My dear General,-

In reply to your esteemed favor of February 7th: I thank you very much for your sympathetic and encouraging words. In considering those most fitted to contribute to my history, your name, of course, comes early before me. Would your present literary plans permit of you considering a proposition looking to the production of a volume containing from 175,000 to 185,000 words on The Civil War? The manuscript to be in my hands by July 1st, 1904.

I should esteem highly an early reply.

Sincerely

Guy Carleton Lee

February 13th. 1902

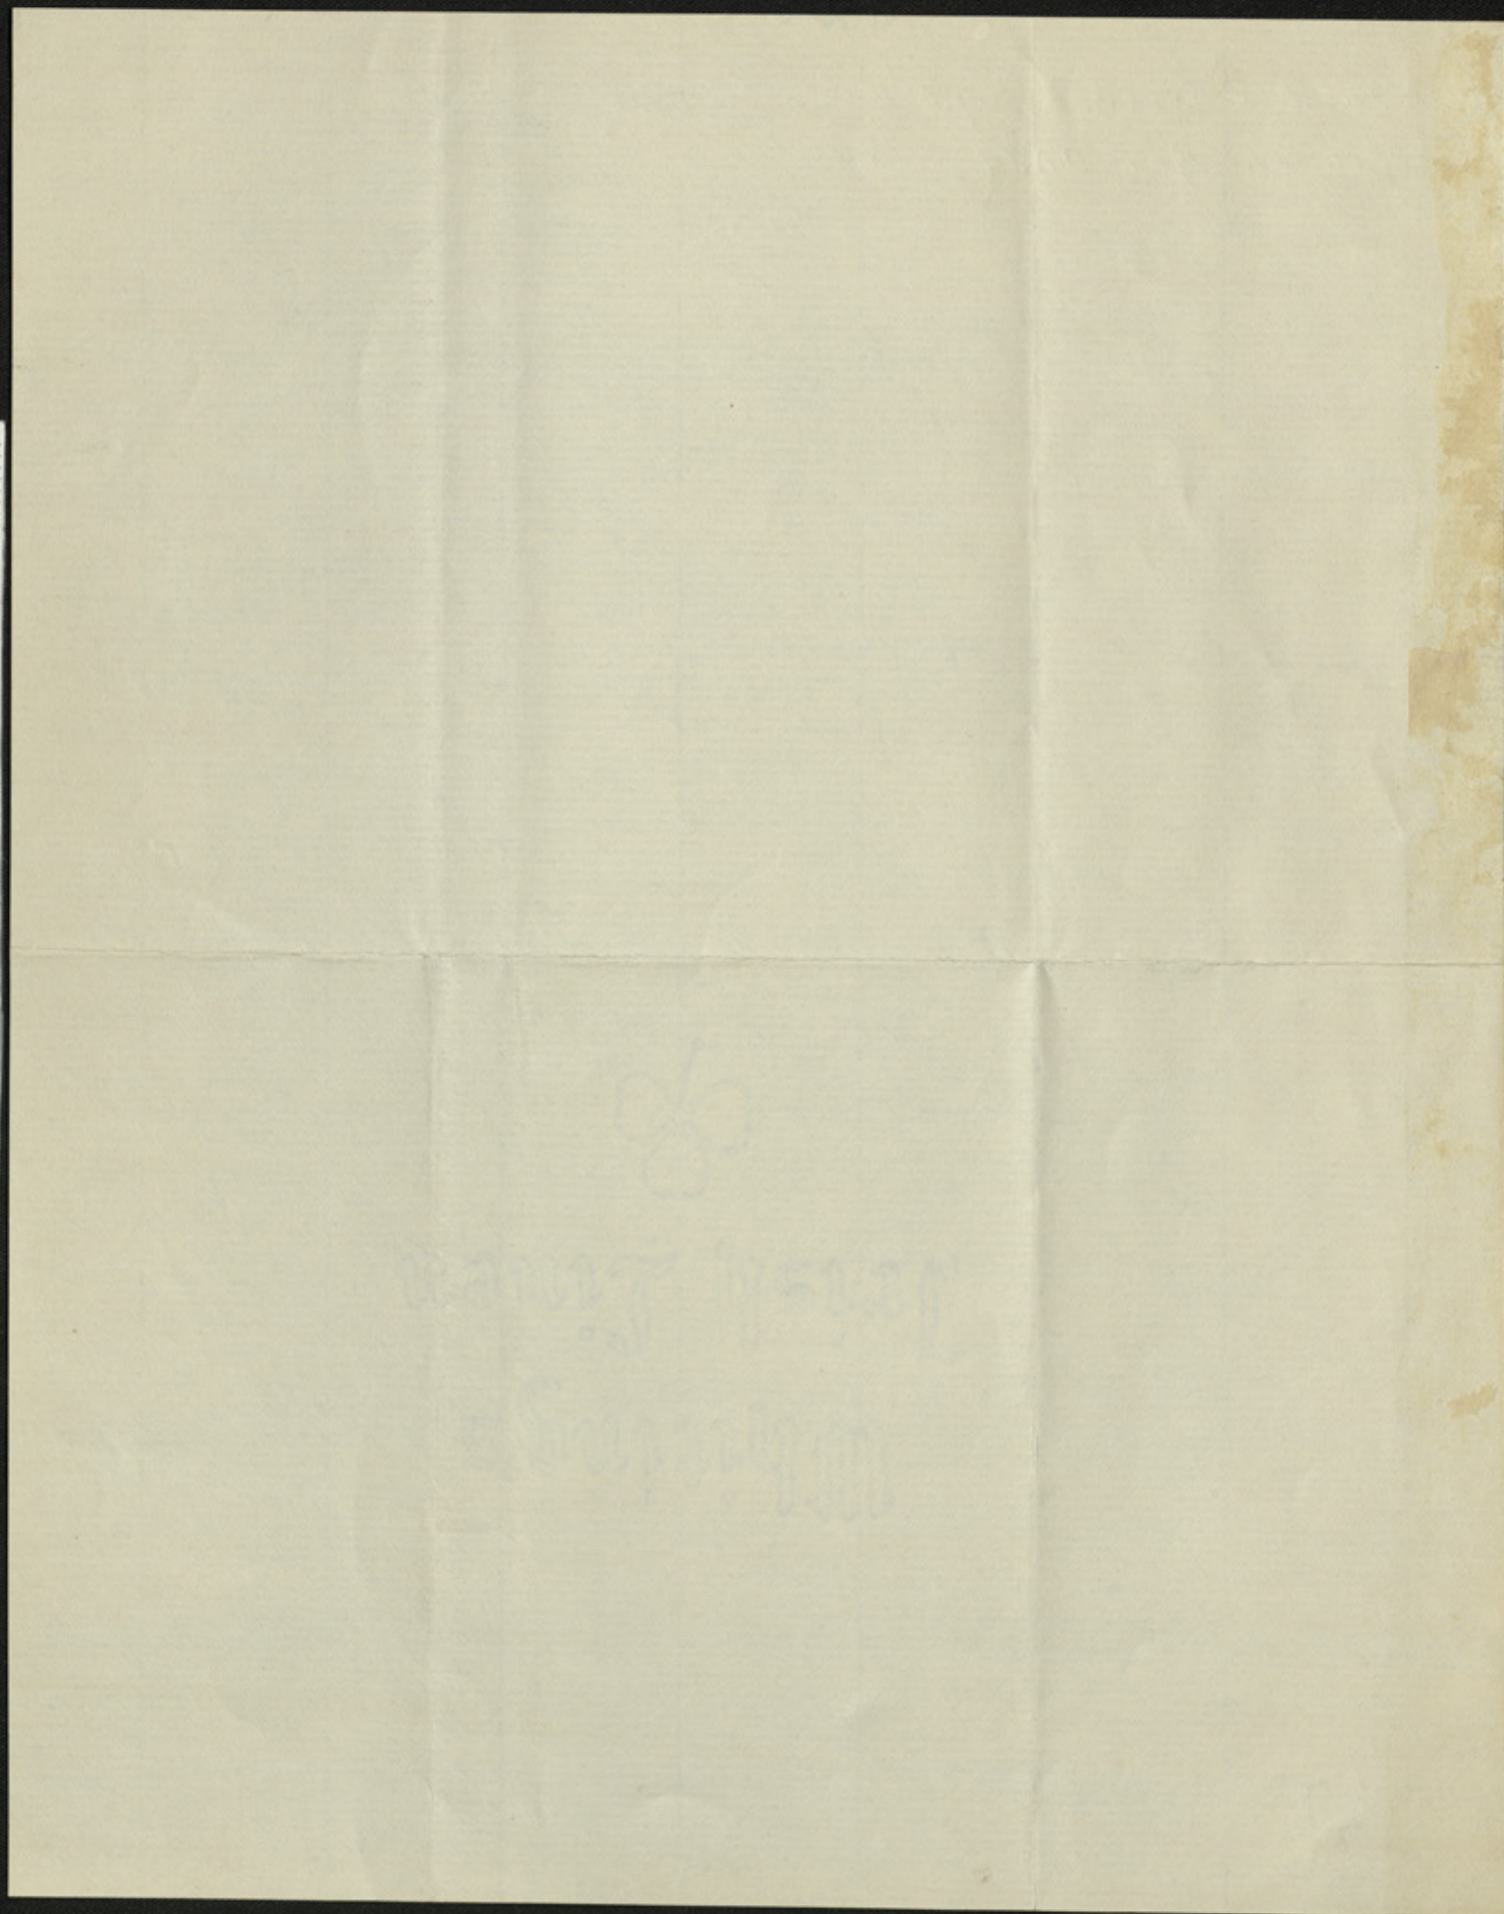

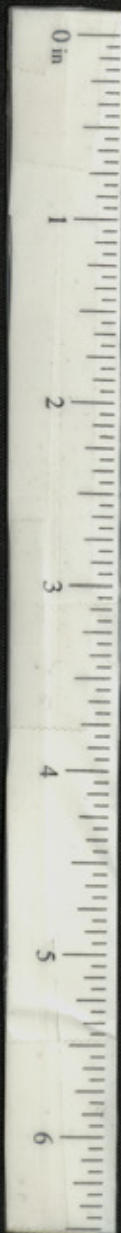

General O. O. Howard

Dear Sir:

Enclosed I send you check for $100. Please note the receipt of this in your next letter so that I can show the contributors that the money has been properly placed.

I also enclose clipping from the Oregonian of the 12th Inst. containing a series of resolutions passed by the Chamber of Commerce of Portland, Oregon. The same resolutions were passed by the Portland Board of Trade. These two orders represent the very best element of the business men of Portland. They want the open door into China, and are willing to open the American door to get it.

Since I wrote to you last I have received your letters of January 30th and 31st containing clippings, which I have read with great interest, and have translated them to the Chinese here. You can hardly understand how grateful these people are to you for what you are doing for them. Yours respectfully, Moy Ling

Gen. O. O. Howard,

New York City, N.Y.

Dear Sir & Comrade:--

Mr. Daniel J. O'Brien, who claims to have been a special scout employed by Secretary Stanton and President Lincoln at Cincinnati, Ohio in the Fall of 1863, to go through the Confederate lines to Gen. Hood's headquarters, under the guise of being a Son of Gen. Zollicoffer's of Nashville, Tenn., and try and betray and mislead Hood to go North and intercept and cut off Sherman. He says that he was directed by them to go to Columbus, and that they gave him money to defray his expenses, that he went from Cincinnati to Columbus, and from there to Nashville, Tenn. and he received his instructions from Col. Pat Hayes of the 6th. Pa. Cav., Vol. at Zollicoffer's Hotel, Nashville Tenn., and that Col. Hayes fully advised him what to do, and that he (Hayes) went and aided him to get to the front in the latter part of July, 1864, and that he went through the lines to Gen. Hood's headquarters and carried out his instructions, but that he was subsequently arrested as a Spy and sent to Macon, Ga., Prison. He says that he has never been compensated for his services, and he says that you know all about it, and he also says that Gen. Schofield knows about it, and I have written to Gen. Schofield now, and I have stated the same to Gen. Schofield, that I have to you relative to the matter, and I wish you would give me any information you can relative to it, and if you can identify the man or remember him, please convey to me by letter, any knowledge that you may have so as to enable him to identify himself, and receive the reward that he is entitled to, and very greatly oblige,

Yours very respectfully,

Burlington, Vt.

My Dear Mr. Howard:-

As we stated in our first letter we have had a great struggle during the past four or five years for our existence but we finally succeeded in selling our old property, paying up all our indebtedness, and now have over $21,000 pledged toward a new building. The public has become aroused to the great need of a larger and better equipment, which is shown by the ^{large} number of subscribers, now over five hundred, which we have on our list.

We felt that a good rousing mass meeting would help a great deal toward the securing of our fund. We shall have several local and prominent business men say a few words also that night, with good music and singing.

The meeting is to be held in the Opera House and all the churches will close thus making it a Y. M. C. C. night. I should be glad to answer any questions you might wish to ask concerning our work, also the time of your arrival in our city.

Very Sincerely Yours
H. A. Horn.

My Dear General.

Your favor of the 15th inst from Burlington is received and as requested I enclose copy of my application for Surveyorship which contains my record.

My application and endorsements were filed by Hon L. F. Livingston M.C. but Senator Clay of this State has been more especially looking after my interests.

Our friend Major Smyth Postmaster of Atlanta died suddenly Monday and is to be buried to day

Some of my friends thinking I was entitled to something better than Surveyor & Customs tell me they are going to organize a movement for my appointment as Postmaster, but it is a little too soon to tell what shape it will take.

If you can bring my case to the attention of the President it will be highly appreciated

Yours Very truly

Dear General

Your letter of the 4th accompanying the Schurz letter was received yesterday together with notice of your war lectures which I am very anxious to see and if in print please order your publisher to send them to me & I will respond with remittance by return mail. But what specially commands my interest at the present hour is your admirable paper on the Chinese exclusion law. Your argument is quite unanswerable and before Congress passes the bill, for consistency's sake it should pass a resolution repealing the Golden Rule & expunging the sermon on the mount from the Canon of scripture. The hostility of our working men to Chinamen because they will work. will work all the time. will work for a fair price and will not waste time or money in saloons is anti christian and a repudiation of all the laws of Christ. I have this morning dispatched the article to the Pacific with special request to give it place in the next issue.

If it appear I will send you a copy. The Pacific has taken your side of the question and I think will welcome your arguments.

Your suggestion touching the appropriation of funds to the subsistence of our school which were given under the head of annuals are technically right.

But my method was practically the only possible way to subsist the school and retain the chilin it. The great thing and about the only thing possible for the annu-vation

of the life of the Nukah Indians was to save their children in the way we were doing. Our enemies themselves being judges our work was a success, made so by husbanding our scanty appropriations as we did. Sect Schurz had the power to vindicate our good work but under the influence of Com^r Hayt he took the side of the conspirators. Hayt now known to be the corruptest man ever in the Indian Bureau whom the Secretary himself was compelled to kick out denying him the poor privilege of resigning. You know all about it at the time.

My Object in writing the Schurz letter 20 years afterwards was to show him how he was misled and how great was the mistake he made.

As you say, A conscience void of offence is ~~the~~ ~~the~~ the chief end of life with me personally. But that don't bring salvation to the children born in darkness for whom we toiled & suffered and prayed and who by the wickedness of a gang of wicked ~~men~~ men were driven back into darkness.

The Lord reigns. While my persecutors one after another have gone in disgrace to dishonored graves. The Lord has lengthened out my life and with a conscience void of offence touching ~~all~~ all those events wherein I was called in question I ride my cycle habitually and preach occasionally, and if I am spared two months more I shall call in my friends & neighbors to re-join with me on my 90th birth day If you meet Professor Goodrich mention me kindly to him, and ask him to show you from the Billings Library a small Book entitled (U. V. M. 50 years ago) accept the assurance of my sincere love
