Dear General Howard:

The temperance people of this city are to celebrate the recent birth of Neal Dow and they are very anxious to have you address the meeting. They desire to have the meeting either Sunday afternoon April 19th or the following Monday night you would be entertained and your expenses paid? Can you come? Please answer by return mail.

Yours truly, E. S. Bryant

May Gen'l. O.O. Howard,
U. S. Army,

My dear General,

Your letter of February 8th, declining to serve on the Alinfible memorial Committee, has been referred to me as Vice Chairman of the Committee.
Of course we all know and I am sure no one you are a very busy man will be more willing than and can well understand yourself to send his sub.

scripture to the monument of this matter, but urgent in his honor, there are others and young hence I enclose the usual blank herewith.

Wishing you a continuance of good health and fortune, I am sincerely yours,

Mr. J. O. Armst. Dear Sir: I beg you once more to help me to get my reward. Truly Yours.

My dear Sir:

Yours of the 22d instant received. I find that all of the Special and many of the General Orders of General Howard will have to be copied in this office in order to furnish the files requested by you. If Captain Motherspoon will send a list of such orders as he has found it will save this office just that much copying.

The furnishing of these files will be rather slow work, as the copying can only be done when current work is slack.

Very truly yours,

My Dear General:

The Presbytery of Philadelphia North holds its Spring meeting in our Church (The Market Square Church, Germantown) on Tuesday, April 17th next, and we are anxious to have a public meeting to consider the subject of "Temperance" on the evening of that day. Our desire is that you and Rev. Dr. Cuyler be present and speak for us.

Please let me know whether you will be in this part of the world about that time, and I will take a run over to New York, and make final arrangements about your coming here.

Dear Sir:

Yours of the 19th. is before me, I am very sorry that the General should think that after leaving the money with me to pay for Photo's he should have another bill. But I think I have found out what is the matter, however if he has received an extra number from the Photographer then I should know nothing about it. Those which I sent I paid for, are all right.

Thanking you for the notice, I am,

New York:

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 10th did not come to me, I was very sorry.

The General Order which came first after receiving the money with me does not show, I think, that the money was intended for your use. However it is possible that I have received an extra number of the

date. If so I hope I shall be able to return the money to you.

Thanking you for the notice, I am,

New York:

Dear Sir:

There is no charge on the Photos whatever, I think I hurriedly put in with them a note that—or meaning that—if you should desire any more they would be $5.00 per dozen.

However if any bill does come for them from any source please refer it to me.

I was about to go down and say some pointed things to our Photographer but I now think you must have taken my awkwardness for a Memo:—Suffice it to say that if you have received no bill from the Photographer, then can be no bill.

I have started a Company here of the Boys Brigade, I think by the time we have fully organized there will be one hundred boys in it. Will you, or can you send us some tracts for our Band of Prayer to distribute? They will be carefully distributed and do much good.

Thanking you in anticipation for them, I am

Dear Sir:

There is no guarantee for the figures mentioned. I think I improperly put in with them a more correct meaning of the figure. Would you please give me your opinion on the same?

If you could do so, I would be very much obliged.

However, if you talk to them from my source

Please let me know.

I was about to go away and see some painting interest in photography, but now think you might have written my disagreement for a moment. Writing it on paper it looks better than it did then. I cannot do it.

I have always liked to give the photographer, that can do it.

If I have always liked to give the photographer, one can do it.

I have always liked to give the photographer, one can do it.

If I were to give you some degree you can do nothing to the photographer, that will be certain旨 gets printed and no much good

Thank you in appreciation for your help.

Late Capt. I. C. 17th Ill. Infty.
Dear Comrade:—I enclose you herewith a few circulars and notices for my new book, "Memoirs of the War." I think you will be interested in this work as it no doubt covers Scenes, Incidents, Battles, Marches, etc., in which you most likely took an honorable part. I have taken great pains to make my narrative of events as comprehensive as possible, and trust the "Memoirs" will be read by the comrades with satisfaction, pleasure and profit. While it would be impossible to go into a minute and detailed history of the whole war in so small a volume as this, yet I have tried to cover as much of the ground as I could, in the space allotted me.

My book is now out of press and is ready for distribution. It will contain 427 pages, and is nicely illustrated, giving both comical and serious phases of the war, and has in it 27 splendid half-tone photos of the officers of the old 10th regiment, together with an elegant portrait of General James D. Morgan of the 14th Army Corps--our former colonel.

The "Memoirs" will be full of special interest to any old soldier who served in the engagements mentioned in my circular, as well as to soldiers who fought elsewhere for the preservation of the Union, as it tells in an unostentatious simple way, the story of the war, just as it occurred 32 years ago.

If the comrades to whom this letter is sent will speak a kindly word for the "Memoirs" to the boys who touched elbows with us in the long-ago I will esteem it a great personal favor. I will be exceedingly glad to hear from all who receive this letter. Write and tell me how time has been dealing with you since last we met.

I am comrade, yours most truly,

E. A. WILSON,
Late Capt. Co. G. 10th Ill. Inf'ly.
MEMOIRS OF THE WAR.

"READ WHAT THE PRESS SAYS OF IT."

CAPT. E. A. WILSON, Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of the Tenth Illinois infantry, has just published an interesting book of 427 pages, with portraits and illustrations, under the above title price, $1.10. The volume covers four years of service with the army of the Cumberland with the Reserve, Fourteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth corps. While pursuing the history and fortunes of these commands, it is not a mere historical sketch of their operations, but rather a historically connected cluster of memories, incidents and anecdotes of one who saw four years of active service—something that is of more interest to an old soldier or the ordinary reader than mere history. Much of the material is from the author's diary, and from letters written home from camp, so that the daily soldier life is a truthful story written without exaggeration. Capt. Wilson is to be congratulated on the publication of his story. His experience as a private, non-commissioned and commissioned officer is well told, will be enjoyed by his comrades, and is a valuable contribution to the student of the history of the war.—The Ohio Soldier, Chillicothe, O.

Captain Wilson enlisted in 1861 and served until 1865, consequently the record covers the entire war. It will certainly be read with interest by a great many old soldiers and their descendants.—Cleveland Leader.

These memoirs will be found of intense interest to any old soldier who served in any of the 46 engagements described in the book, and indeed to all whom the war is not entirely so much a thing of the past that they do not enshrine as they read, talk, or even think of the old days of '61—'65. The volume contains 427 pages, is nicely illustrated by half-tone portraits of officers of the 10th Ill., and of Gen. James D. Morgan, the Colonel of the regiment. Capt. Wilson has taken great pains to make the narrative as comprehensive as possible, and has succeeded in laying before us most graphic pictures of the scenes we visited with him.—National Tribune, Washington, D.C.

A SOLDIER'S STORY.

Capt. Ephraim A. Wilson of this city, Buckeye born and bred, had the experience of many other Ohio boys of being "away from home" when the war broke out and the call for volunteers came. He enlisted at Dixon, Ill., in the Tenth Illinois regiment; was rapidly promoted, ending in being captain of his company, and after active service to nearly the end of the war in Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and under Sherman in all the fighting from Chattanooga to South Carolina, was wounded severely in a fight with Wade Hampton's cavalry at Rivers Bridge, S. C., in February, 1865, and was mustered out after the close of the war. Capt. Wilson has given his "Memoirs of the War" in a volume printed in this city. It is a true soldier's story, open to criticism on the side of literary method and artistic finish, but on the other hand acquiring interest as the unedited record of a cavalryman which will recall to the reader similar experience of war among the "late unpleasantness." All such records are interesting as personal narratives and with the flight of time become valuable materials for history. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

My dear old commander,

A biographical sketch in last Sunday's Phila. News renewed scenes in my mind of long ago, when you, prime of manhood, was my commander in our country's darkest days. In the remembrance of those times impels me to drop a line to you on the eve of your retirement from actual military life. It seems but a very short time since that my Regiment, the 64th N.Y., marched into camp Alexandria and became as one of your military family. I can see the lines as it winds its way to the foot of the little elevation where you had your headquarters. I can see you standing and scanning the face of the rank and file as they passed, and can see the expression of deep disappointment that came over your face as that old, gray-headed captain (my father) of Co. C, passed. I can see the daily drills and other duties of camp life passing before me—the picket-line on Honeywood's Hill, the advance on Manasses March 4, 1862.
The embattlement at Alexandria for Ship Point, all the trials and sufferings of the Peninsula campaign and the Battle of Fair Oaks, how my father there was wounded, and I can see the doctors, as I saw them then, as they amputated your arm and how pale and death-like you looked when I went into the little hut, where you lay, to ask your permission to accompany father home. All this passes like one grand panorama before me, each scene so rapid yet so vivid. Many years, dear General, have passed, since then and few compared with the many that their trodden down, remain to tell the tales of war – each year some of us pass by and the river, and what strange feeling of brotherly love we entertain for one another as we are spared and the traces of Time leave its imprint upon us.

I see General Ulysses S. Grant will probably be your successor as Commander of the Eastern Dept. How strange—He who was once a lieutenant on your Staff, but a man dearly loved by all. It does my soul good to know he has risen to the loft of the ladder. Then you see him try and remember me to him.

My father, Captain R.H. Rommick, is still living at the age of 82, although having had two paralytic fits quite active. He resides at Oil City, Pa. My sister, Mrs. E.D. Renwick, who you will remember as being at Camp Alexandria, is now Mrs. E.D. Clark (widow) and connected with the Claflin University at Orangeburg, S.C. My brother, your Ordinance Sergeant, you know, died in service. His son now lives in New York and a graduate of the N.Y. University. As for myself, I remained in the war till July 1865 and commanded the 64th (the old "Stone Wall" Regt.) at the siege of Petersburg. Am a member of Post 5, A.C. of this city and also State Inspector of the G.O.T.

Now, General, upon your retirement take with you the heartfelt wishes for your welfare of one who learned to love and respect as a man and a Commander.

Your obedient
Victor D. Renwick

Respected Sir,

My daughter, Evelyn M. Eg. Florence Belle, Aged 15 or 18 years, each have Autograph Albums, and are very anxious of having your Autograph to place in them.

The following eminent persons have very kindly sent each of them your Autograph, viz:

Presidents, Hayes, Harrison, Cleveland, U. S. Grant, Morton and Stevenson, Chief Justice Fuller, and all the Associate Justices of The U.S. Supreme Court, Chief Justice White, Cabinet Officers, Senator, Allison, Sherman, Hawley, German, Hill, McPherson, and 40 others. Speaker, Corwin, Eg. Speakers, Banks and Reed.
Together with a large number of others.

I am now sending for several of the leading living Generals, that saw service in the field during the Civil War.

I trust you will kindly gratify their wishes, by sending each of them your Autograph, as indicated on the enclosed slips of paper, to be pasted in their Albums.

For which, I shall feel fully grateful to you.

Respectfully yours,

James P. Sherman.

Stapled Addressed Return Envelope Enclosed.

My dear General,

The Bradbury Chapel is to be opened next Sunday, April first, and we want you with us and preside at the meeting. It will be some what of an informal meeting, Dr. Black and we trust a host of your friends will be there to greet you. As you are so versatile on every subject of good government of temperance and religion I know of no better man in the United States more competent to give Bradbury Chapel and the grand missionary work of temperance and religion an enthusiastic send-off. This is the work and the place that you and I have often talked about and where I have hoped and prayed (and still do) to have you take up and lay the foundation for a glorious work now and hereafter. Then generations of women and children will rise up and call you blessed. For my dear General, God put it in your heart to go to the rescue of the mission in New York and he raised you up friends over to complete the payment of the same and now we need you in Brooklyn and I am sure if you will only come and see the place and the surroundings and realize how your hosts of friends will join you and thus at your elbow waiting your command that they will be prompt as surety to carry out any good and practical suggestion for I know you to be through an army officer one of the most practical business Christian gentlemen I have ever had the privilege to associate with and now I earnestly (and in this my friends and your friend join me) ask you if you will not postpone any other engagement you may have for next Sabbath afternoon and give this lesson for God and humanity a start that no other man in our estimation can give it better than our mutual friend General Cleveland. You will see General we are in dead earnest and we are determined to capture you on receipt. of your acceptance of this cord invitation Mr. Smith and family would like to have you come over in the morning and attend service with us in the Brooklyn Tabernacle and hear Dr. Salisbury. From there we want you and Mrs. Howard and any members of your family that you would be pleased to bring with you dine with us, and if agreeable to you we would like to announce in the papers that the exercises will commence at three o'clock if this suits you, if not name the hour and we will advertise it. The Memorial building in which is the Bradbury Chapel where we have been before is at the corner of Raymond and Hill Street and the trolley cars you can take within one block of Jerry Shaw Atlantic Ave, Brooklyn which brings you right to the Chapel. Dr. Raymond and Miller will be kind enough immediately on receipt of this letter to Family 8. Smith

Dear Sir:

Having learned from our daily paper that you were in Tampa this week, and had you I write to express my sincere regret at not knowing it. I would so like to have shown you something of our church work amongst the Cubans. It has occurred to me that perhaps you would like a picture of the old church for all that is left of it, built by the Church in which you lived.
