May-Gen. O. O. Howard,

Dear Sir:-

Will you kindly tell me in reference to your coming lecture here, if you have a supply of photographs for the purpose of advertising. Also in the way of press notices what have you that I can depend on for advertising? I regret now that I did not preserve clippings from the newspapers when so many could easily have been secured at the time you retired from active service. Can you send me a supply, copies of which I can insert continuously changing the insertions from day to day? I can return to you the originals. I should like them very soon.

One thing more. Will you not remain over Sunday? and accept a reception Saturday evening? As the train leaves Walla Walla for Portland at 7:30 P. M. arriving in the morning, it may be pleasanter for you to remain here over Sunday. Then too a reception after the lecture Friday evening would be too much of a tax for comfort for one day & fancy even for a soldier. So I hope we shall have the pleasure of your company till Monday.

Very truly yours

Dear Sir,

Though never ^{having} had the honor to become personally aquainted with you, I take the liberty to address you about a matter that is very dear to me, and I believe, also, to you.

It is now an established custom for the College Young Men's Christian Associations of Oregon, to meet in annual Convention somewhere, and there gain the inspiration that only such gatherings afford, and listen to the words of wisdom and experience, that leaders in Christian thought and effort are willing to give. Ever since we heard of your coming to Oregon, it has been our most cherished hope, concerning our next Convention at Forest ^{Grove}, in March, to have you with us, to aid us in inspiring and encouraging this most important class of men. We are expecting 200 delegates from the 12 Institutions organized, and are making an effort to have other Institutions represented. At every previous Convention, we have been enabled, by the H.S., to reach some students for Christ. This is one of the aims of the Convention. I will enclose a program of a previos ^u Convention, that you may get an idea of the work. With all our earnestness, we invite you to be with us during the entire sessions of the Convention, (if possible), and give us a gospel talk one evening, on any topic of Christian thought or experience. The probable dates are

My Dear Friend

Yours of 18th received and I was annoyed to receive it. Am sorry I did not get the letter you wrote previous to this one. Things are not looking very bright here at present. I am hard at work getting as many architects and plumbers engagements as I can before the building season sets in. Among the architects engagements secured is that of Professor Hamlin, of Columbia College of New York.
Prof. Hamlin gave me letters to other architects which I am using as far as I can. and I am in hopes of good results from my endeavors in this direction. Yours most think that your lectures pay better in the East and North than in the South and West.

in membership during the last month.
And on Monday night - next I am to address the young women of Bethany and urge them to form an Institute of young women similar to the one now formed by the young men. I am in hopes of its being crowned with success. I sometimes feel like mail you a paper on tomorrow with some particulars of it. We had an election of church officers last Wednesday night. And the reports from the different branches of the church work showed progress. But there were unmistakable evidences of the lack of funds, sufficient to meet the demands of the church in its work.

Prayer meetings, during Prayer week, were well attended, despite the disagreeable weather. I shall be very glad to see you

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 16th instant, addressed to the Surgeon General of the Army and by him referred to this office, in which you request that a search be made of the hospital records of Chattanooga for the name of a man calling himself Jacob B. Haist, Hayst or Haight, who is supposed to have been wounded severely in some battle, and to have gone into some hospital at or near Chattanooga, Tennessee, I am directed by the Secretary of War to inform you that in December, 1893, in connection with an application for a certificate of service in Company K, 12th New York Cavalry, by Jacob Bernhardt Haist, who, it would appear, is identical with the subject of your inquiry, Mr. Nathan Bickford of Washington, D. C., the attorney in the case, was informed that the name Jacob Benrhardt Haist, Hayst, Hays or Hayes or similar name was not found on the rolls of the 12th New York Cavalry.

In connection with your letter, an exhaustive search has been made of all records of New York volunteers in which this man could likely have served, as well as all hospital records of the army, particularly of those at Chattanooga, covering the period of

in order that my mother may secure a pension, it is necessary to prove their marriage which occurred July 1st 1867, by Rev. Charles Brynton, in a Yoursel, and wife and mother's brother (since deceased) were the only witnesses.

As no records of any marriages prior to 1870 have been kept by the District, it is necessary to secure the testimony of either yourself or Mrs. Howard.

Will one of you kindly write at your earliest con-

918 Mass. Ave. n.w.

United States Senate,

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Jan 28, 1895.

General O. O. Howard,

Portland, Oregon.

My dear General:

I beg respectfully to acknowledge receipt yours Jan 21. Am glad you have become a resident of our city.

Now, in regard to the veteran, Henry Von Hess, Esq., in whose interest you write, I beg to say I have never in my whole career here had as much difficulty in getting down to the real facts of a case as I have in regard to this, and even yet the case is involved in some mystery.

The record shows that Henry Von Hess was October 5, 1862, enrolled as a private in Company "M", 14th Illinois Infantry; Jan 7, 1863 mustered in; March 10, 1863, reported deserted; August 3, 1863, reported in Hospital Camp Nelson, Ky; November 1, 1863 restored to duty; December 31, 1863, sick at Cumberland Gap; April 3, 1864 in hospital Camp Nelson; August 31, 1864, sent to hospital at Camp Nelson; muster out roll same as above. Medical records show treatment to April 26, 1864; April 30, 1864, reported sick in hospital at Camp Nelson, Ky; June 30, 1864 absent; August 31, 1864, sent to hospital at Camp Nelson. The medical records show that he was treated in Nelson General Hospital, Camp Nelson, Ky., from Jan 2 to March, 1864 for gun-shot wound of leg, and returned to duty at Camp Distribution , March ,1864. Treated in Nelson Convalescent Camp at Camp Nelson, Ky., from March 11 to April 26,1864 (no diagnosis) and discharged from hospital to regiment April 26,1864.

He did not rejoin his regiment and no record of discharge has been found. Oth Mr Von Hess being called upon to explain why he did not join his regiment, he unfortunately has made different and contradictory statements under oath.

In his application for removal of charge of d~~es~~ertion dated December 6, A. D., 1892, and sworn to at Portland, Oregon, he makes the following statement:

" Was enlisted as a private in Company "M" in the 14th regiment Illinois Cavalry Volunteers about the 5th day of October 1862 at Chicago, State of Illinois; mustered into the service 10th day of January 1863 at Peoria; served faithfully until on or about the day of February, 1864, when without any intention of deserting, left the regiment under the following circumstances: After being mustered in we left for Kentucky and after an engagement at Turkey Neck, went into Tennessee. I was in the battle at Buffington, when Morgan was captured. In the commencement of September I was at Knoxville and Cumberland Gap in several fights, when returning from Virginia to Knoxville my head and leg was fractured by the explosion of a shell throwing the fragments of a large tree against me, knocking me down. Surgeon George Wilson bandaged the same and brought us to Cumberland Gap and I was placed in a log cabin where I laid on the naked floor with others until about

February 1864. From here Colonel Thielman of the 16th Illinois Cavalry transferred me to Camp Nelson, and while en route broke my leg again and staid with a farmer by the name of Wehsle until I was able to proceed, and when I arrived at Camp Nelson my leg was reset by the attending surgeon and staid here in my own tent (and was attended too by a lady who afterward became my wife) and laid here over a year about August 1865. When I was about to leave Camp Nelson I learned that my regiment had been mustered out and still sufferi still suffering from the effects of a fractured skull (the scars still remain) I went to Kansas City where I lived ten years. "

United States Senate,

According, therefore, General, to this affidavit, Mr Von Hess gave as a reason for not joining his regiment when discharged at ~~Camp~~ ["] Nelson that he understood the regiment was mustered out and that he then did not enter the service again but went to Kansas City where he remained ten years, his last service according to this affidavit being about February 1864. Prior to this, however, in support of an application for an honorable discharge, Von Hess testified, February 1, 1892, that he was wounded at Bean's Station, Tenn., about December 10--14, 1863, by a shell striking and throwing a heavy limb of a tree against his left leg below the knee; that he was sent to different places and finally to general hospital at Cumberland gap, Tennessee; that in attempting to return to Camp Nelson, Ky., to find his regiment, his horse fell and his leg was again broken, but he finally reached Camp Nelson and remained there until about August or September, 1865, when he was sent home without a discharge; that while at Camp Nelson, Ky., he was, he states, in an old log house, but was all the time under treatment by the surgeon at the camp; that as soon as he was able to stand the fatigue of travel he started home to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he remained about six weeks, and then went to his former home in Germany, hoping that he might have the benefit of treatment there and that he returned to the United States in the summer of 1872."

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

General Howard 4

Thus you will see, my dear General, that on February 1, 1892, Von Hess swears that he went to Germany about September 1865 and remained there until 1872, while in the other affidavit above quoted, he swears he went to Kansas City about the sametime--September, 1865--and remained there ten years. But it turns out that neither of these affidavits is correct, as the record in the Department shows that Henry Von Hess enlisted August 13, 1864 and was assigned to Company "G", 41st Missouri Infantry. The record also shows that he served faithfully until August 11, 1865, when he was mustered out with his Company at Benton Barracks, Mo., as a private. The record further shows that he was not transferred to the Missouri Regiment from Company "M", 14th Ill. Cavalry, but that his service therein was under an entirely different enlistment. This latter enlistment in the Missouri Regiment was it is held by the Department in violation of the 22d (now 50th) article of war, and as he received a gratuity, to which he would not have been entitled had he remained with his original command, his case is not covered by the act of Congress, approved March 2, 1889.

The theory of the Department is simply this: That Von Hess, on being discharged from the hospital, instead of joining his old regiment, enlisted in a new company and regiment for the purpose of obtaining a bounty, and as you will see, my dear General, when called to account as to why he did not join his regiment

United States Senate,

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

General Howard 5.

He in one statement claimed that he was transferred to the other regiment and after serving his time faithfully and being discharged he went to Germany and remained there seven years, while in another account he makes no claim that he was transferred to or joined any other regiment, but that hearing his regiment was mustered out he went to Kansas City and remained ten years.

I have thus, my dear General, gone into this case fully and I will be obliged if you will kindly confer with Mr Von Hess and allow him to see this letter, and if he wishes to make any further explanation, I shall be glad to bring it to the attention of the Committee on Military Affairs and the War Department. I have had a bill pending (copy inclosed) for his relief for some time, but as the matter stands, you will readily see how impossible it is to obtain the relief prayed for.

Trusting this may find you in good health, I am, my dear General, with great respect,

Yours very sincerely,

My dear General Howard,

I am about to apply to the President for an appointment to West Point for my son Dan Christian Klingman jr. for 1896.

I have some kind friends who are assisting me in this matter, and it is thought by them that my application should be accompanied by as many letters from influential persons as I can obtain.

It has been my privilege and my pleasure to serve under your orders for a number of years, both at West Point when you were Supt, and I was asst Prof. of Engineering, and in the Department of the Platte, when I was Enquirer officer on your Staff. I wish to hope that the character of my service was such that you may feel at liberty to say a good word for me now. If you feel that you can and will give me a letter to the President ^{which I can file} with my application, I am sure that it can not fail to have very great weight with him, and to be of almost value to me. Believe me General, I would not ask you to assist me in this if I did not feel sure that my boy possessed a character and ability that will not discredit your recommendation.

I have already received a very kind, and I fear too flattering, a letter from Senator Manderson.

It makes me feel sorry to think that you are no longer at Greening Island.

I often see our good friend Mr. Chas. Irwin here in Oswego, and I dined with him at his beautiful house only two days ago. He always speaks most kindly and pleasantly of you.

Please remember me to Mrs and Miss Howard, and to Capt. Staden, and tell me

Sincerely yours

OFFICE OF THE ARMY MUTUAL AID ASSOCIATION, Room 346, War Department.

Washington, D. C., January 28, 1895.

My Dear Sir:

The Executive Committee desires to obtain the co-operation of every member of the Association in carrying our membership up to 1,200 by the time of the Annual Meeting. The present membership is 1,123; we need 80 new members to give us a total of 1,200 with which to start the new year.

The present condition of the Association is most satisfactory. We have on hand in cash and Government bonds (at par value) $153,261.38. We have disbursed nearly half a million dollars in aid to the widows and orphans of deceased members. We have done it at the following annual cost for $1,000.00 of insurance:

For 1st Class, under 30 years,	-	-	-	$5.48.
For 2d Class, 30 to 35 years,	-	-	-	7.18.
For 3d Class, 35 to 40 years,	-	-	-	8.61.
For 4th Class, 40 to 45 years,	-	-	-	10.05.
For 5th Class, 45 to 50 years,	-	-	-	11.48.
For 6th Class, 50 to 55 years,	-	-	-	12.92.
For 7th Class, 55 to 60 years,	-	-	-	14.36.
For 8th Class, 60 to 65 years,	-	-	-	15.80.
For 9th Class, 65 and over,	-	-	-	17.23.

While the plan of the Association is based upon the best insurance methods, we desire to impress upon you the fact that the fundamental principle of the Society is mutual aid, pure and simple, and as such appeals to every officer of the Army for constant encouragement and support in the work that it has done and is doing in behalf of the helpless and dependent.

Will not all, will not you, put your shoulder to the wheel and help us to come into the annual meeting 1,200 strong?

Very respectfully,

R. C. DRUM, Brig. Gen., U. S. A., President.

Gen O. O. Howard,

Dear Sir:-

I believe you were interested in the Keely Institute here in Brooklyn. It is closed. Can you tell me where in Brooklyn or New York a man can take such a cure and at the same time attend to his business. Your interest may help save a good man.

Yours truly
