Boston, Feb 8, 1866.

My Dear General:

There have been a good many vicissitudes in the matter of my going away since I wrote you last, but I have held on to my purpose to go unless it seemed to you and some others of my friends that it would be wise of me to try it for a while at least.

Mr. Hitchcock made a great fight to prevent my emigration and I suppose he will be off to treat me with kindness and the child, with whom I have been associated for 14 years, died just as I had commenced plans with him to superintend my business. These two incidents staggered me, particularly the latter as it left me office without a head.

I have for Washington to-night and shall sail Saturday the 11th on the Saratoga.

The French line from N.Y. or possibly
I may sail a week later on the "La Normandie" French line.
I may take a week and go down to Asheville to say "good-by" to my sister and the boy. If I do that it will be to sail on the latter date, the 19th.

I shall write you when I get to my destination. Make my compliments please to Mrs. Howard and my fellow staff officers.
Your daughter and believe me

Dear General Howard:

Some time ago I received a letter, forwarded to me from Eala, at the end of which are the letters: "R. E." I wonder if they do a mean "Reply expected," and as I am entirely ignorant of any other meaning, ecco, here is the reply. First I must thank you very much for the letter, for all the good thoughts and wishes it contains, and for the help it has been and is to me. Isolated, entirely cut off as I am from intercourse with, well, -- with equals, with any one with whom I could exchange even if only a little growl or complaint as well as the enjoyment of some sublime thought or beauty of nature, a FRIENDLY letter seems more precious than it would perhaps be under other circumstances.

The Indians here are very friendly too, I have not had any trouble in all the time I have been here, but, it is give out, give out very nearly all the time, and I am not as young as I have been and have been very sick, so that, though the spirit is perhaps more willing than it ever was, the flesh is certainly weaker. And that does not leave me in very good spirits, not in the spirit that a teacher should bring into the schoolroom. And so you see, how a friendly line, cheering the teacher, (you have taught, and must know the almost wonderful influence the personal spirit of the teach
Dear General Howard:

Some time ago I received a letter, forwarded to me from Bates, asking me to send for some letters. It seems my first letter, which I wrote, was not the only one. Another letter was also written. The main point of my letter was to express my appreciation of your interest and the help you have given me in the past. I have been trying to write a letter to you, but I have not been able to do so. I hope to send you a letter soon, which will include a little more detail on my situation.

Your letter seems to be more positive than I would have expected. The letters to the magazine are very lively too. I have not had any trouble in getting the magazine to the magazine. I have not been able to get them to the magazine. I hope to get them to the magazine soon. I have been trying to write a letter to you, but I have not been able to do so. I hope to send you a letter soon, which will include a little more detail on my situation.

Dear General:

It is intended that Lincoln Memorial University shall be a monument to the beloved Abraham Lincoln, also an expression of renewed good will and fraternal feeling between the people of the North and the South, and a means of affording education to the people of the South, particularly of the southern mountain regions.

You are one of the few men now living who were directly and prominently associated with Lincoln in the great work done by him for his country. This is a reason why you should be conspicuously allied with a movement to establish such a monument.

A work which is to be an expression of renewed good will between sections of the country once opposed to each other in war should be conducted, in part, at least, by those who were engaged in that war. You did noble and conspicuous service throughout that conflict, commanding more soldiers than any other Union officer now living. You may, therefore, appropriately have a leading part in inaugurating such a work.

The educational work to be done by Lincoln Memorial University may be regarded as a continuation of the relief and educational work begun in the South at the close of the late war. As this work was chiefly under your administration and placed into your hands at the request of Lincoln, it is, on that ground, fitting that you should give direction to the present work.

And it is clear that such an institution should be under the guidance of a man who has the advantage of a wide experience in educational

Dear General Offices:

I am pleased to inform you that I have been able to approach a number of college and university administrators regarding the establishment of a research center on the campus of the university. The center will be devoted to the investigation of the various aspects of the university's educational and extension programs.

In addition, we have been able to secure the cooperation of several prominent educators and administrators who have expressed an interest in the work of the center. We believe that this will enable us to carry out our objectives more effectively.

I am confident that the establishment of this center will be of great benefit to the university and its students. I am looking forward to working closely with you and your colleagues in the future.

Sincerely yours, and philanthropic enterprises. In this respect, your experience has been varied and extended and in connection with successful enterprises.

And the man taking the guidance of such a University, should be one who knows and understands the American people and institutions and one in whom the people have confidence. In your long and varied active life, you have probably come into contact with as many of the people of this country as any man of whatever rank or calling, and you have large numbers of friends everywhere, and it is clear to all that you have both ability and integrity.

At a meeting held in Chicago, January 27, 1898, the Board of Directors of Lincoln Memorial University instructed the Executive Committee of said board to canvass the entire country for a suitable man to occupy the office of President of the University.

In proceeding under these instructions, consulting among ourselves and counseling with others, we have easily reached the conclusion that you are, above all others, the proper and appropriate person to fill that important office during the first years of the career of the University. We feel fully assured that under your direction the interests of the University will be better promoted than in the hands of any one else.

We, therefore, most earnestly urge that you once more, as you have frequently done, waive personal inclination and interest, and assume this task for the sake of God, country, and humanity.

We tender our hearty support and co-operation.

Fraternally yours,

Dear O. H. Howard:

With your experience and qualifications, your opportunity is great and you should be able to do excellent work in connection with successful experiment and the new element of the experience of such a university. So far as we know, you will measure up to the positions people can reasonably take and you have taken the necessary training or experience, and we have every confidence that you will prove able to fill the positions you are expected to take.

We do not think you have sufficient time to learn the necessary training or experience and we would recommend the cooperation of the people of the University.

We shall consider your offer in the light of the people's wishes and the importance of the work. We have given sufficient time to the people and the University.

Yours sincerely,

The Executive Committee

As you are a Christian worker,
I wish to get some advice from you.

An 85 years of age. I am native of Boston. Here I lived in East Cambridge, where lived Oliver Howard Haymond, with his parents. And if I am not mistaken,
I understand they were relatives of yours.

In 1868, I was a del-
When I was 16 years of age, I thought I became converted, and used to take part in young people's prayer meetings. But I did not hold out well a year, and wondered from God, and unwilling to submit my will to God's will.

But on the Sunday before last Christmas, I submitted and gave my heart to Christ.

During these years, I have carried through large financial operations of five million and ten million dollars at a time.

But having dishonest associates, I was frozen out.

At other times I have been on the eve of making fortunes, but each time something would happen to affect them.

But now I can see the hand of God in it all. If I had been prosperous, I am certain that I would not have yielded my will to God. If I had been prosperous, I think the result would have been the loss of my soul.

But now I believe I am to be prosperous, so that I can be enabled to do much in winning souls to Christ, as all I have and hope to be is consecrated to God's work.

I am to have options on two great water power of twenty thousand horse power each, and electric power will be generated and conveyed to large cities where all will be taken at forty dollars per horse power per year.

I have parties who will buy.
and immediately, as I have passed three sleepless nights and am hardly able to be up today.

As I have said before, I can do much for Christ if my life is spared. But must I die just because no one will aid me with fifty dollars for ninety days? Yet I wonder, what shall I do? Will no Christian man aid me in this time of need, and especially when I have given liberally when I have had money, and would now have a fortune to use in God's work. I would be pleased to call on you any time after Thursday, day or evening. Post Office address as below.
