My Dear Sir:—

The Sunday World will soon begin the publication of a series of articles from the most prominent surviving generals of the Civil War. May we hope that you will kindly write for this series an article on "THE BRAVEST DEED IN MY WAR EXPERIENCE," "THE SADDEST THING I SAW IN THE WAR," "MY NARROWEST ESCAPE FROM DEATH,"—or some similar episode of the great conflict?

An article of one thousand words will be quite long enough for our purpose, although, of course, such space as may be necessary for your subject will be gladly put at your disposition.

I shall be very much obliged if, when sending the manuscript, you will enclose your latest and best photograph.

An early reply will be appreciated.

Yours very truly,

A. Brisbane

Dear Sir:

If you can spare sufficient of your valuable time to look over the accompanying printed matter relating to my personal and official affairs, it will be a satisfaction to me, and I hope will result in inducing you to give me a letter to the President of the United States recommending my appointment as Chief of Ordnance U. S. Army, where a vacancy occurs.

The present incumbent, General Darling, will not retire by operation of law until June 24, 1899, but is liable to vacate at any time, by application under the 30 years of service law, at his request, and on approval by the President, at his request, having served 40 years; by action of the President after attaining 62 years of age on June 24, 1897; or by physical disability.
In anticipation of either event it is advisable to have testimonials ready for presentation to the President at the proper time.

A recommendation from you would have great weight, and if you feel favorably disposed I will be much obliged for a letter over your signature.

Very respectfully yours,

John A. Kress
Major, Ordn. Dept.
Brd. Ordn. M.S.A.

P.S.,

I intend to apply for appointment only in case the President decides to make a selection below the senior officer of the Corps. The five officers referred to in the narrative as ranking me, from as a result of my resignation from the military academy, are younger than I am, and will prevent my appointment if seniority prevails.

Dear Sir and Brother:—For the past three years this League has issued a Call to all Christian patriots for Christian Citizenship celebrations on the Fourth of July, with a request to all ministers to preach Christian Citizenship sermons on the Sabbath nearest that day, offering to furnish free helpful literature and suggestions to all applying. The response each year has been so general and results so encouraging, that we are planning a greater broadside than ever this year, when the Fourth occurs on Sunday and the celebrations on Saturday.

We are soon to issue our Call for this year, and wish to incorporate therein a statement of helps offered. Among these helps will be outlines for Christian Citizenship addresses to be delivered at public celebrations on Saturday, July third. We are asking for these outlines from a few men of National reputation, or whose co-operation we are assured, and are very anxious to include one from yourself. Will you please send us such an outline, or say 500 words, so we can receive it before June 1?

We are encouraged to write you by your brother, General C. H. Howard, an esteemed member of our Advisory Board, and who is greatly interested in our work.

If you can comply with our request, it will be of great help not only to our general work, but to the thousands who will speak for us on that day. We hope for a favorable reply by an early mail, and beg to remain

Yours for a world redeemed in which dwelleth righteousness,

My Dear General,

Just a word to let you know how I am getting on with my application since I last wrote you, and as one old Senator has mentioned my name to the President, I enclose this letter relating to the subject, which are good as far as they go, but if Senator Potter is in my purview, I am ready on the Bill. If Senator Potter is going out of his own State to come into this another State. Our delegation has been handicapped by so many applicants, but I do not think any of them can have a better position than myself and I regard some letter of commendation above all else. I do not know what I can do to ensure attention to my Petition of copy. I ask of your help in the he had broken the Jests shown on my side. I congratulate you on your magnificent speech at the Grand Odeon and I hope you are restored from the fatigue. With kind regards, yours truly, J.W. Searance.

Brooklyn, May 4, 1863.

General, from the public press I learn that George W. Reynolds is entitled to the Medal of Honor. I presume his claim is based on your commendation of his act in front of Chattanooga on the 29th day of Nov. 1863. General, it was natural that you should expect to see the whole of his officers equalize the occasion. The man that you saw braving in rear of the regiment, encouraging and advising fire and threatening when the center showed signs of demoralization was the same man who later responded to the utmost call for volunteers and aided by Corporal James McNeely and Captain Sanford, who was dangerously wounded and entered the enemy's fire. The same man who volunteered the following day for duty in front of Lynch advancing Corps but not being made acquainted with General Sherman's movements looked only for the enemy, making his movement more cautious and slower than our; the inspiration of those in the rear.

General George Bristow made me one of the most precious men in the army. I am most respectfully,

Bernard O. Hopkins

Dear General Howard,—

We return herewith your manuscript on Conversion regretting very much that we are not able to pay your price for it. Reckoning on what you say you receive per thousand words -- /30.00 -- this would be worth to you over $10.00 and that rate for three or four hundred words greatly exceeds our usual rates. Moreover as the symposium of which this was to have formed a part, is of a somewhat different character than a stated article we look at the matter of payment in quite another light from what we do ordinary contributions.

We had already sent your copy to our printer when your private secretary's letter came and inasmuch as it had become soiled we have made a fresh copy of it which we enclose herewith and which we trust will be as acceptable to you as the original manuscript and have ordered our printer to cancel what was in type.

Yours very truly,

Gen'l C. O. Howard,
