Dear Sir:-

I am preparing for the "Truth" magazine of New York an article on the "surviving Union Generals", and shall include therein a reference to your own career during the Civil War. I have the data needed for the purpose, but am also anxious to have your photograph for reproduction with my article. Will you, therefore, kindly send me one or inform me where I can procure the same? Thanking you in advance for your courtesy, I am,

Yours Very Truly,

Dear Sir:

I am preparing for the Trustee's exams of New York University.

I am in need of a book on the "History of Union Generals" and would like to purchase one. I have tried to find one, but so far, I have been unsuccessful.

I have heard that you have a collection of Civil Warera books and photographs. I would be very interested in acquiring one of these books, preferably one that relates to the Civil War.

I am also interested in any articles or documents related to the Variable Force in macroeconomics. If you have any suggestions, I would be grateful.

For your convenience, I am enclosing a check for $5.00.

Yours very truly,

My Dear Sir:—

This will let you know, that I have associated myself with "The American Exhibitors' Agency Co." for the Paris Exposition, of 1893, and at the kind suggestion of my friend, Col. Emile Mo Blum, of this city, I have accepted the position of Secretary and Treasurer of said Company.

I enclose an advance sheet of the prospectus, etc. which I ask you to peruse carefully.

I have given this matter considerable attention, and I am fully convinced that a great deal of money can be made. Your participation in this enterprise, either direct or indirect, would contribute greatly to insuring its success. Well known men are already interested in this agency. Namely:—Gen. H. A. Wheeler, Propt. The Wheeler Coach & Reclining Car Seats, Brigade Commander of the National Guard, Chicago, III.,(late of the U. S. Army, and a graduate of West Point.) Monadnock Bldg. Chicago, Ill., and many others.

Desiring to have men standing and business ability associated with us in this enterprise, I bring it to your attention and bespeak for it your friendly consideration.

At the request of the United States Commissioners, we incorporated "The American Exhibitors' Agency Co." in the State of West Virginia. It was necessary to do so, in order to secure the entire assistance of the United States Commissioners.

A great many exhibitors have already applied for space.

The Company has been incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, with a capital stock of $500,000 divided into 10,000 shares of $50 each. The Company will issue 100 5% bonds of the par value of $1,000 each, and will with each bond give Company's stock to the value of $1000.

Only one fourth of the face value of the bonds will be required for a first payment, and it is not expected that more than this first payment will be at any time required. Should, however, the exigencies of the business demand it, a further payment commensurate with the needs of the enterprise will be asked for. Pending the completion of payments, the bonds will be delivered in escrow for the purchasers, to some reputable Trust Co., of this city. Should, however, the remainder of the purchase money not be called for and the whole price of the bonds consequently not paid, the bonds will be returned to the Company upon the repayment to the purchasers of such instalments or instalments, as may have been paid, with accrued interest.

The stock will be delivered immediately to the bond purchaser at the time of the first payment.

To illustrate, I may add, that upon the payment of $250, the payer will receive stock to the value of $1000, and be entitled to interest at 6% on so much of $1000, the face value of the one bond, to be delivered to him in escrow, as shall have been actually paid in by him.

Let me know how many bonds I should reserve for you. I would feel very much obliged if you would kindly advise me of your views on this subject, at an early date.

Yours very truly,

...each bond give Company’s stock to the value of $1000.

Only one of the above values of the bonds will be maintained for next payment, and it is not expected that more than this last payment will be made to it. For the surrender, the exchange of the bonds will be made to Company’s stocks to the par value of bonds.

Company’s stock, which was purchased to the percentage of is sharply considered, and the par value of the bonds will be paid in cash. The exchange of the bonds will be made to the Company’s stock at 1:1, with the par value of bonds.

The stock will be available immediately to the bond holder at the face value of the bond.

To illustrate, if a bond of $1000 is purchased at 75%, the buyer will receive $1250 of the par value of $1000, and the remaining $250 will be paid in cash. If a bond of $1000 is purchased at 50%, the buyer will receive $1000 of the par value, and $500 will be paid in cash.

Let me know how many bonds you wish to buy and I would be happy to assist you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Brother:

You have doubtless noticed that Gen. McCook is candidate for the place of McKenna for Attorney-General of the United States. You will remember what I wrote you about the Hooker case, and the source of all authority in that is the Attorney-General. It would be a great thing for me to have a friend of ours in that place, one to whom we could talk freely, I think, to arrange to bring forward the case, which has all the equities on its side, so that it should not be put off and put off to all eternity as it seemed was the policy in the past.

Another point in regard to Gen. McCook's appointment. I think it is fully settled that McKenna is to go on the Supreme bench, with comparatively little pushing. I believe Gen. McCook will come into the Cabinet, and still, there is the fact that New York City has already a member in the Cabinet, and possibly that may prevent McCook's appointment.

There is another ground why I should like to see him come in. You remember my friend Judge J. H. Call, who I think you recommended to the Secretary of the Interior, or to the President—probably the latter—in connection with the position of Attorney-General for the Interior Department, for the management particularly of their railroad matters and other law matters. Now, within a few days the Supreme Court of the United States has reached a decision, as you may have noticed, on the Pacific Railroad case, involving what is known as the "overlapped"

Dear General:

You have generously notified that Gen. Macook is candidate for the place of Secretary of the Interior-General of the United States.

You will remember when I wrote you about the Hooper-Carson case. The source of all evidence is that of the Attorney-General. It would be great of you to do what you believe to be the right thing in the case, but the

Another point in regard to Gen. Macook's appointment.

I think it is fully settled that Macook is to go on the Supreme Bench with comparatively little prejudice. I believe Gen. Macook will come into the Cabinet and will be the last of the New York City bench. I have not read a member of the Cabinet and possibly that may be wrong. Macook's appointment.

There is another reason why I am inclined to see him come to your recommendation of the present judge. If, as I think you recommend, the Pacific Railroad case involving what is known as the "overlapping" land. It was that case that I had to do with when you went with me to see C. P. Huntington at his home. The lower courts had decided against the railroad at that time, and I went to Huntington to see if in view of that fact I could not obtain from him a quitclaim deed of the lands we wanted, so that I could proceed under the United States laws to obtain title and make a perfect title in that way, and save our settlers all anxiety. Mr. Huntington rather poohed-poohed at the decision of the lower court, informed me that he had appealed it to the Supreme Court and that he had not a particle of doubt it would be decided in favor of the railroad; so he refused to consider the matter of giving us a quitclaim deed or in releasing in any way to the United States the land in question. Of course I did not argue the case with him, but I felt convinced that if justice was done the land would go back to the United States Government and the railroad would lose it. Such finally has been the decision rendered last week, and this whole matter was conducted by our friend Judbe Call, both before the lower court, and also before the Supreme Court; so that this decision is a triumph for him, and, as it were, puts a feather in his cap as a good lawyer, and as on the right side of this question and as on the side of the Government as against the railroad, which just now is the popular side.

Now, I do not write you at this moment to ask any direct favor for Judge Call, who by the way had concluded not to put in his application for the position in the Interior Department, foreseeing at the time that he was likely to be defeated; but if you could see your way clear to lend a helping hand to the appointment of McCook it would be a favor to Judge Call, and would tally on the right side in that matter as well as in the Hooker matter. Judge Call thought perhaps you would
It was not clear to me that I had to go with you without going to see the President of the Senate. I was not informed at that time, and I went to the President to see him in view of the fact that I could not obtain from him a determination of the Senate to go on with the work. I was informed in a way that I could proceed under the United States laws to open the Senate and make a perfect little in that way, and save our selections.

In the Senate, I was informed that it was expedient to the Supreme Court to return the papers in hand to the President, and that he had not a percentage of paper to return to him. I also found that the matter of returning the papers to the Senate was never entered on the record. It was not entered on the record in any way to the President or to the Senate forever. Of course, I had no where else to go with him, and I left.

According to the files, I have been gone from the record. You have been heard in the Senate, government and the railroad would lose if such liberty were ever given the action. Kentucky. Last week, my files were made and the papers were completed.

In the hearing of Judge Call, both before the lower court and also before the Supreme Court, so that the action was brought for him, and as it were, brought as a case of a good lawyer and as on the right side of the discussion and as on the side of the government as the Supreme Court. Which leads to the position of Judge Call, and would facilitate the appointment of a good lawyer. It would be a great service to Judge Call, and would greatly facilitate the appointment of a good lawyer.

He lived with an interesting family of several children at Glencoe at that time, though Judge Call was then already absent from home, and in the practice of law in the State of Iowa, and subsequently went to California and practiced his profession in Los Angeles. If you are going to Washington, Judge Call would like very much to meet you, and it would be agreeable, I think, all around.

Please let me hear from you on these points.

Dear General:

I called around at the hotel this morning to see you before your departure from our town, but you had made too early a start for me. You will recollect, I presume, that the writer of this is the clerk in the Recorder's office, to whom you were introduced early upon your arrival in our town, and who had the honor of commanding the soldiers who escorted you to the stage last night in the Court House.

I am writing a history of the battery, a couple of chapters of which have appeared in the newspapers, which I enclose, thinking they may be of some interest to you. Also, an account of our recent reunion by which you will learn that the boys are earnestly desiring that I should be appointed postmaster of this town. I have thought since your departure, that possibly you may be able give me some help. If you could see the President or write to him in my behalf, it would have a wonderful influence. The term of the present postmaster will not expire until about the middle of February next, so that there will be ample time to attend to any matter of this kind. I have but one opponent, an old political barnacle, who scarcely knows what it is to be out of a political job; a man who was drafted and sent a substitute. I have never held any office. Nominated in the Garfield campaign for County Treasurer, I was defeated because the county was hopelessly Democratic. I hope I am not presuming too flagrantly in asking your help. I ask your assistance as one comrade would call for help from another.

I hope you had a nice trip to Washington and a safe trip home, and that you and yours are in the enjoyment of health and happiness.

Yours fraternal,

Charles A. Cuffel.

My Dear Sir,

As for your kind advice I wrote to Mr. Rossler, Mr. Vanderbilt, Sey and in due season received a reply from him to the effect that Mr. Vanderbilt will be in Europe for several months and no one was authorized to act for him in matters of the kind referred to.

Some time ago I wrote to R. D. Morse, International Sey and placed the facts before him and while he did not give us much encouragement he suggested Mr. Wanamaker & Mr. Rockefeller as gentlemen who might possibly assist us and I have had prepared similar letters to them, but am quite at a loss how to properly reach them. Can you suggest a feasible plan? I trust I am not in any degree annoying you by this writing you in regard to our troubles, but it is a matter which we pray much about and to me God will reward us in the end if it is His will that our claims continue. King will endure.

With heartfelt thanks for your kind assistance I am

Contract could not be attacked and arranged as it should be. I could place it before Justice P. that would be willing to supply Army to make the mines available. If we are to have the mine built and from the opinion of these in Panama R. L. Dear Sir:

I am planning a new illustrated circular for our work, to contain among other things - a few testimonials from well-known friends, with their portraits. As a business man, you will at once recognize the value to us of such an advertisement, and to increase likelihood of such a circular being read.

Will you not kindly furnish us with your portrait for this purpose? We should appreciate the kindness very much, and would, of course, expect to reimburse you of any expense in the matter.

If, as acceding to our wish, you kindly trust you will - you desire to write a new and testimonial, it would be an additional favor.

With the kindest regards, Sincerely,

Yours very sincerely,
