Dear General Howard:

Mama

said she knew you when she was a little girl. I am very interested in Civil War and am reading about it now. The book said that at the Battle of Fair Oaks when you got your arm wounded you met General Kearney who had had his left arm wounded some years before and said, "We will buy our gloves together, Kearney." Did you really say it? How many men were there in your brigade? We have got the map you drew about the battle of Gettysburg when you were here one night.

Dear Gen. Howard:---

In response to your esteemed favor we are sending to the American Tract Society for the Soldiers' Library one copy of each of your three books published by us. We assure you that we are very glad to do this.

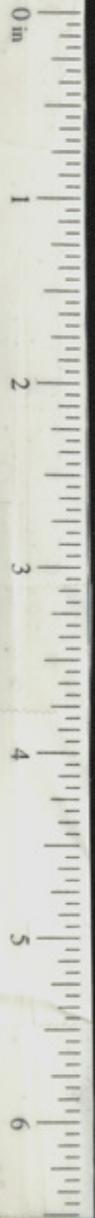

In connection with the taking of our inventory it has come to the notice of the manager that no settlement was called for by you last year, and consequently none made. We were in Europe several months, and supposed that the matter had been attended to during our absence, which was during the usual time for such payments. We therefore find ourselves in your debt on account of "Henry" and "Donald", not as much as we could wish, as the public are past feeling the same interest in war-time stories, however excellent, that formerly existed. The revision of "Donald's Schooldays" seems likely to secure a more or less continued sale and prove profitable. When the affairs of the new year allow us to complete the making up of our authors' accounts, we shall be glad to balance accounts with you.

Wishing you a very happy "new century," we are,

Very respectfully yours,

Lee and Shepard.

Dear Gen.

I write you for information in regard as to who commanded the Army of the Tennessee & 17th Maine here on & prior to the 22nd of July 1864. I am having a dispute with one of my old comrades in regard to this matter.

Hence this letter. I contend that Gen. Blair commanded the 17th here & Gen. McPherson the Army of the Tennessee & the other party contend that Gen. McPherson was in command of 17th here & Gen. Blair the Army of the Tennessee please to inform me as to who is

Gen C. C. Howard.

My dear general.

There comes a time in the life of most men, when the soully need a friend; or friends. That time, general, has come to me. I surely need the influence and help of friends. I had four boys, whom I had carefully educated and started in business; but I have lost them all. Not one left to council or help me. Two of them died in government service, and left each a family of small children wholly unprovided for. Congress has never made any provision for the widows and orphan children of men who lost their lives in the railway mail service. My youngest son was killed and burned up in his car. I have been doing the best I could to care for those thus left penniless, until I can carry the burden no longer. Our home is mortgaged, and the obligations past due; and I have no means to meet them. I laid the matter before the President

Many months ago; and he very frankly told me that I was carrying burdens that the government ought to assist me in bearing. He told me that he would provide for me with some suitable position, at the earliest possible hour. But time has passed on, and nothing has been done for me. Now, there is an opening where the President can help me. There is to be a Chaplain appointed at the Federal Prison at Atlanta Georgia. Of course this would be every way "Suitable" for me. There will be many applicants for the place. I am now asking those officers, under whom I have served, to see the President for me, or write him, and ask him to give me the place.

My dear General, will you help me in the matter; either by seeing him or writing to him, and ask him to give me the place? I feel sure he would give the place to one who has served the Country by faithful service, ^{rather} than one who has never done a days work for the government. General, I will be more grateful to you than I know how to tell you. What is done must be done quickly

Yours respectfully

The map is drawn or modeled on a scale inch to 600 ft — vertical scale inch to 100 ft. All farm houses are shown, also woods, roads, water and the famous stone wall.

If you will so favor me, please let me know whether you are likely to soon be in any of the cities named above & am,

My Dear Gen. Howard:-

A Happy New Year to you. May you enjoy for many years the blessed fruits of your service to mankind.

I received your letter containing congratulations and request for offering. You have done so much for me that it has long been my desire to show my appreciation in a good substantial manner, and I will now let you into what was a secret. At Fullerton we have a plan to organize a large public meeting & present the cause of Lincoln Mon.
Uni. It was our plan to call this meeting

During the old century, but a seizure of Smallpox has come over the town & all public meetings are prohibited. Genl. Stock is taking an active part in the matter & I think that as soon as the health board allows we will have a good offering to send.

We wanted to let you have this offering as a New Years surprise, but now that it is out may I not ask a little help to prepare my speech. Some literature giving history and characteristics of these people you know.

Again wishing you ~~perfect~~ greatest blessings & long life I remain

Yours

My dear Genl Howard: I have had the honor and pleasure of meeting you, and grasping the hand nearest your heart, and it is the gratified boast of our baby - now left handed - and Soph' at Yale - that he once sat in your lap. All of which occurred when you visited our Ottawa Kansas Chan-tanqua Assembly some years ago, and were stopped at our tent as you strolled through the grounds under escort of our old Pastor Rev. D. C. Milner, then Pres of the Assembly and now located in quiet Ill. All of this preliminary to saying I have been interested in and stirred up by the published accounts of the investigation concerning Cadet Booz's experiences when at the Academy. I have a suspicion that the peculiar circumstances of the investigation are - milding speaking - somewhat conducive to - - an economical use of the truth, the underclass traditional with many being - - fully as sacred as the whole truth! I have wondered if the idea is altogether too utopian to have it physically safe for a medium strength boy to enter there, even granting that he is inclined to be a physical coward.

There should certainly be other and more credit ways of getting rid of him, and more creditable to his superior upper classmen. I must confess I have been greatly stirred up and indignant and I would like to see what I would punish such hazing to the extent if necessary of depopulating the institution and refilling often enough to get a class or aggregation of men without any mixture of bullies. I have been wishing that some clean enterprising Magazine would draw out an article on the subject, from you, Howard. I believe something should be said by the right person, and further if there were a few dismissals of ring leaders and instructors in ⁽³⁾travoy, it might have a wholesome influence. Dear Gen. Howard: The different departments of Lincoln Mem. University opened again yesterday, and I am happy to say, with very flattering prospects; Many of the young men who have been out teaching have returned and brought others with them. The greatest question that confronts us now is how to take care of them. Grant-Lee is filled to the limit. How much we need another building near there.

The little disturbance has nearly all blown over; many of the boys have returned. We have had ^{to} use some diplomacy and tact to mend matters; that ought to have been done by Dr. Larry; but now we hope everything ^{will} proceed more smoothly. Wishing you good luck for the work,

New York.

Dear General Howard:-

Whatever may transpire constraining a separation in work or co-operation in affairs wherein you and I may be deeply interested, I shall never cease to have a profound regard for my Commander of the 4th Army Corps. We may have views at variance and our methods differ, but my admiration and deep regard for a brave soldier will always remain with me.

I desire to thank you cordially for your warm expressions of regard.

My resignation from the Treasurership of the University was, you remember contemplated a year or more ago, and I feel that it is best that I should be relieved from a number of offices I now hold in various organizations.

With kind regards to Mrs. Howard and your family, believe me,

Yours very truly,

Wm. Lauder

Dear Gen. Howard,

If my health, which has not been good for two years, will permit, I shall be happy to serve you + the cause in the way you propose.

If you decide to thus conditionally accept my services, I suppose a conference would be advisable, in order to determine what would be appropriate in the way of selection.

Awaiting a reply as to your pleasure in these

Dear Gen. Howard.

I am going to write you a little note for fear you may be wondering why your picture does not come.

I was much pleased to receive your order for the "Madonna" and quite surprised when one night (quite late too) after I had started to retire, Mr Blanchard called & brought me the money from

you. You know Mr B.
well enough to know that I had to fix my back hair and come in & see him or he would have come in and seen me!

I at once ordered some photographs mounted, as I was all out of that subject, and they had to print them & there was also a delay because they mounted them on white cards when I ordered brown. And so I have been much slower than usual in filling an order that I wanted to be especially prompt.

As I have to wait for some colors, that are slow to dry I can't send it by mail till it is hard so it will be a week or a little more before you get it.

But you will know
I shall not delay now & you got the pictures.

I was much pleased with the result of my exhibition and have been quite busy since.

Wishing you a very Happy New Year & much joy in this new Century.
Very Sincerely -
Louise Adams Guild.

Gen O.O. Howard

Dear Comrade

I can hardly claim an acquaintance with you although I had the pleasure of exchanging a few words at Framingham in 1883 and again at Burlington four years ago during the reunion of the Army of the Potomac. I am a Burlington boy and can refer to Gen Thos S. Peck and C P Smith old school mates of mine for further information. I have been for thirty years cashier in one of the mills here employing about 4000 hands. Why I write you at this time is in order to extend an invitation to attend a memorial and patriotic service in Lawrence May 30 and to deliver the address on the occasion. This will occur in the opera house in the evening after the regular exercises of the day are over. As we are an independent body of civil war veterans at present, not yet affiliated with the G.A.R. we do not wish to interfere with the memorial services that are held under the direction of the local post, but to supplement them by a patriotic meeting partly for the benefit of the large foreign population of the city more than a majority of its 70000 inhabitants. These are from every European country and many of them have yet to learn the first principles of loyalty to the state. Our organization with its experience received from service in the civil war is well qualified to enter upon a campaign of education in their behalf and have already done something in this direction as you will see by the papers mailed you. Should you accept all expenses will be paid and you will have an audience limited only by the capacity of the opera house probably 2000 at least. Hoping your reply will be favorable I remain

Yours fraternally

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

WASHINGTON.

My dear General:-

I am extremely sorry that I see no prospect whatever of being able to attend your great meeting on the 11th of February. A great many reasons prevent, among which the chief are my press of occupations here which makes even a day's absence a source of considerable inconvenience, and, secondly, my bodily health, which dissuades me from anything but the most necessary travel.

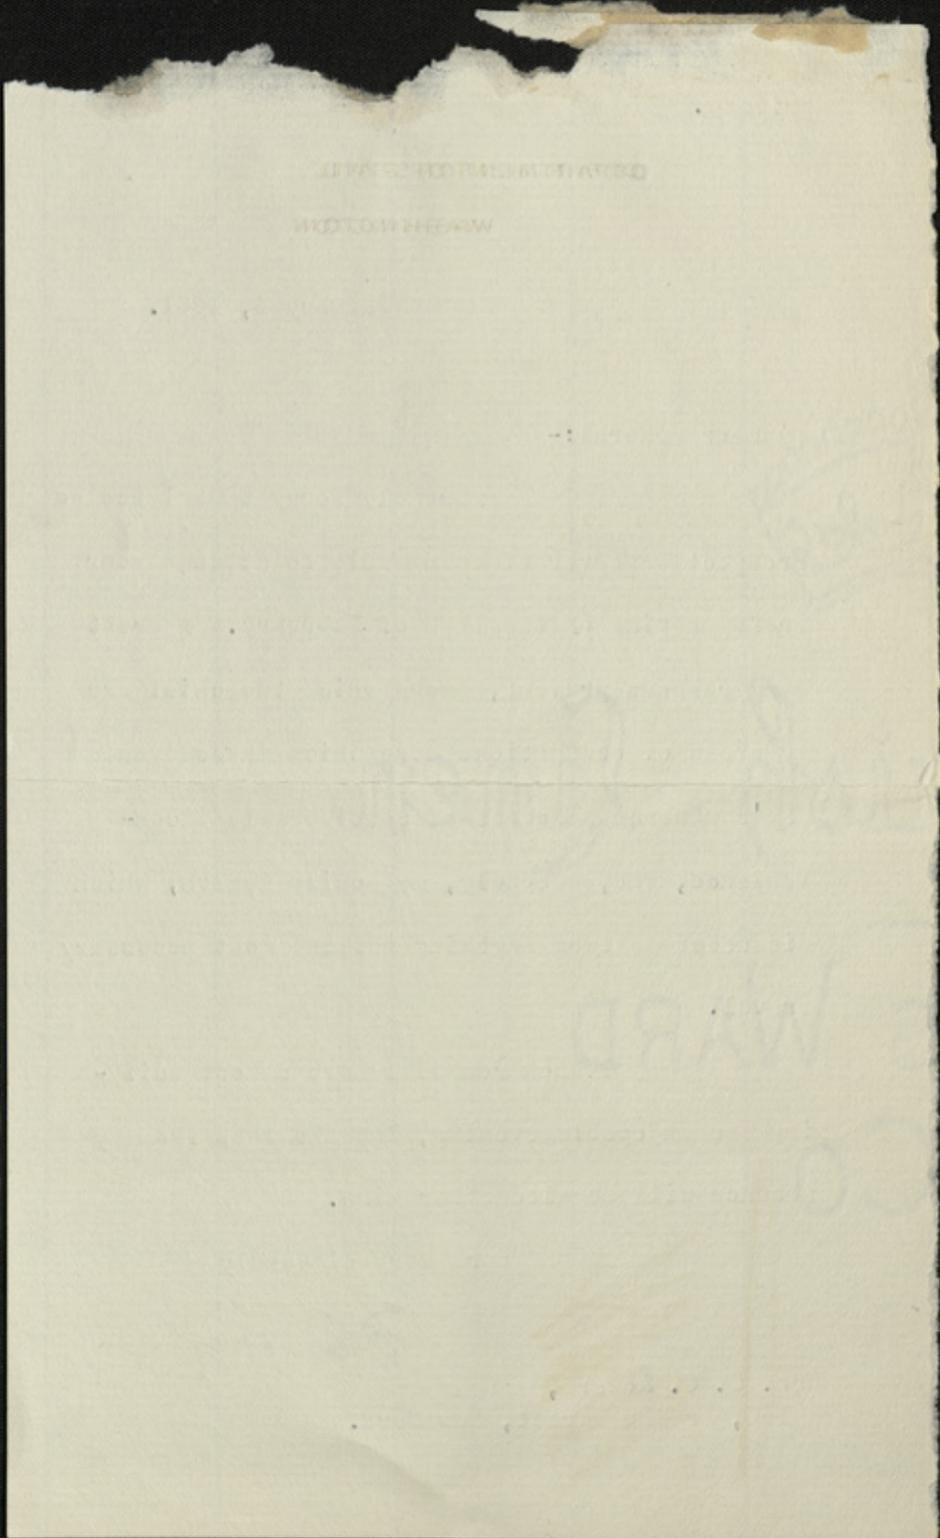

I know you will have a most edifying and enjoyable evening, and the loss from my absence will be altogether mine.

Yours very sincerely

John Hay
