Dear Sir:-

We have just received a letter from W. E. Deacon of the California Investment and Colonization Company in reply to our letter in which we repeated your instructions under date of Sept. 20th. 1897.

Mr. Deacon thinks that he can effect sale to parties on their way from the East and asks that you allow them thirty days more time.

Mr. Deacon also sends a Certificate of Redemption of Mortgage's interest in the South half (S 1/2) of Section Seven (7) in T. 31 S. R. 29 E. for delinquent taxes for the year 1894 and 1895, amounting to $167.96 including Recorder's fees and asks that we credit this amount on one of the notes. There is considerable inquiry for land with but few transactions except at very low figures.

Yours truly,

My dear General -

I received your note this morning -

Unfortunately I have to attend a young friend's wedding on Wednesday, so shall have to ask you to defer your visit - until Thursday - If I hear nothing to the contrary then I hope to see you to lunch at one o'clock - As I am out - much of a business woman, it would be better I think to put on paper what you feel would be best to do. Perhaps then by reading it over, I may be able to understand.

the state of affairs more thoroughly Perhaps you would like to call at my brother-in-law, Mr. Banks', office and have a talk with him before leaving Albany—

Hoping to see you soon

My dear General

I cannot mail the enclosed paper without saying a word or two in praise of the Endowment.
The Sny's conduct at White Bird was most praiseworthy, he certainly held the post of honor on that occasion "whence all but he had fled" since he came to my assistance at the first break of the ranks, but I ordered him back and he went and stayed till Col. Sny stated to me on the hill top that he the Sny's was hopelessly cut off.
The saving of Jas. Rubin occurred on the Lo So trail my men being deployed in the woods. Heard a crackling of brush and expecting the Hostiles who had just defeated the Indian Scouts, were eager to fire but I restrained them until at close range some execution could be done soon we saw and Indian emerging from the bushes and recognizing Tom was found and brought Tom in he was wounded at the time and his escape from the fire of my line was due to the disobedience of the men. as I was on the advance then I became the extreme rear in the retrograde and my men materially assisted the wounded Indians The man Fowler spoken of was the one who first discovered the spring and brought the first water to the wounded at Clear Water all these trifles were known to C. C. Perry who commented on them at the time but they were forgotten in the light of more important affairs.

The Stry's conduct all thro the Campaign, as well as in the Indian War was gallant and exemplary but the tangled circumstances attending the form of the Stry's Campaign seems to have shut him out from recognition, as probably many others.

on my leaving the Regt in 1880 he was made 2nd Stry of the 1st Cavalry.
 Since being discharged he has held respectable and worthy places in civil life being now Sr Col Militia Wash. National Guard and is also a quite successful business man. He lives an exemplary life with his mother and sister whom he brought from the East. New Brunswick, and principally at his own expense caused the fine monument to be placed on the ground of the killed at White Bird "7th Co."

I strongly recommend him for a Certificate of Merit, which was approved both by Col Perry and Capt Parnell, at that time, but he was debarred from that honor by reason of the law in such cases.
Others far thro' the years of most honorable service he has received no notice except my own humble praise.

I earnestly trust General you will give his case a fair hearing and think he could confidently refer you to some one to Col Perry who has since 1874 talked incessantly of him & his services.

Dear Brother:-

I was much pleased that you took so much interest in the Indian depredation case of Mr. H. C. Hooker. Yes, I think he was at one time connected or associated with Hooker, Whiting & Company. When you were at first in Arizona the firm was Hinds & Hooker. He has been a warm personal friend to you for many years, always espousing your cause where there was any controversy ^{for example,} as related to Crook, Miles, Wilcox and others. He despised Wilcox, thinking he was a coward. He seemed to detest Crook, thinking he was a humbug, and did not really manage the Indians wisely; but he always had confidence in you and stood by you out there on the frontier and everywhere else. I did not tell you this before, because I did not desire to make it a motive for your co-operation, but now that you have heartily assented to my plan it is well for you to know that you are working for one of your warmest friends, and one who has been such for twenty-five years or more.

You know the Indian situation so perfectly in that early day I think your testimony will be a great help to him. They will try to make out probably that inasmuch as he has no living witnesses who saw the Indians take the cattle, therefore, he has not proved his case, whereas when the cattle were driven away every day or two or very frequently in small squads and his herders chased the Indians and were fired upon and the matter was reported to him and to his book-keeper by his employes he knew, and they all knew perfectly well, that the Indians took them and that they for the most part lived upon his herd so far as beef was concerned.

Now, your familiarity with the whole situation and the necessities of the Indian at that time before you had made the arrangements with Cochise for the Government to supply his people with food, will enable you to make the case very clear to the Court.

I note what you say -- that you will see Butterfield on your first visit to Washington. Now, I would like to caution you against one thing in regard to my business, and that is, Deane & Butterfield did not know exactly what my contract was with Hooker and with Hinds. I do not wish them to know what my contract was or how much I was to receive. I worked on the case some years before calling them into it, and only employed them on an exact and definite contract, and personally on my own part. I prefer that they, and in fact, others should not know what the terms of my contract are. I made it known to you that you might see how much there was in the business for me.

Be assured I appreciate your great kindness and generosity in regard to it, but it was no disposition to escape a business engagement with you, if it had seemed wise, that I preferred to have no definite contract with you and no agreement that you should have ~~xx~~ compensation. You will, I think, appreciate that point. I desire you to be entirely free as a witness and to be prompted more by your friendship for Mr. Hooker ^{I desire to help me} and your sense of justice and right than by any other motive.

Affectionately yours,

Dear Brother:-

I have your two letters and the Power of Attorney. As to the Culver matter, I think you have taken a wise course now, and if he will save you from all expense, as he proposed, it would be better for you to get possession of the land. Of course you could have 5/8 of the land entirely in your name, and Bishop Hartzell would have 3/8. If ^(Culver) he does not succeed in getting possession of the land your case is just as good with the Governor Hamilton process still in view, and you have lost nothing. I should not care to act upon any important matter without consulting you, and yet, if there should be any crisis it might be well for me to have this Power of Attorney as you have given it, though with the telegraph at hand it would not seem to be very essential.

By the way, if I telegraph you without pre-payment, can you bring your telegraph pass to bear upon it so as to save yourself expense? I refer of course to your own business. I will write on another sheet a word as to the Hooker matter.

Affectionately yours,

Dear Sir

Mr Harding here the "Postmaster" has handed me your letter dated Sept 29 97.

I can sell your property here I think although I do not know where it lies, you will be obliged to put the price as low as possible as property of all kinds is low. If you let me have the selling of the property my charges will be 5% for doing so this will include the writing up of the deed. but not the mortgage if you sell it partly on time which you may have to do. I would be pleased to be your agent and will sell if there is any chance at all.
