My Dear General:--

I had hoped to be able to go to Cumberland Gap before this time, but it has been impossible for me to get away, and I do not see any prospect of doing so in the immediate future. Mrs. Kane leaves to-morrow for Hot Springs where she will spend some three weeks or more. I cannot leave home while she is away. I will send Mr. Hughes' letter to Dr. Pearson and will write him also. I have no doubt he will read it and hope it will make the desired impression.

We all have very pleasant recollections of your visit with us. Should I see my way clear to visit your school I will give ample notice of the time. Of course, while I would enjoy greatly having you there, it is not entirely necessary, as I could learn, practically, all I wish to know in your absence.

With best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

The subject of the paper "W. L. S." is a very interesting one to me, only those who have seen them in the mountains of the South can understand their special needs and also how much good material there is in them. I am myself now planting a little home in the mountains near Asheville N. C. where I expect soon to go - and where I hope to be of a little service to some of the poor people there.

Dear General Howard:

I have not sooner thanked you for the circulars & articles from the New York paper that you sent me because I have been waiting to hear from some friends to whom I know the account of your enterprise would be very interesting - friends who had recently visited North Carolina & Tennessee, and who had been much attracted towards the poor white children of an Industrial School in Knoxville. I have also visited a friend who is on the board of a Memorial Library at the North - to see your circumstances. The Memorial Library has not seemed to be sufficiently needed where it now is, and there has been a proposal that it should be given to some Southern place if - after some months more of trial - it should not be more used where it is and made self-supporting.

The Librarian's report of valuable books especially in the Departments of History, Science & the Fine Arts - Having been asked where such a Library would be most useful I was impressed that it might eventually be better placed in the Lincoln Memorial University than anywhere else at the South. So your circumstances now seem to be just one of the boards of the Library. I have not without any account of a library already established in How sad is the account of the death of your son in the article you have sent. I did not before know it.

will be to Skyland.

With sympathy for the loss of your son I am

Most respectfully yours,

Mary L. Wilson.

This fact, together with my having pledged my interest this year to a little Industrial school started here in Maritta this ^{past} winter for the benefit of negro girls, rendered me unable to extend my interest pecuniarily in other directions. But I shall

Dear Brother:-

The enclosed from Commissioner Evans came to-day in your name and seeing it was from his office I opened it. I will retain a copy of it to show Mrs. Wilson.

What I am afraid of is that this special examiner, that he speaks of, will be the same man who had the case before and who tried to make out that there was no pathological connection between the cause of Capt. Wilson's death and the disease resulting from his army service. I suppose I might add one bit of scientific testimony, as our Burt looked up the question, and found that trouble with the inner ear and deafness are among the stated results of typhoid fever, and as Capt. Wilson had typhoid fever according to the certificate of his regimental surgeon and became deaf soon after, that might be one of the connecting links. I think, however, that our greatest difficulty is to show that the disease for which he was pensioned in 1863, showing itself in deafness, was the beginning of that which caused his death. They might still hold that his death was caused by a new disease developed later in 1886 or 1887. In this new testimony which we have added we have it stated as the diagnosis of Dr. Beebe that the disease which caused his death was the same which caused his deafness. We have also the opinion of several of the friends who knew him, like myself, J. W. Wilson and Milton George. I do not see as we can strengthen this part, but if you

My dear General:

Your letter of the 14th instant to Capt. Evan P. Howell has been turned over to me for attention. We are delighted to know that you can be with us for the re-union and barbecue to be held on the battle ground at Peachtree Creek, July 20, at the anniversary of that battle. We will immediately begin arrangements for the re-union, and I am confident of splendid success. Quite a number of the officers who took part in the battle on both sides will be present, among them Gen. Stephen D. Lee, Gen. A. P. Stewart, Gen. Joseph Wheeler, Gen. D. B. Henderson, Gen. Albert D. Shaw and quite a number of others from both sides. You are the ranking federal General who took part in that battle, and for that reason everything depended upon your being here. We want during the re-union to spend several days on the battle fields around Atlanta and locate in a general way the positions of the several corps during battle. We want especially to locate the points on Peachtree Creek where the different corps crossed. In this your information will be invaluable. We want you to spend as long as you can with us--a week or 10 days at least. We assure you of a cordial welcome and royal good time.

If you would like to have it done, we would take pleasure in arranging a special meeting of our citizens to hear anything that you might like to tell them regarding your work in connection with Lincoln Memorial University. I know that your heart is in this work, and possibly we could co-operate in some plan with you that will result in practical benefit to the University. Any plans or suggestion that you can make regarding the matter will be carried out in the best spirit.

We would like very much to have you suggest several federal officers whom you would like to have attend the re-union. Possibly you could suggest a number who could give valuable information regarding the locations of the various troops in battle. We are especially anxious at least to locate and mark the principal battle lines during the re-union.

Thanking you cordially for your interest in the movement and for your acceptance of our invitation to be present, I beg to remain,

Maj. General O. O. Howard,

Dear Sir,

We are closing our twenty fifth year in Knoxville College, and propose to celebrate it appropriately in connection with our commencement exercises next June. The great day of the celebration will be June 12, the day before our commencement exercises. As the first feature of the celebration we want to have addresses from those whose interest in the work and experience entitle them to speak with authority. Heading this list is the name of the man whom our whole nation delights to honor because he is a ^u courageous soldier of the Lord Jesus Christ as well as the brave defender of the Union, Major General O. O. Howard. We feel your presence is almost necessary as you represent more of what our work stands for than any other living man. Having been at the head of the Freedmen's bureau, interested in the upbuilding of the race for whose liberty you fought, and so well known among all peoples and classes our program could not be complete without your presence.

On behalf of our faculty I extend to you a most hearty and urgent invitation to be present and address us on June 12. We expect the governor of our state, Pres. Dabney of the State University and many other prominent leaders and educators to be present. I trust your health and engagements will make it possible for you to give me a favorable reply.

Yours most sincerely,

R. W. McGranahan.

I send you today, by express, the Final Report of the New York Commission for the erection of monuments at Gettysburg to the regiments and batteries belonging to this Commonwealth, which took part in the Battle of Gettysburg. Allow me to invite your attention to Col. Fox's narrative of the principal movements and incidents of the engagement, having relation especially, to the part taken by New York troops. The volumes now sent to you belong to a preliminary edition of limited number, issued for revision and criticism, which will be followed very soon by a larger edition for distribution to public libraries and to New York survivors of the battle. I would esteem it a favor if you will send me a memorandum of such observations, suggestions or criticisms as may occur to you after a perusal of such matters in the Report as may interest you, referring especially, to Col. Fox's narrative and to my address delivered when the State monument was dedicated, which will be found in the first volume.

Dear Uncle Otis;-

I feel such deep gratitude toward you for your great kindness in relation to making the effort to procure me an appointment as assistant on the Philippine Commission, that I hardly know how to express it.

Your kind letter enclosing one from Mr. Gridler only arrived yesterday, owing, I suppose, to snow blockades and delays. I was myself blockaded for two days this week, while away on a business trip.

It makes no difference in my feeling of deep gratitude that the letter arrived too late to be of practical service, as Judge Taft has already sailed for Manila. The disappointment and heartache incident to beginning anew in my profession has somewhat passed and I find myself gradually working into a line of mining litigation far better than I left. It is, as yet, much smaller in volume but I feel that it will come all right.

I thank both you and Mr. Gridler for your great kindness and shall only wait for an opportunity to return it in some way, as yet unknown. I may be able to return some of the kindness to those dear to you if not to you.

I tried to hunt up Mrs. Hazards granddaughter in Colorado Springs but could not find her at the address given.
