I have been giving rather more than I could afford for educational purposes of late to my own little College up in central New York, but I cannot remain deaf to an appeal coming from you, and, as you suggest, I will be one of the one hundred and fifty to contribute the necessary $15,000. to clear the Lincoln Memorial property from debt. I enclose my check for $100. to the order of Ernest A. Hamill, Treasurer.

My Good Friend:—

It grieves me more than I can tell that no way seems open to me to aid your most laudable enterprise. But the fact is we are not prosperous here, Sunday-School Treasuries are overdrawn, and our Y. M. C. A. has mortgaged its property for $4000. But I will send your Circular to a wealthy friend in Newark, hoping he may feel inclined to help, though he is just finishing a new house, and his wife is recovering from a serious illness.

If you will be down this way about the time of Thanksgiving we might possibly arrange a meeting for you. Will consult Dr. English about it.

Your letter of October 3rd just at hand.
Not having been notified officially of my election as Treasurer of the Lincoln Memorial University, I had no opportunity to decline to serve. This being the case I would not care to endorse checks as proposed by you.

If Mr. Chas. F. Eager was elected Assistant Treasurer, and has accepted, he would have authority to endorse checks made to me as Treasurer, as follows:

"Lincoln Memorial University by Chas. F.
Eager, Assistant Treasurer," and they would be honored.

I am sorry my declining to serve has caused you any inconvenience, and were I not already doing more than my share of this kind of work, I would put my shoulder to the wheel and bear my portion of the work.

Gen. O. O. Howard

Dear Sir:-

The evening before the Berlin left - Prince P. R. Lieut. Howard came on board and before he left expressed the wish that I should write assuring you of his continued good health. He is looking well and standing the climate unusually well. This good condition I think is largely due to the fact that Lieut. Howard has more than the average amount of common sense and knows enough to take proper care of his diet and surroundings.

Having given an account of his good health I cannot let slip this opportunity for saying a word in praise of the Lieut. ^{Howard} particularly for the most excellent care he takes of his men. As an Act. Asst. Surgeon, for a time attached to the 19th Infly., my work in his company was much lightened as a result - This - your other - Company commander in the Regt: was more solicitous for his men.

The sanitary arrangements, in and about the old Spanish Barracks, instituted by Lieut Howard, evidenced a very useful knowledge of what is necessary for a good camp and the fact, that the number of men in quarters was much less than in any other battalions, was, I think, largely a natural consequence.

Feeling that the same fore-sight and clear-headedness would be equally evident in case of any emergency I expected some day soon to hear that Lieut Howard has risen to a higher position as he deserves.
I was in the thick of the yellow fever scare at the Barracks and will tell very little and you need not give

My dear sir:-

We are making a special effort just now to reach the soldiers who are stationed here at Plattsburgh barracks. The enclosed invitation has been generally circulated and we have a good many of them at the rooms every day. We have held two meetings at the post on Sunday afternoon but have had a small attendance, in spite of all the effort made to get the men out. The officers do not identify themselves with the work and the men are wary about coming in to the meetings. Couldn't you come over and give us a meeting there in the afternoon and a union church service in the evening, either on the 16th or 23d of this month? I am sure it would do us more good than anything which could happen. If you will consent to do this we will look after your transportation of course and your entertainment while here. Let me hear from you very soon and say yes if you can.

I hope you heard from Collier's Weekly. Mr. Habberton promised to attend to the matter immediately and send you the check. The Forum used the article which appeared this week. I saw Dr. Rice and he said he would send you the check immediately. This was yesterday. The McClure returned your articles and stated that "they were not adapted to what they wanted." I replied that they had had five weeks to come to that decision and hoped that they did not delay with other articles as long. I was much annoyed because they had delayed. ~~So~~ I took the article on the future of the army and navy to the Outlook and I think they will use it. They will let me know in a day or two about it. I saw Neely again this morning. They have not decided on the book, however Mr. Ridiaul told me that they wanted it very much. He had read the mss. and found it to be very interesting. I will wire you as soon as they decide, and let you ^{know} immediately what else turns up. Let me know if you dont hear from Collier's and I will stirr them up again. I thank you very much reply to my last letter.

I have read it - very carefully and must beg of you not to give up the case (as you call it) in which you have for so long a time, bestowed much thought and care. It was placed in your hands by my dear husband, and as such, in some respects at least, must seem to you - a sacred trust.

Certainly no one could have done better than you of late -

The ^{present} circumstances per which you had no control, have been most-unfortunate it is true, still do not despair even though the way at this day seems as dark and intricate as the Mines, which are still in the dear Lord's keeping -

Light may come sooner and a way we least expect.

Both my sister and brother-in-law do not wish you to give up whether the Mines are still
