My dear General:-

Your very kind letter of Sept. 7th. at hand, and it will be a very great incentive to us to try to raise the money necessary to dedicate the building free of debt January 1st. so as to have you here and shall use your possible coming as a lever.

We opened the building last Monday; have had one grand week of ovations and receptions. It is without question one of the largest, finest buildings of the kind in the world, and we shall be so glad to welcome you here. Kind regards to Mrs. Howard in which many friends join, I remain, my dear General,

Dear Sir

Sojourning temporarily in Southern California, I have not suspended work for the Army & Navy of the United States; but am employing such agencies within my power, with God's aid and blessing, as tend to promote the best interests of the man in service for the country.

I recognize, gratefully, your kindly sympathy in the Department & have the honor to represent in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Your letters, in past years introducing me to Officials of the Government in Washington, greatly facilitated my efforts to suppress the "Cautem" System.

Dear Sir & Comrade

I wish to show my appreciation of your literary merits and military record as well by sending you the enclosed poem.

The Lord's Prayer in verse.

I first found it in Dayton in a store window midst jewelry, old coins and other second hand articles; it was printed on a piece of silk, but no author's name could be found; the store keeper would not part with it nor explain its origin or appearance then;

I sent one copy to Gen Lew Wallace, at Crawfordsville Ind.. he was pleased with it, so he expressed in a kind note to me

I got a lot printed at my own expense to distribute free.
