Dear General Howard

What I said to you the other day in approval of your ~~des~~ expressed preference to be relieved from speaking at the banquet, was as I mentioned at the time not merely my own view but also that of others. Yet I have reproached myself for it, since hearing from Dr. Shearer that it was on second thought not altogether satisfactory to you. So I am not sorry to learn that after all you are down on the programme for a speech in response to a brief presentation of the Memorial Album, which I am to make if I am that night physically able to do so, as I hope to be. The presentation will be made in any case.

I presume you know already that you are to speak, but I feel personally answerable to make sure of it as early as I can. ~~and~~ Although what I said to you was my own affectionate conclusion, I am sure now that it is better as it is, and am sincerely glad that it has turned out so.

Everything points to a successful meeting, and to a testimonial such as is not often given, nor can be, in this country.

With kindest regards to Mrs. Howard and your children,

Yours, very truly,

Wager Swayne

Dear General Howard

What I tried to say the other day in a hurry of your expressed preference to be leaves from speaking at the banquet was and mentioned at the time not merely my own view but also that of others. Let me rephrased myself for it, since hearing you Mr. Spencer that it was unnecessary to say not at all to the contrary to you. I am not sorry to learn that of all your down on the program for a few years home to a brief resumption of the of them, which I am to do so as that might physically able to do so as has to be. The present situation is in every case.

I presume you know already that you are to speak, but feel free to ally yourself to make sure of it as early as I can without what I said to you was my own affectionate conviction. I am sure now that it is better as it is, and am sincerely glad that it has turned out so.

Every thing points to a successful meeting and to a testimony of such was to not of ten years, nor even in this country.

Dear Sir:-

By to-day's mail, I send you to-day's "Oregonian," having a brief mention of your seventieth anniversary. I have noticed this proposed banquet to you with great pleasure. Though it may seem a little late in the day to do so, I beg to add my hearty congratulations upon that your seventieth birthday, and trust it may be God's will that you may still live many years to go in and out as a worker in the Master's cause.

You will be glad to know that my general health is very good. I have recently passed my sixty-ninth birthday and am still singing the Gospel as of old. The more I sing it, the more I love it. My voice appears to be good and acceptable to those who hear me sing.

I hope it will be your lot and pleasure some day to visit Oregon. You have a host of friends in Oregon, very many of whom love you very dearly and wish you all possible good success, health, happiness and prosperity.

Please bear the best wishes of Mrs. Wadhams and myself to Mrs. Howard.

Our friend and brother, Edward Chambreau is quite well. The years are telling somewhat upon him and he has a more feeble look than he had a few years ago. I believe he is living a consistent Christian life.

Dear Sir:-

By to-day's mail, I send you to-day's "Oregonian," having a brief mention of your seventieth anniversary. I have noticed this proposed banquet to you with great pleasure. Though it may seem a little late in the day to do so, I beg to add my hearty congratulations upon that your seventieth birthday, and trust it may be God's will that you may still live many years to go in and out as a worker in the Master's cause.

You will be glad to know that my general health is very good. I have recently passed my sixty-ninth birthday and am still singing the songs of old. The more I sing it, the more I love it. My voice appears to be good and acceptable to those who hear me sing. I hope it will be your lot and pleasure some day to visit Oregon. You have a host of friends in Oregon, very many of whom love you very dearly and wish you all possible good success, health, happiness and prosperity.

Please bear the best wishes of Mrs. Wadhams and myself to Mrs.

Howard.

Our friend and brother, Edward Chamberlain is quite well. The years are telling somewhat upon him and he has a more feeble look than he had a few years ago. I believe he is living a constant Christian life.

My Dear General,

The inclosed letter from Major-Hodge explains itself and it is upon the suggestion therein made that I write you. I was negligent in sending in the item and have no doubt you settled with him with the full belief on your part that the $50⁰⁰ advanced you by myself had been by him deducted from your credit in your final settlement. If this is so I would be glad to receive check for the amount. Of course if there is any misunderstanding and if any part of your expenses while in Kansas were not paid by the National Committee I should want such expense deducted from amount of remittance. We have won a splendid victory for reason and patriotism in Kansas and you may allow yourself the pleasant assurance that you were of material assistance to this end. With most earnest good wishes I have the honor to remain

Dear Gen!—

You have been so busy with the election that I have not troubled you with letters etc. I think you must have put in some hard work, judging from results. I should like to be at the dinner in your honor today but I am not quite ready to get off just now I am not sure of the invitations. I wrote a poem for Joseph S. Whittier's birth-day which received kind compliments from him and his friends and so I sent a poem for you. If you do not hear it or see it, let me know, as I think I kept a copy.

There is much about the school you should know now, and if you are not coming here soon, write or telegraph me and I will meet you in New York.

We went through the scarlet fever trouble in good shape and thought it put us back some, we are in very good shape now.

I presume you have seen the "Kernal" which has been gotten out as a money getter.

I have sent a number by me at Burlington, also some to Mr. Fairchild in N.Y. as well as other literature.

I have kept the school open at Grand Lee and a finer lot of youth you 114 never saw. Teachers and scholars all join in helping work out our hard financial problems. A sweet Christian Spirit prevails here and there have been several conversions and no opposers.
This aids wonderfully in the discipline which is superior even to last year.

On account of the lack of funds I have had to refuse many, but our rooms are filled and when January comes and the free schools close I don't know what we shall say. Perhaps before that time a way will open.

It has been at considerable sacrifice that I have kept this department above-board. I have had to draw upon limited resources of my own, as Mr. Eager, the local treasurer has not been able to advance me a dollar on acct. of salary. I need money very much. Whenever it is possible I hope the fact will be remembered.

The farm has helpers some, but I am far from satisfied with results and I hope some day to get a Northern farmer with push as well as intelligence to manage.

In addition to our regular teachers we have those two young men of Providence, R. I. I spoke for wrote you of. They have been great helps.
The music and short-hand pupils trust pay the cost of those departments.

The farm will pay the manager's salary. Those in the Printing and Woodworking depts, are to have their salaries out of the profits of their depts. Otherwise than there, we are paying but $48.00 cash per month for teaching regular branches. I have not reckoned board which is largely from the farm.

We are paying 100. per month cash at Harrow for teaching, not including board. There are 6 students boarding at Harrow and fifty at Grant Sec. The parents of most of the latter number would not send children to the Gap on account of the conditions there. Thus you will see why I could not coincide with the local board in closing

I have not mentioned to you that there, we are paying but 1000 to have those two groups of the children to our regular teacher for more about 1000 as well as in and I hope some day to get a school I can pay from which will result the farm has helped in paper, but now they have a good college there.

These things but at this of course you have the best record in clearing the Grant-Lee Hall.

Everything seems to move in harmony now, but of course we lack money, still this school can be run, money or no money, rather than give up.

Mr. Sumner is leaving the Gap. If you see the A.S.U. let them know that we have the man ready, if the church and they will give forces. I will write Dr. Woodbury in the morning.

One your teacher, Mrs. E.O. Tucker, who spoke to you at Chalangua, has gone into the oil regions of Pa. to see what she can do to raise money. She was valuable here but I hope she can do well in the field. I must close. All kind regards and congratulations.

FROM THE CONGREGATIONAL CLUB OF BROOKLYN.

The Congregational Club of Brooklyn, N. Y., through its Committee extends its cordial congratulations to General Oliver Otis Howard on the occasion of his seventieth birthday. Such a record of devotion to the cause of Christianity, of fidelity and loyalty to country as a soldier and Commanding officer, is an inspiration to the young men of this land and the admiration of all who love its institutions. So long as we have men of this character to occupy leading positions, whether in the army or in civil life, the principles for which this great Republic stands are secure from the assaults of its enemies. We hope that his life may be spared to many more years of happiness and usefulness.

We beg to inform you that Messrs. R. F. Outcault of "Judge" and E. Z. Parker, of the Associated Newspaper Bureau, have been appointed by the Press Artists' League to request you to act as a patron of the League's forthcoming exhibit, which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria during the Holidays, and will consist of the larger originals of the cartoons, portraits, comics and news pictures as reproduced in all the New York newspapers and divers periodicals, besides the original illustrations of recent novels. There will be also a limited number of colored drawings and water colors and oils, contributed by the artists of the press, who have entire control of this exhibit and whose work only will be shown.

Many prominent gentlemen have promised to lend their aid as patrons and purchasers in order to aid us in establishing free annual art scholarships for poor students, and in improving American illustrative art. We do not ask for donations: and would be happy to add your name to our list of patrons—among whom are Messrs. H. H. Vreeland, Seth Low, Theodore Seligman, Andrew Carnegie, John Murray Mitchell, J. B. M. Grosvenor, Woodbury G. Langdon, Bird S. Coler and others equally well known.

If you will be so good as to indicate when the gentlemen composing the sub-committee above mentioned may call on you, and explain the matter in detail, you will render beholden to you, not only the members of this committee, but the press artists generally, all of whom are deeply interested in the social and artistic success of this exhibit.

Awaiting your favors,

Faithfully yours,
