My dear Sir:

Your letter of the 9th of July has been forwarded to me and I hasten to answer through the courtesy of my colleague, Rev. Dr. Ingersoll, to whom I am sending this word.

The Board of Managers of the American Bible Society has not, to my knowledge, had Rev. Dr. Nare's Topical Bible before it for consideration. I personally know it to be a most excellent work. The Board has been conservative in its interpretation of its right under its constitution to issue anything of the nature of "note or comment" and it might think Chaplain Nare's arrangement to be wholly beyond its privilege even though it considered it every way worthy of an extended circulation.

The secretaries would have to bring the matter to the attention of the Board before expressing anything other than their individual opinions.

Do we understand that you wish the Society to take action on Dr. Nare's publication?

With respect, I am,

Yours cordially,

William I. Haven

The Board of Managers of the American Bible Society has not, to my knowledge, had Rev. Dr. Ingersoll's paper before it for consideration. I personally know it to be a most excellent work. Sir,-

My apology for this intrusion on your time and thought is my knowledge of your interest in every good cause, and specially your reputation as a zealous and sympathetic worker in Y.M.C.A. circles. I would be highly gratified and honored should I succeed in ingratiating your sympathy and winning your adherence to a movement looking to the moral and religious well-being of the soldiers at Fort Leavenworth, to a work which is kindred to that in which you have spent so fruitfully your influence and labor.

I am the minister of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in the City of Leavenworth. During my two and a half years incumbancy of this charge I have given special attention to the religious needs of the Post. I have noted the scant attendance of the men at the services held in the various city churches. Chaplain Robinson, formerly in charge at the Fort, now in the Phillipines, has frequently expressed disappointment with the results of his work among the regular soldiers of the army stationed here. During, or rather since, the absence of Chaplain Robinson, I have conducted religious services in the Post Chapel on a week - night, with very poor results, and little encouragement from the men. I have in other ways had experience which justifies the conclusion that our religious work in but a very inadequate manner touches or benefits

Sir,

My apology for this intrusion on your time and thought is my knowledge of your interest in every good cause, and especially your reputation as a zealous and sympathetic worker in Y.M.C.A. circles. I would be highly gratified and honored should I succeed in interesting you in sympathy and winning your adherence to a movement looking to the moral and religious well-being of the soldiers at Fort Leavenworth, to a work which is kindred to that in which you have spent so fruitfully your influence and labor.

I am the minister of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in the city of Leavenworth. During my two and a half years incumbency of this charge I have given special attention to the religious needs of the Post. I have noted the scant attendance of the men at the services held in the various city churches. Captain Robinson, formerly in charge at the Post, now in the Philippines, has frequently expressed disappointment with the results of his work among the regular soldiers of the army stationed here. During, or rather since, the absence of Captain Robinson, I have conducted religious services in the Post Chapel on a week night, with very poor results, and little encouragement from the men. I have in other ways had experience which justifies the conclusion that our religious work in but a very inadequate manner touches or benefits the life and morale of this branch of the service.

On the other hand temptations to intemperance and vice of every sort abound, and it is not surprising, when one considers the laxity of restraint and the absence of other and counteracting influences, that many of these youth fall an early prey to base indulgence. The garrison at the Fort now numbers 1400 men, and will soon have a permanent roster of 2500. The United States Government is spending a vast sum of money and contemplates making this one of the strongest and largest posts in the country. While I look with satisfaction upon the material benefits that accrue to the community through the expenditure of money and the employment of labor entailed, I confess to a feeling of unspeakable sadness when I contemplate how little is being done for the strengthening and ennoblement of the character of the men.

The scheme which I have the honor of apprising you of, and which looks to the betterment of the morale of the private soldier has, in my mind, taken the form of a thoroughly equipped and up-to-date Y.M. C.A. building, located on the grounds at the Post. In my judgement such an enterprise, well launched and ably superintended, working through its manifold avenues of service; through its gymnasium, its reading rooms, its class rooms, its wholesome recreations, its religious inspirations, would work a reformation in the habits and character of the men. we seek to help.

The scheme cannot but win friends among those who have the best interests of our soldier boys at heart. Probably the principle difficulty in the project is the financial one. If someone in sympathy with the cause, and possessing the means can be reached, and the plan laid before them, I think our difficulty would be overcome, and the success of the plan assured. Do you think that some such party could be interested

I am confident, Sir, that should this scheme receive the advocacy and support of so influential a personage as yourself, and the financial assistance of Miss Helen Gould, a lasting monument of beneficent influence would soon be erected at this place.

My Dear General.

I am so sorry I could have been with you today. But I met with an accident which nearly broke my hip & I am compelled to go to "The Hills of Habersham" - Corrolicia Ga. - to recuperate. - I think I shall give up My R.R. business, & go into raising peaches & stock. - If you ever can come up there I should be so glad to meet you, - I had hoped to have had another trip - even better than our Inacon trip - Possibly I may see you in Washington at the G.H.R. in Oct. -

I spoke to Mrs. Watson about our history - yours & Gen. Gordon's - may write you -

with a view of helping us to reach these classes in a more effective manner. Successful laymen of earnest Christian character can arouse an enthusiasm that none others can.

Dr. Barton was much pleased at my suggestion, & steps are being taken to initiate this movement. I mentioned your name, & Dr. Barton replies - "Why not write to him yourself?", and warmly approved, but feared your age would be a possible obstacle.

Major General A. C. Howard, Washington,

My dear Sir; -

Possibly you may know of the purpose of the A. B. C. F. M., to send to Japan for one year's work some such able evangelist as Dr. Pentecost. That is a good move, one that both Japanese Christians and missionaries will welcome. But we need more than "professionals". I wrote Secy Barton that we need Christian missionary and I want to express my profound conviction that you would find not merely curious ears, but hungry ears, especially among the hundreds of Christian soldiers who are now smothered with a hostile atmosphere. I am in the mountains far away from other missionaries, save two families, or I would get scores of names to this request. Would it be possible to get a favorable consideration from you? Your friends would, I'm sure, aid in this most necessary, tho' new form of mission work.

Rejoicing that we have such men as you in our army, and praying that you may visit Japan, I am,

most sincerely yours,

to meet in a friendly manner these soldiers of Japan. But there is ^{marked} a feeling on the part of the officers that Christianity is not wanted in the army, and soldiers are freely advised to let it alone. So that when our Christians are enrolled for their three years service, they almost invariably are lost to the church.

Now if you could visit Japan, the army would welcome you most cordially, as is the Japanese fashion.
And the YMCA + the churches would arrange for addresses where lots of soldiers would attend, + where you could speak with perfect freedom of your faith and what Christianity means to a soldier.
