My dear General Howard,
How very kind
you were to send the Lincoln University circulars to the Vethin School. They have been distributed among ~~the~~ ^{the} pupils from the Seniors to the Primaries, and now I am hoping that the seed thus sown

will some day bear fruit.

The enthusiasm over the Friday morning
address has not abated, and the occasion
will always be remembered as a red letter day for the Veltin School.

With kind regards and deep gratitude for what you have done for us all, I am

Yours very sincerely,
Alice B. Blanchard.

My dear General Howard:

Mrs. Brown joins me in extending to you our sincere thanks for your kind expression of sympathy in our bereavement.

Mabel was so bright and so full of promise it was hard to part with her.

She was born in the room in which she died and had passed through all the ills to which children are subject and it does seem very harsh that

222

she could not have the aspect of usefulness upon which she was just entering - Come and see us, my dear General, whenever you can. dine with us and spend the evening. You must remember you are a living example in American History to my boys and girls. It was a source of gratification to us that our boys had opportunities to see Gen Grant from time to time when he resided in 66th Street - His nephews were about their ages and they were of that age when they could pass in and out without much ceremony.

Yours faithfully,
Edward F. Brown

The names given were not selected at random but are of the men identified with good works and contributors to our every good work without distinction of sect - colour or religion with the possible exception of a few who confine their gifts to the Congregationalist denomination. No man in the nation is held in greater respect than Genl Howard you are recognized by Christian and Infidel Saint and Sinner as a devoted Christian and as such have the confidence as well as their respect.

In regard to responses. No day passes but I receive through the mail one sometimes five or six pressing appeals for contributions to worthy objects. Daily calls are made and when I am about personal cards are left at my office and I presume my experience is not a singular one I do not answer all these I simply cannot. Perhaps my Christian brethren this may explain why no greater number have not yet responded. I hope each effort made will be successful. The best woman in the world and all are friendly. My Dear Sir

Your circular letter and personal note of Sept 12th '98 was recd in due time and was brought to the attention of our Sab. S. and favorably considered.

Our plan is to make collections during every quarter the object for which they are made being named in advance so at that time we had

24

that go on in our hands during the time we had some little deficiency in S. S. Expenses to make up so we have come round to this later day.

Along with our collections during this last quarter we have raised $17.75 which I hope will prove just as acceptable at this time. Will send it to

Dear Sir:- I have been very ill since Dec. 15 - "Complete prostration of the sympathetic nerves of the stomach" - Am sitting up only an hour each day now - Dr. said yesterday it would be a long time yet before I could go again to the office - have been on "Leave without pay" since Mch 1 - My friends are making an effort to secure an appointment in the Treasury for my daughter Beatrice, through Capt. Wilson Commissioner of Internal Revenue who is a prominent G. A. R. man, and loyal to the Soldiers and their families. Col. Kniffen went to see him yesterday to urge B's appointment, had a very agreeable interview and sent me word that he thought a statement from you of my work during the war & since for Soldiers and their families, addressed to Capt. Wilson - Commissioner of Internal Revenue, might induce an early appointment. It seems a new roll has been instituted recently, not yet under the Civil Service and it is desired to have this appointment made before the President issues his Civil Service Orders —

Forgive me for troubling you with this, when I know you are always full of work and care, but as Col. Kniffen suggested it and has taken such an interest in us, I do so —

Pardons pencil, I cannot use pen and ink in bed —

Hoping you and yours are well and happy

I have been told that you desired us to postpone our commencement exercises one week in order that you might be present.

Will you please write me concerning the matter, and, also, make such suggestions as you choose about closing up the year's work?

Have you any one in mind for one of the commencement week addresses?

Will you not consent, General, to make one of these addresses?

The Spring term of school opened this morning with good prospects for a nice term's work.

Dear Uncle Otis:

Your reply to my last letter both amused and hurt my feelings. I know the enthusiasm and interest you have in your work and I know how good and noble such a work is. It would make me very happy to assist in it and maybe bye and bye I can do so, but at present my financial condition is one which keeps me continually at high pressure to hold my own. You must remember that I started out with the Mt Shasta mine with some borrowed capital, and none of my own, and I have had to lift by my own energy and enterprise the whole financial load of equipment and development of the property, which in the case of any mine is a serious charge but which must be borne before profitable results can be expected, except, ofcourse, in the case of a bonanza property. The Mt Shasta mine is not a bonanza, but is a promising prospect on which I am pushing the work to the utmost and using every dollar that comes out to pay for equipment and labor. My operating expenses are about $5000 per month, and all profit I have made so far over and above the operating expenses has had to go towards paying debts incurred in starting the property. I am in hopes that the next three months will see these debts cancelled and me in a position of being the possessor of some surplus cash, and I assure you that in such an event I shall be only too happy to assist you in your work to the extent of my financial ability. He worries about his future, after the war is over, needlessly, I think.

I am obliged to you for your endorsement of my course touching Spanish matters. I acted as I was dictated to by my conscience and my sense of duty, both to the peoples I was dealing with and to my own countrymen. I am glad you are, as usual, engaged in a good work, but a little surprised that you should send to me for a contribution when you are in the center of wealth of the entire country. The churches, educational institutions, hospitals etc. of my State really compel me to give at home more than I can afford. Besides all that, I am assisting in the education of nine grandsons, three being in college and all expecting to go. Don't you think, under these circumstances, that you might let me off? However, if you still insist, and a check for twenty or twenty-five dollars will do you any good, I suppose I should send it.

I have your favor of the 29th ult., asking for a donation for the Abraham Lincoln Memorial University of Cumberland Gap, Tenn.

I have a multitude of just such applications, and find that the institution with which I am connected, (Colgate University), needs a great deal more money than the one which you are collecting funds for. While I thank you for calling upon me for a donation, I must respectfully decline, in view of other obligations.
