My esteemed Sir:—

Referring to your favor of the 18th ult., I beg to inform you that I have not yet had the pleasure of seeing your reply, but when he comes I shall receive him as requested in your letter and will

Offer him my friendship

My dear General

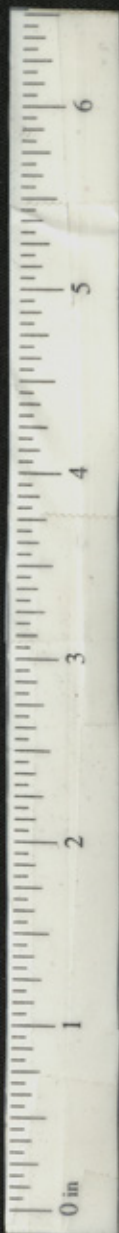

I have almost completed for his widow,
a memorial volume to be privately printed, concerning your Army Comrade General Butterfield, a copy of which I shall have the pleasure of sending you in April. It occurs to me as possible, that you might be pleased to contribute a brief tribute. Should the spirit move you to do so, I shall be happy to give it a place in the volume, however brief or extended, the notice may be.
With best wishes, believe me,

Very sincerely yours

My dear General:

Your welcome note is received. As the Butterfield volume is not to be sold, the tribute would be more acceptable to include in the memorial than later, after it is printed. Your appreciation prize would be very pleasant to his family and friends, and I am sure, if received any time during the coming week, as its place would be at the end of the volume. With best wishes,

Very sincerely yours

Dear General Howard;

Gen. Webb has spoken to me of a competition for a statue of Gen. Greene, at Gettysburg & has asked me to enter it. Now I do not go into competition any more, feeling that the special study I have made of military work, should entitle me to consideration, & if the work I have already done does not satisfy people in its results, I had better keep out.

Now you know I made a study of Gen. Greene from life. He described his action that day to me. My work of Buford shows what I have already done at Gettysburg.

You know Gen. Sigel. You are comfortable to speak. Will you do it? I have written to Gen. Greene, & he says he has written to Gen. Webb.

Do you expect to be in New York soon? I would like to have you see my statue of Gen. Porter which is to be unveiled July 1st.

I have been asked to consider the execution of a statue of General
Thomas and what you have written will be invaluable.

With renewed thanks, believe me,

Dear Sir:

It is most kind of you to have placed the sketch of General
Thomas' life at my disposal and
I appreciate your action very much,
I assure you. The lecture will be returned to you in a few days, and as you requested, it will not be allowed

Dear Uncle Otis:

I arrived home safely from Mexico yesterday, finding Helen well, though distressed because of lack of servants in the house.

I wish to thank you sincerely for your kind letter to President Diaz and for the letter from President Roosevelt to Ambassador Clayton. These letters made it possible for me to reach President Diaz in just the way I desired and my interview was most satisfactory and most successful.

We are organizing our Company and hope to take possession of the property within sixty days. I should be glad to tell you the details of the matter and when you are in New York I hope you will come out to Pelham. I will probably return to Mexico for a month's trip within ten days to two weeks.

Give my love to Aunt Lizzie, and the rest.

Dear General:

Before I heard through Root of your son's desire to be Secretary of Arizona or of the Dawes Commission, both places had been filled, the first by me and the other, as I found on looking it up, by the Secretary of the Interior. I trust I need not say that I would count it a privilege to do anything you desire. Will you let me know if there is anything else which your son would like? It would give me peculiar pleasure to appoint him if I am able to.

Faithfully yours,

Dear General Howard:

I have just returned to the City and find your letter of the 15th. I should be glad to do anything in my power to assist you in getting the appointment you desire for your son. I have seen by the papers that the Arizona appointment has already been made. I have written the President about the Dawes Commission.

Always,
Faithfully yours,

Dear Harry:

A copy of the April letter
is enclosed -

Under the law could the President nominate Chancey for

- (1) Capt. & Paymaster U.S. Army
- (2) " & go. & mer.
- (3) " & Com'y ???

I would prefer any permanent civil Appt. Chancey's knowledge of law will be a help. Sit down with Major Truesdale & take in every military situation possible or desirable.

Consult Chancey - You will have to look up places in civil departments where Chancey would be agreeable - & when the place would suit him.

As soon as you fix up any ^{normal} place let me know. We must be quick to strike while the iron is hot.

My Dear General:--

Your welcome letter of the 23rd inst. at hand, and I am glad to see your familiar signature again. Now, my dear friend, nothing would give me more pleasure than to contribute the whole amount you need, but I am just finishing a college in my own State which has cost a great deal of money, and it together with other charities has made such a drain upon me that I cannot respond at this time favorably to your request. I, however, wish you success in your undertaking.

Very truly yours,

UNITED STATES LEGATION

STOCKHOLM

April 27, 1904.

Dear General Howard:

I duly received your letter of February 26, asking for information in regard to the Military Orders of Sweden.

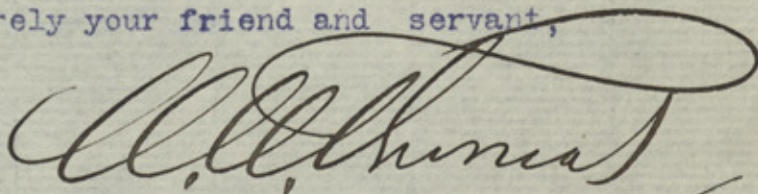

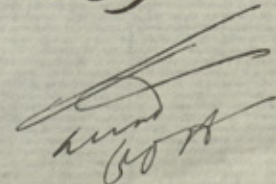

As you and I learned, some half a century ago, within the walls of old Bowdoin, the only knowledge in this world worth having is EXACT knowledge. All other is, not only useless, but worse than useless, for it is misleading.

To comply with your request in the best manner, therefore, I applied to the best authority, my friend, Major-General Virgin, Swedish Minister of War.

I have just received from him a Memorial containing complete and exact information in regard to the Military Orders and Medals of Sweden, as well as the pensions accompanying them.

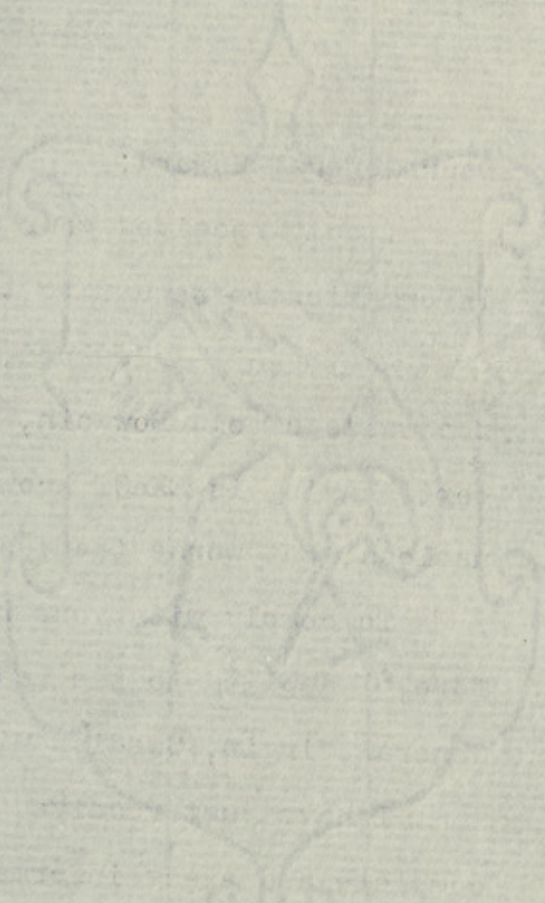

Hoping and believing that the information contained in the Memorial is exactly what you desire, I remain, my dear General Howard, with assurances of high personal regard,

Very sincerely your friend and servant,

Dear Harry,

Your favor of May 2^d is at hand. I presume Prof Pierce, like a good many others, criticizes quite intelligently what he don't know anything about. Get me the book if you can, and I will see what I can do. I cannot take the book away from the Genl. Secy. And cannot spare the time just now to go up there. No one, not even your father, knows what a herculean task it was, to carry on the financial operations of the Bureau.

Dear General:--

You will see from the enclosed circular that Mrs. General Longstreet is writing a memoir of her late husband. The President has subscribed for a copy of her book, writing her a very graceful and kind letter; I have also subscribed.

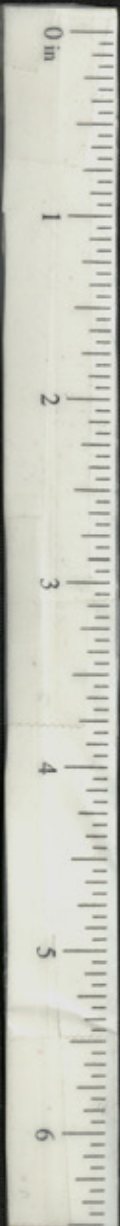

I am sure she would be very much gratified by your subscription to her work and a letter from you.

Of course, I need not tell you that Longstreet was the first of the conspicuous rebel war leaders to accept the situation after the surrender, and continued loyal to the end, supporting Grant and all his successors.

Her address is Gainesville, Ga.

Sincerely yours,

The President called the attention of Secretary Cortelyou to your kind offer about speaking in the campaign, and I am sure he will in due time avail himself of it. He will not be elected Chairman until at the adjournment of the Convention, but I think you will hear from him shortly thereafter.

It was such a pleasure to have you ^{and Gen. Dickles} with us on the Gettysburg trip. It was an education to me.

With high regard, believe me,

Sincerely yours,

My dear General Howard:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 16th instant, with enclosures. The President thinks those letters admirable and will make good use of them.

I have noted the President's engagement to speak at the Lincoln Memorial meeting in behalf of the Lincoln Memorial educational enterprise at Cumberland Gap, Tennessee. The best arrangement would be for the two occasions to be on the one evening, either Monday or Saturday, and then the President could speak at your meeting first and go to the banquet of the Republican Club afterwards.

When you get your details perfected, of course you will advise me fully. If you would write to Hon. J. Edgar Leaycraft of the Republican Club of the City of New York, he could probably inform you as to what that club will do in reference to Lincoln's birthday.
