent of the negro count of the South are of Mr Douglas complexion to say nothing of the tens of thousands of mixed blood that are with one count face under the negro name.

Wives with more filial devotion to the laws of just possession, they could claim the affixing of the right type.

But it is not so much the wrong as it is the cure it gives the disposition over alert to say a ha! don't you see the court admission without.

The Blacks = The Monkeys!

What should they say object to the honest names of Negro more than Norwegian Irish, etc I can't see.

"Colored people" is such an appellation. I like "Pro-Churian" It is mainly an a strong carry suggestion of amassing

I do always manage to make chats for you - Will you sum to have made such a nice pattern of the Master to govern your life I can't help spreading out to you. Sincerely yours

MINORITY RULE.

Senator Pugh, of Alabama, is one of the born statesmen who have the "genius for government" whom the Democratic party have called back to the business of making laws for the country because the country cannot get along without them. Indeed, it is an even bet that he may have been the Senator referred to in a recent article in THE TRIBUNE who spurned the idea that there was anything magnanimous or praiseworthy in the action of the Government when the men who had been in arms against it and done their utmost to destroy it were pardoned, relieved of their disabilities, restored to all their rights and privileges as citizens, and permitted to come back to the enjoyment of its highest offices. It is his belief that there was nothing magnanimous about it; that the United States Government actually called him back into its service because it could not get along without him. He is a statesman who, when it comes to capacity for affairs of great moment, ability to administer the finances of a Nation of sixty million people, regulate the currency, establish a banking system and say whether business shall be done on a basis of a fifty-cent or a hundred-cent dollar, thinks no small beer of himself. He has had large experience; was a Presidential Elector so long ago as 1848, again in 1856, and once more in 1876. He was in Congress in 1860, and being dissatisfied with the action of the American people in taking the Government out of the hands of the men who had a genius for administering it, went away to help build another. He was called back by a distressed country because it could not get along without him.

Senator Pugh has views on the currency question with which a considerable majority of his associates in the Senate, a large majority of the House of Representatives and an overwhelming majority of the people of the United States have the temerity to disagree. So much the worse for them. The state of things resulting from this disagreement is very confusing. Here is Pugh, born with a genius for government and called back into the public service because of his preternatural gifts in that direction, firmly fixed in the conviction that what the country needs to make business prosperous and poor people rich is that the Government should bind itself for all time to call 60 cents' worth of silver a dollar and compel all the nations of the earth to take it at that valuation. The Senate, the House, the President and the people differ with Pugh. The odds are great. But the born statesman with a genius for government is not rattled by large odds. Genius for government is always at its best in a minority. Indeed, what constitutes genius for government is the ability to carry out the will of a minority against the wishes of a majority. It sometimes fails, to be sure. It was quite a notable instance of it in the years following 1861. But that is one of the "pygones" which it is understood by general consent to be in bad form to recall. Senator Pugh proposes now, with the aid of a small number of Senators who are fixed in the conviction that they know better what the American people want than the people themselves, to "hold up" the whole country; to compel the majority of both houses, the President and the people to surrender. He and his associates seriously propose to prevent a majority of the Senate from taking a vote upon a pending proposition because of the certainty that when a vote is taken it will not be in accordance with their ideas.

Well, it is quite an interesting spectacle. We are a very patient people. Our reverence for free speech and the largest liberty permits the sort of thing that Senator Pugh for himself and associates threatens, to be carried to the furthest verge of forbearance. And it is best that it should be so. But we do not believe that even under the courtesy of the Senate and the rules that govern that body the precedent will be permitted to be established under which by any sort of tactics of delay or prolongation of useless debate a minority will control the action of the Government or defeat the will of the people.

Dear General Howard:-

I thank you for your kind reply. It is too much to ask of you, and wherever it may be necessary again I will not object to the writing by ammanuensis. They have returned the paper from Tuskegee but I dont wish to send forward this deed to be recorded till I am sure they are satisfied that Mighton ?? claim as to a hundred or two of the boundary line. To O. O. Howard Major General U.S. Army Governor's Island N.Y. Harbor

General
I have the honor to beg leave, to trouble you with my own private affairs, but I can not help it, it being with ^{me} a question of almost life itself. General under date of March 1st 1891, I had the honor of addressing a letter to you, in which I begged of you to recommend me to a position in the War Department, as a Watchman, Messenger or even as a laborer, you were so kind as to endorse my letter very favorably, but I never obtained a position.

Now General I am a applicant again for a place. Commodore N. K. Meade U.S. Navy, has made an application on my behalf, I have the honor to know the Commodore personally. I am certain if the General would add his recommendation to that of the Commodore I would receive an appointment

General please find enclosed a copy of the letter I wrote March 1st 1891, it is written in pencil but it is the original, therefore I took the liberty to send it. it will help you to remember me.

With your permission I will state the incident to which I alluded in my former letter When, on that deplorable day a part of our Corps broke and retreated very hastily my Regiment the 41st N York (Colonel L. Gilra) had to retreat also, and sorry I am to say it the movement became a general one, I closed with a few others in to the colors, when we met you General, dismounted in the road on the hill, a battery in position on the right of the road, here I and my few comrades halted, and I had the honor to assist the General to obtain a sufficient support for the battery, and somewhat checked the advance of the enemy.

I have also written to Brig. General F. Weather under whom I served ten years in the 2nd U.S. Infantry, with the recommendations of yourself and two other General Officers I at least ought to receive a place Hoping you will excuse me, and grant my request

I have the honor to remain General

Very Respectfull
Yours

New York,
my dear Sir,

I realize that you are a very busy man and that your time is valuable but if you can possibly spare time to grant my request you will confer me a favor that will be most highly appreciated. I am making a collection of autograph letters of the famous generals of our late war, and would respectfully ask if you will be kind enough to write me a few lines, and assure you it will greatly favor me.

Yours very Resp.
Chas. D. Scott

Dear Sir:-

Some months ago I formed the acquaintance of Mr. Henry J. Ewing.
As my last letter to him was unanswered I fear I have not his proper address therefore I would thank you to send his present address by return mail. If he has recently married do not fail to inform me and if possible give name of the lady he married as some time ago I think he was interested in a friend of mine. If this be true I wish to offer congratulations to them both.

Respectfully
Jas. A. Wood.
