Dear father,

I received Chapters 16 + 17 this morning and will get at them when I can. The President's message was very satisfactory to me & if Congress will give him power to put on a steady pressure
at his own discretion, I think he will eventually accomplish all we need in any other way without absolute fighting with ~~us~~

Spain. I fancy there will however be some trouble in Cuba before order can be generally established.

General Graham inquired for you particularly last night and asked me to send you his kind regards, saying that he had the most satisfactory service under you of any of his services in California.

Rev. Mr. Wilbur P. Thirkield has been to call on me, saying that he came at the suggestion of Mrs.
Fiske to whom you had spoken of my being here.

I have met Major Watson very frequently and find him very agreeable.
He came to call on me before I had a chance to present your letter
but I took it to him afterwards.

Gen. O. O. Howard,

My Dear Sir:--

Your letter of the 8th has been received. Mr. Chamberlin has also communicated to me what you wrote to him concerning the invitation of the Middlesex Club for the 27th inst.

Before he wrote to you, I sent you an invitation, but directed my letter to Washington, where I supposed you were, and do not know whether it has been forwarded to you.

The conditions stated in your letter to Mr. Chamberlin are perfectly satisfactory to us; that is, the Club will pay your travelling expenses from Burlington to Boston and from Boston to New York, and your expenses while in Boston.

The banquet is to be held at Hotel Brunswick at six o'clock P. M. As there will be three or four other speakers we do not wish to put you to the trouble of preparing an elaborate address but wish simply a brief after dinner speech.

Upon your arrival in Boston please drive to

Dear Sir:-

We beg to notify you that the third assessment on the Overland stock of $1 a share became delinquent on April 11. Will you not send us your check for $20 together with the certificate of your stock that the payment may be endorsed thereon.

We are making a special effort to pay off all the company's debts and that is the purpose of this assessment. We believe that the magazine is about to enter upon a period of prosperity. Its circulation is rapidly increasing, and it is believed that a corresponding increase of advertising business will soon follow. Until this occurs, however, the cost of getting out the magazine leaves nothing to pay off old outstanding obligations.

Dear Brother:-

I have several kind letters from you of late, and am glad to get the documents to enable me to close up the estate. Herewith I will inclose a receipt. Of course, it seems a little unbusiness like to have a receipt signed before you get the money, but that was the way the government, you know, always did and it seems the court requires the same. This is the money coming from Starr notes, after deducting all bequests and expenses, as I think I explained to you before.

I have your letter of April 5 before me. It relates to the Lincoln Memorial University. I am not disposed to differ from you at all. No doubt the advice from friends and others is good. The starting point and the endowment ^{are} ~~is~~ what they lack, and it occurred to me that if they could go with that leverage to Mrs. Mc Cormick ^{& others} and say "if you will give so and so, Gen'l Howard will take the Presidency," they would give it. I will not interfere.

script. I think it important that you should finish this great work. Some portions of the manuscript ^{Have} (the re-construction period) is exactly as I would have it. There are parts, I think, you wrote when you were tired; at any rate, it seems more in the style of an official report, such as you used to make of battles or of the bureau work rather than giving vivid pictures, facts and incidents such as you do give in your lectures and in all your talks about such things. I am very sorry that I am not more at liberty to assist you. I have been really oppressed by my business affairs and am not yet out from under the harrow. It was a great calamity, the absconding of our Western Agent and the robbery from us, amounting to some $20,000 or more of securities and cash. I was exceedingly interested to know what you said about Harry. I have written him to-day in answer to his letter received in California. I did not know about the National Volunteer Reserve, nor do I know now what you are doing in regard to it.

P.S. I enclose the receipt by request of the Attorney, for you to sign and return. He says "but defer the actual payment of the money ($597.37) until we have presented your report to the Probate Court and obtain its approval."

Dear Brother:-

There is one other matter that I wish to mention. You will call to mind that I sent you a letter addressed to the Commissioner of Pensions, Henry Clay Evans, on behalf of a widow's pension for Mrs. J. M. Wilson, and with it was her own application and a surgeon's testimony as to her husband's illness, particularly making a point that his death was the result of his impaired health, which began with a sickness in the army, caused by his hard service in Missouri and Arkansas.

I sent this to you June 18, 1897. My impression is that you immediately acknowledged the receipt of it and stated that you signed it and forwarded all the papers to Mr. Evans. Do you remember about it, and can you assure me of the fact that you so forwarded them, and the date? The reason I now write is that Mrs. Wilson never received any acknowledgment of her application and it is customary for the Commissioner of Pensions to acknowledge the receipt of such papers and state what disposition will be made of them. Possibly he wrote to you instead of to Mrs. Wilson. If so, I would be glad to know what he said, and oblige

Dear Brother, I much want to see you. I failed to find time to visit you when North could you not accept the presidency of the Lincoln University and so put us all to work. So many wish to hear you speak and desire to see you that it would seem but just that you should meet your many friends and by acting in this capacity the two going so nicely together you would be able to do much good. I arranged to have you meet the people at Linton, Pittsfield, Adams, Fort Adams and many other ones. When suitable to you Bro William Plunket will do all the car and wants you as his guest

Your letter of April 13th received, enclosing my old three years note, now met by two notes dated April 15th, 1898, one for $500. for four months, the other for $1110. for three years.

The draft on the Burlington Trust Company for $500. came safely, and I have sent it to Gen. Plume with the request that he send me the $500. note due on the 20th of April at his Bank. When received, I will send it to you.

These are trying times and require close attention to matters of business, family and nation, with a calm mind, which I am trying to preserve. We are all well at home and hope you are also. A shrinkage in values in nearly everything is taking place, hence it is an excellent time to economize.
