Dear Sir,
By this morning's

I also desire to place the

for those ladies and gentlemen promised to help along the good work and I am hoping that from this very small beginning may spring forth a flourishing plant of successful endeavor. I also hope to have Mr Blackwell education. Did I understand that Mr. Larray cannot be here? I think it would be well to have the meeting open about 2 o'clock that will accommodate those out of town nicely. We should be pleased to receive you at dinner which we will make about 12,30.

as not to interfere with the afternoon
plans. Will you very kindly let us know at once if May 3rd is open, so that I may get out the invitations. I think it would be nice if they could be printed

Platform and Program.

The Bureau promotes those Christian reforms on which the churches sociologically unite while theologically differing. It proffers cooperation to all associations that stand for the defense of the Sabbath and purity; for the suppression of intemperance, gambling and political corruption; for the substitution of arbitration and conciliation for both industrial and international war.

The means used are: 1. Lectures, by the Superintendent, which average 5 per week, and include leading conventions, colleges, churches, associations. 2. Letters that link the Bureau to every living reform movement among Christians. 3. Literature (see over), especially Topic a Month Studies. 4. Legislation, on which last the Bureau can show (Sept. 1, 1897) 4 complete victories, namely: (1) Gillett bill, to break up divorce colonies in the Territories, the men used in signing which by President Cleveland was sent to the office of the Bureau; (2) bill to raise the age of protection of girls to 18 in Utah, passed exactly as submitted by the Bureau; (3) Bartlett-Cameron race gambling bill defeated after approval by committees in both houses of Congress; (4) restoration of Mr. Wanamaker's plan of post-offices on the basis of local option petitioned of Post-Master Wilson.

Repeals introduced by the Bureau are half victory, having been approved in last or present Congress by influential committees, and by full committees, except in the District of Columbia.

Legislation for them: (1) Gallinger bill, to prohibit the sale of liquors in all government buildings; (2) Gillett bill, to prohibit interstate gambling by telegraph; (3) Hoar bill, to prohibit prize fights in the District of Columbia; (4) Hepburn bill, to prohibit interstate transportation of such shows; (5) Shoup bill, to substitute voluntary arbitration for railway strikes; (6) Broderick bill, to raise the age of protection for girls to 18 in the District of Columbia; (7) McMillan-Harmer bill, to restore the Sabbath law to the District of Columbia.

The Bureau's Topic a Month Course of Reform Studies is being widely adopted by W. C. T. U., Y. M. C. A., and by various clubs. The themes are: January, Education; February, Municipal Reform; March, Immigration; April, The Sabbath; May, Labor; June, Marriage and Divorce; July, National Reforms; August, Purity; September, Gambling; October, Criminology; November, Temperance; December, Charity.

The Superintendent of the Bureau is also leading Sabbath defense campaigns for young people's societies in the Golden Rule, Epworth Herald, etc.

Funds greatly needed. [over]

April 8, 1901.

Gen. O. O. Howard,

150 Nassau Street, New York City, N. Y.

Dear General Howard:

I have put you down for an address on Christian Citizenship at the Reform Bureau's anniversary in Pittsburg, on the evening of May 5th, in the First Presbyterian Church, in accordance with your letter of April 6th and the terms therein contained.

We have not planned the other meetings fully as yet but I usually speak three times on every Sabbath and would very much like to put in a platform meeting with at least three short addresses in the east end of the city, far away from the scene of the evening meeting if it was agreeable to you to add a short address in the afternoon to that of the evening. I feel sure that you would receive many invitations to make some other addresses there in the evening if you are announced only for that, but if you are booked for two addresses you would be saved much annoyance in this matter and, if you are in vigorous health, you would perhaps not find the short additional address any special burden, while it would bring a message of cheer and influence to another section of the city and that the most influential section of all.

We have already announced you for the evening service in a preliminary announcement but shall desire to make a full announcement of the whole day, including probably some member of our Board of Trustees, Dr. Power or Dr. Butler as well as myself who will share the afternoon service with you, while I shall probably preach somewhere also in the morning.

Very truly yours,

Wilbur F. Crafts

[Incorporated.]

210 Delaware Av., N. E., Washington, D. C.

HON. CHAS. LYMAN, President; REV. WILBUR F. CRAFTS, Ph. D., Supt. and Treas.

THE UNDERSIGNED hereby subscribes, unless a different sum is named below, $2.60, payable within 10 days, if not enclosed, for the promotion of Christian Reforms through the above-named agency, and directs that 50 cents out of the sum given be applied to one year's subscription for the Bureau's "20th Century Quarterly," to be sent to the undersigned, unless some other address is written on reverse of envelope. [If other rebates are wanted underscore them below; if subscription is not paid, fill out duplicate and keep it as a reminder.]

In order that all members who so desire may be equipped for intelligent reform work, the following additional rebates are sent, but only on request, to be indicated by underscore, to members paid up to end of 1897 or beyond: 1. "Monthly March of Reform," reprint from The Ram's Horn; 2. "Social Progress," a 96-page manual, containing Superintendent's Lafayette-Marietta lectures and Topic a Month Course of Reform Studies, or in place of last named, his "Before the Lost Arts," or his "Civil Sabbath." Those who pay $2.00 or more may have, besides the "Monthly March of Reform," all three books named above, or the Superintendent's "Practical Christian Sociology," or his "Sabbath for Man," both in cloth-bound, $1.50 editions. You give largely to local charity, but why not equally to the local reforms that would prevent the need of charity by cutting off its causes, with which, rather than mere consequences, we should deal? Only one large bequest has been given to reform, although Roosevelt's closing of Sunday saloons thinned out the hospitals, and Dr. Edward Everett Hale says that no church alone could care for all the dependents in Boston not made so by drink. The corporate name is "The Reform Bureau, of Washington, D. C." A building and printing press are especially needed. [Over.]

My dear Sir:

No doubt Rev. L. E. Canfield, our Home Missionary here at Ward Academy has written you with reference to visiting their school this coming Commencement and giving their Commencement address. Yankton College is keenly interested in Ward Academy as a tributary school and desires to join them in that invitation, inviting you to give our Commencement address the following week on Wednesday, June 19th. Our Commencement address occurs at Ten O'clock in the morning and the speaker usually occupies an hour or more. We wish we might offer to pay you but all the College can do is to make good your necessary expenses. We would bear two thirds of this cost, leaving one third to the Academy. Prompt reply will greatly oblige.

in another state would have a good effect on the people of the Gap. Not many need such a lesson but some evidently do.

A letter just in from Mr. Eager gives the information that he knows and thinks highly of Mr. Stevens. I feel strongly that he is the man to look out for the local work and represent whoever has the charge of the work.

Now, I shall start back just as soon as possible. I must have a few dollars more for my personal needs before going. I have much to handle when I get there I shall arrange to entertain all comers to the commencement and shall try to do it as well as it was done last year and you know probably that I bore all the expense of it then. I want you to come a few days early and I will have my top buggy, which is a remarkably easy one put in order and a strong, safe horse with a good driver put at your disposal. It will cost something to take Mrs. ~~Wager~~ Larry down and back but it will pay in the comfort of the guests to say nothing more. hope to get in electric lights also before that time.

If I can have a hundred dollars of my salary before I go back I can do a mint of good with it as you will see.
