My dear Friend:-

It gives me pleasure to inclose an invitation to our Committee dinner for this year. There is promise of a very excellent attendance, and there is very much in the meeting which I know will interest you. Will you not be with us as one of our guests?

In this connection, I would like also to ask whether we can have any hope of your attendance next May (8-12) upon the International Convention, which will meet then at Springfield, Mass. We have good prospect of the attendance there of Sir George Williams to start us off on our second half century. Of all the American veterans to greet him there I know of none whom we and he would be gladder to meet than yourself, so I hope you can put this on your memorandum, and that it will not conflict with any other necessary appointments in your program.

Major-General O.O. Howard,

Gen. O. O. Howard,

Dear Friend,

I have repeatedly thought of writing to you and that we might have the pleasure of hearing from you, but among various things which prevented was the remembrance that I wrote you years ago, if I am not mistaken, and have not learned whether you received the letter or not.

If you would like to know something of our experience, after leaving Bowdoin, we spent 3 years at the Theo. Sem. at Bangor & after ordination at Hallowell, we went to the Eastern Turkey Mission, under care of the Am. Board, and for about 12 years lived & labored at the cities of Arabkir and Erzurum, which latter place is the principal city of Armenia.

We enjoyed much the interesting work among the Armenians, which was then going on, & which has continued to progress till the present time. After our return to this country we spent a few years in Salem, Mass. my wife's native place. Her maiden name was Mary B. Worcester. From Salem we removed to Mich., where we have since resided till the present time.

If you would like to know of our family, our eldest son, Samuel, is pastor of one of the Cong. churches in Indianapolis. Our son Harry, is now studying in the Y. M. C. A.
Training School in Chicago; and our youngest son, Walter, is in Missouri, in the Brit employ, engaged in surveying upon the Osage river.

Mary, our oldest daughter, married Mr. H. R. Henshaw & lives near Newaygo, 40 miles North; and Annie, the youngest, has taught in one of the city schools for some years.

We should be much pleased to hear from you & of yourself & yours; or to see you when you may be in this vicinity.

We are pleased to learn that the State S. S. Assn hope to be favored by your presence & words at their coming annual meeting in this city.

Yours very truly,
Geo. A. Pollard.

Mr. Shiphead had promised to take his sister & myself to say a good-bye to you before your departure: but his engagements are such as seem likely to prevent this now.

If we do not see you, permit me for myself to say this good-bye with all the meaning of the original "God be with you".

I feel akin to all who have devoted their lives to the interests of their Country.

My only brother came home to die of cruel wounds received in the Army, after three years of living loyal faithful service for his Country, and I survived to be the home-guard of the household.

You have shown us how even sorrow & tenderness can be joined in a true Christianity, & we pray that you may long be spared to make this wide lesson clearer & clearer.

My Dear Friend:

I see by the news papers that your contract with the Government expires to-day leaving you free for employment, and I write this to ask you if you are open to do what you can as was suggested, in forwarding our interest.

The parties in California appear to be not a large influence and means, and have bought many miles of rails, so they wish they expect to put into the Yosemite line. There are parties at Portland, Oregon, of great wealth who might be induced to build roads, and there is a project to build a road at some time our toward Mount St. Helens. There is a chance in the hands of Mr. F. H. Osgood of Seattle, and with it he has a large amount of land and the water and concession to construct Seattle and Tacoma. He is willing himself to pay fifty thousand dollars into it, and if you could help him I think you would make it go. I should be very glad to pay you $10,000 worth of stock.

Believe me, my dear friend your glorious career is not ended or on a decline. The future in my opinion will disclose greater triumphs in store, and an appreciation, which will be as honorable to the public as it will be to you.

It is said 'in this world ye shall have tribulation', but we are not informed that those who bear the burden and heat of the day shall have no part in the harvest. The world moving with ~~xxxx~~ steam engine power and electric speed has grown wise, and in many respects wicked, - for the divine right of Kings the concentrated ^{power to}

A great crisis for liberty, for justice, even for free government, will occur in your day, but we shall survive, and civilization achieve new and undreamed of triumphs in which your work will be most important. The triumphs of peace are before you

I shall be glad to see you or hear from you by letter, and I think myself of visiting the Pacific Coast, as there are very important matters in several States to be attended to.

With the best wishes for the health, happiness and prosperity of yourself, family, and especially Mrs. Howard, I bid you not good-night, but good morning. A new day dawns worthy of you.

My dear Friend:

You will, perhaps, be surprised to find that I am now the manager of the advertising department of The Evangelist, the old journal which has seen its sixty-fifth year of publication.

A feature of the paper next week will be an account of the opening of the Teachers' College, which has cost, I am advised, nine hundred thousand dollars. We propose to make next week's paper an educational number, with a description of that institution and Mr. Elliot, our publisher, who used to be a member of our church in Washington, has suggested to me that a column, possibly, from you, with reminiscences of the establishment of Howard University and the work it is doing, would be very timely for this number. If you can furnish this I shall consider it a personal compliment and you will also be doing a good thing for the institution which was established through your efforts. Will you kindly advise me if you can furnish the article? About five or six hundred words will do, and copy should be in our hands by next Monday afternoon. I have asked Dr. Rankin to furnish something in regard to the work which the institution is doing at the present, number of students, etc.

I hope your family are all well. Mrs. Presbrey and I have often proposed going over and calling upon you; but this is a busy life we are living and hence our failure to carry out our intentions.

Yours very truly,

CONDITIONS.

ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the regular rate is charged in addition. It is agreed between the sender of the message written on the face hereof and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any UNREPEATED message, beyond the amount received for sending the same; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery of any REPEATED message beyond fifty times the sum received for sending the same, unless specially insured, nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines, or for errors in cipher or obscure messages. And this Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward any message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

Correctness in the transmission of messages to any point on the lines of the Company can be INSURED by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon at the following rates, in addition to the usual charge for repeated messages, viz.: One per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles; and two per cent. for any greater distance.

No responsibility regarding messages attaches to this Company until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of this Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limits of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

This Company will not be liable for damages in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed for transmission. In any event, this Company is not to be held liable for any loss, or damage, or for delay, or detention, or errors caused by storms or action of the elements, or other acts of God, or by civil or military authority, or by insurrections, riots, rebellions, or dangers incident to time of war, or by the unlawful acts of individuals.

This is an UNREPEATED Message and is delivered by request of the sender under the conditions named above.

No employee of this Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

Genl O. O. Howard,

My very dear General,

I learn that today you will officially retire from the active service of the Army - I had hoped that you might command the entire army ere you retired but now this may not be - Among your many friends and admirers none can be more loyal to you in faith and love than myself.

On the 9th July 1863, on South Mountain Md you detached me by Special Order from my Regt and assigned me to duty with the Artillery on your Staff - For ten months it was my privilege to be intimately associated with you in the vicissitudes of Army life and share somewhat in devotion to Country and to God - Later we were separated into different Corps or Departments of the Army, but were always near enough for me to be in touch with you - On one of those occasions I was permitted to visit your Hd Qrs and ride with your Staff into Columbia. S. Ca. And so through all the years that have intervened I have watched your movements with the interest and affection of a Son - And now that you retire from the duties of military life, I shall pray as fervently as ever that the "Whose you are and Whom you serve" shall continue to guide and bless you and make your last days the most-useful and happy of your eventful life - Wife and daughter join me in kindly remembrance and we hope that sometime that you and Mrs. Howard may be our guests - You know we feel that we have some such claim upon you -

Most-affectionately Yours,

HOWARD CROWNED.

Written for the Democrat and Chronicle by Sherman D. Richardson.

General O. O. Howard retired from the regular army to-day after an active service of forty years.

Weave bright the green laurels of glory
For the brow of the great and the brave;
Proclaim to the world the grand story
Where the banners of Freedom may wave,
Of Howard, the boast of the nation,
The pride of the army so true;
The Havelock who preached from his station
The creed of the red, white and blue.

Let the crown be in patterns of beauty
That never before have been seen.
Let the white blossomed lilies of duty
Be found with the heroic green.
Let the hands of the fairest and bravest
Entwine every strand with true love;
Give it tints from God's banner that wavest
In the sunlight of heaven above.

Bring leaves from the fields of Virginia
Where his blood made all crimson the sod;
Where the scream of the shell and the minnie
Was the soldiers' true passport to God.
Bring a strain from old Gettysburg's sonnet
Written out on her rock-guarded glens;
With his saber's true imprint upon it
Where the sheen of his bright knighthood blends.

Bring a gem from old Lookout's top hoary
To shine in the wealth of his fame.
Bring a sign from Resaca so gory,
From Atlanta and Dalton the same.
O the wealth of that crown in its beauty
Shall be bright in the land of the free,
For it tells of that grand task of duty
When Sherman marched down to the sea.

Let the regular army unbroken
Unite with the brave volunteers
To place on his brow the grand token—
To salute it with true soldier's cheers.
His name and his fame shall be ever
The watchword of freedom and right
And the years of the future shall never Extinguish that fame in their flight.
