last night at a citizens meeting in the interest of improving Burlington roads. This morning

I must meet Mr.

to all at home & wishes of many happy returns of both birthdays.

Dear father

The object of this is to write you a birthday letter.
I thought of writing on the 4th but did not have a chance to write. I send both loving congratulations.
I heard last night of an invitation to you to come here for a reunion & your regrets. Though up till now our fall weather has been perfect I expect we will soon shut in with a snow storm. My work is going on very well. The buildings generally have been enclosed and we are ready for winter so as to work inside during cold weather.

My intentions by an exchange of property to get you a house to tempt the family to Burlington have not been given up, but as yet have not found the right channel. I have not yet received any reply as to the house next to my own & the Ruston place is in the hands of a man with whom it is very hard to make any headway. The children continue faithfully at school & are very well. Jennie is still in Omaha & enjoying her visit very much.

Sir

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of date 8th inst relative to the movements of troops in the 25th inst.

Some time since, in conversation with the General, I informed him that, in consequence of an injury to the nerves of my left-wrist, I would be unable to use my bridle hand by that time, and he suggested that I should go as a member of his staff. The weakness of the wrist still continues and I have no hope of entire recovery for several months.

Dear Sir,

A man of some culture has recently strayed to this place, and obtained employment for a short time in our printing office. He has just had a letter written to you, in regard to supplying this College with the daily weather maps. He signs another name than that by which he is known here - He is known as T. H. Anderson, & signs as T. C. Watson, I believe. Do you know the man - or is he some crank?

Dear Sir:

We have made arrangements for the simultaneous publication, during the coming year, of a series of articles in a number of weeklies throughout the country on civic, sociological and scientific subjects. Among those who have agreed to contribute to this series are Theodore Roosevelt, Washington Gladden and Edward Everett Hale. May we not have an article from you on the subject "Young Men in Public Service"? We would want the article to contain between fifteen hundred and two thousand words. We should be glad to pay you as much for this as you would receive from any other source for similar work. Would $30.00 be satisfactory for an article of the length indicated? If you accept this commission, we will inform you at a later date when copy will be needed.

Hoping for an early and favorable reply, we remain
