Burlington, Vt.

Dear Sir:-

Your favor of the 15th inst. at hand. The leases on the 40 acre tract were sent on to you for signature a few days ago. We find that a few owners of isolated lots in Howard have maintained their rights of ownership by collecting from the tenant some nominal sum for rent. We think that the title to most of the lots, however has reverted to you through ten years occupancy, and by filing suit against the parties holding title to these lots, and setting up the ten years possession, you could recover a decree quieting title in you. This however, would be almost as expensive as buying the lots up, and if any of the parties fought the case, it might become a doubtful one, and then it would be an unsatisfactory and disagreeable class of litigation. The fact however, that ten years possession was standing against him, might cause an owner to sell out his lot at the figures you have named $7.00 to $10.00. Mr. Redmond who claims to own two lots, and who has in a way maintained possession, offers to sell the same for $25.00, but there are some taxes against them. The land has been poorly cultivated for a number of years, but Stoltenberg is a good farmer, and will get the land in ^{to} good shape.

A good many of the owners in the town of Howard have left Nebraska and can only be found by hunting up the information. We will start this work at once as we do not think it possible to ever sell this land, until these lots are bought up, so that good title can be given for the whole forty. The ten years possession would not make title, unless backed up by a decree of court.

Yours truly,

A L Reed PR

My dear General :-

You were doubtless as dumbfounded as I was to read in the Sunday papers of the death of our dear friend, Mr. S. S. Blanchard. It was entirely unexpected to the family and to us here for daily reports for the past two weeks were to the effect that he was improving. I have meant to write you but judged from what I heard that you were kept informed through other channels. Had there been cause for alarm I should have written anyway. It is a great shock to us all.

I saw Mrs. Blanchard yesterday. She is keeping up well and I have no doubt will until after the funeral which takes place Tuesday at two o'clock from the Clarendon St. Baptist Church. We shall send a large delegation from this office and Mr. Blanchard asked his wife to see that a carriage was provided that I might go to the grave. Did you ever see such a man! He thought of everything. He talked by the hour with his wife about his death and funeral arrangements although she would assure him that it was unnecessary. Mrs. Blanchard feels worst because the doctor did not warn her so that she might send for her daughter. They have sent since his death and Mrs. Emery with her husband and infant are expected to-day. The telegram sent them did not say Mr. Blanchard was dead.

One little thing we did for him here gave him much pleasure just before his death. March 15th was the second anniversary of his coming in as Appraiser and I thought it would be fitting to send him a little tribute; so I wrote a few words of congratulation on the event and hopes for his recovery and sent it around the office for signature. Every man in the force signed it and some in the same building not under the Appraiser. Then they wished to send flowers with the paper, and by each giving ten cents we made up quite a sum and ordered cut flowers. Our principal florist, Calvin, sent a generous number for the money and they were seen by the men here before Nelson took them to Mr. Blanchard. He was much touched and had them about him for the twenty-four hours that remained to him of life, and Mrs. Blanchard tells me she placed them about him after death.

Everyone in this office has reason to remember Mr. Blanchard pleasantly and gratefully, for he never made a removal and did make many advances in salary among us. He was a kind-hearted, Christian gentleman, and we seldom meet such in political offices. He placed absolute confidence in me and I trust I never was unworthy of it.

I see you are to be in Boston in May next. I sincerely hope you will find your way down to #177 State St. and see us all. It will not be like coming to the same place but I assure you that you will be warmly welcomed.

Sincerely, yours,

P.S. Nelson saw Mrs. Blanchard this morning and she spoke of receiving a kind telegram from you. I hope your indisposition is not serious.

Dear Mr. Grandin:

My first feeling in getting your telegram was to take the next train for Boston; but my physical condition is such that I cannot do it. My "Sciatic" attack has lasted now for ten days and I only can sleep a few minutes at night at a time. The pain is acute and continuous. I am not discouraged but am too weak for the journey to you. I am dreadfully distressed about Mr. Blanchard's death and do not like to feel that I contributed to the trouble from which he suffered. If I did, you and yours know that I loved him and would not willingly have added anything to his suffering. It seemed to be a comfort to him to have me with him in his home, in his visits, and especially at reading and prayers. He led such a cheerful and happy life, always doing good. He doubtless gave much of his reserved force to every good cause which he helped. In him any man in need had a brother. His love and reverence for his wife was unflagging, and she will miss him more than tongue can tell.

I can say nothing, it seems to me, to give consolation, only let us turn to the Christian's hope - hope that is strong like an anchor - in the new life it is all well with him, and he has entered in to new and perennial sources of joy.

Many companions have gone before him who will be made glad by his coming. I want to be as well prepared when my hour is struck.

With great love for you and your family, who have been so kind to him and his, I am deeply and devotedly

Your friend,

Olin Otis Howard

150 Nassau St. New York,

Dear General;-

Encampment No. 1 U.V.L. has imposed upon us the honor and pleasure of sending to you the accompanying Roster of their members. With it, we need not say, go the sincerest good wishes and respect from every member of the encampment.

Our encampment has unanimously decided to do itself the honor of placing upon our walls the best portrait of you we can find. We should of course be delighted and specially honored if it should come as ~~xx~~ a personal gift from yourself, but, while we hope for such a favor we can hardly expect it, as we easily understand that you are probably over taxed with such "opportunities". At any rate, general, we should like to know where is published the engraving of yourself, which is most satisfactory to you.

Assuring you again of the good wishes of our encampment and thanking you in advance for your attention to this request, we are
