Dear Sir,

My father and myself have always been sincere admirers of Gen. Howard's, and we have never missed

know he would prize

My dear General

I have just received from Major C P Miller, Quartermaster, San Francisco, Cal Proposed for us to bid on 200 Caskets. His letter is dated Feb. 24th and the bids are to be opened in San. Francisco, March 11th, and as my Casket is different from the Specification they expect me to have a sample there on the 11th, Now they must know that is an impossibility & I fear it is only another method to throw me down, When I last saw Genl Luddington he told me that having seen our Casket he would have the Specification changed so as to include our Casket, In that case we should not have been compelled to send a sample, What do you suggest that we do, I am going to telegraph Major Miller & ask him to give me more time, or a fair chance to show up our Casket, If he replies that He has no authority to do that, then I think it would be proper for me to go over to Washington, see Senator Lodge & get an introduction to Secretary Root, or had I better see Luddington, I shall be glad to have you advise me in this matter, as I feel that now is our chance. Perhaps your visit to Washington was the reason for this proposal. There are some points in your letter that I will reply to later. One point was that they hadn't ordered enough to warrant advertising, whereas these letters to me show that they had bought 1200 on an emergency order - Hoping you are well

I remain sincerely yours
Lewis J. Bird

Dear Bro.-

A few months ago a Maj. Arthur Douglas Howard, who said he was a nephew of yours, and a retired army officer, united with my church. He took a Bible Class of young men in the Sunday School, and all went well for awhile; but about two months ago he suddenly disappeared and we have been able to find no trace of him since. He had resided in Newark a year previous to his uniting with the church and was a regular church attendant. Have you such a nephew, and if so can you give me his present whereabouts? I shall be greatly obliged.

Cordially yours,
James I. Vance.

My dear Harry:-

I was much pleased to have your letter this morning, and especially to know that you are coming this way with your father. We shall be pleased to have a visit from you both over Sunday as you planned, from the 15th to the 17th. The little visit to Kitty did her good. She wrote me about it. I hope your father is not working too hard, but I fear he is.

No doubt he and you knew of the death of General Barlow in 1896. I heard of his severe illness, but did not know of his death. I wrote to him not long ago, asking for his recollections of the first day at Gettysburg. <sup>I got word of his death</sup> Will you ask your father whether General Barlow ever published anything of the kind, and whether he ever made a complete report which is now accessible? I have no war records. I think you have them all. Will you not see whether there is not a report <sup>(none)</sup> from General Barlow of that first day. He was badly wounded so I do not know whether he made report or not. Is there any way in which you can ascertain who were his staff officers at that time? If you can find out their names, possibly you can give me the addresses of some of them.

Another point: Did your father ever receive anything in writing from General Longstreet relating to Gettysburg? If so, I would like <sup>to</sup> to see it. Did he ever have a letter from General John B. Gordon <sup>re-</sup> relating to that first day's battle? I refer to the Confederate General

John B. Gordon. I am very anxious to get some testimony to the effect that your father's persistency and boldness in holding on off to the north and west of the city so obstructed the advance of the enemy, and put them in so much of doubt as to <sup>the</sup> real forces present, and arrayed against them, that it resulted in ~~their~~ moving more cautiously and waiting for their forces to come up and finally secured to us the strategic point of Cemetery Ridge.

Very many thanks for your kind note of Feb. 27th with enclosure. I will forward the latter to Dr. Pearson immediately. It may perhaps save us both some unnecessary waiting if I could know what would be a convenient hour for you at your son's office, on March 24th. I shall be glad to be there at any time in the day that will suit your convenience.
