Chautauqua, New York

July 4, 1906

My dear Sir:-

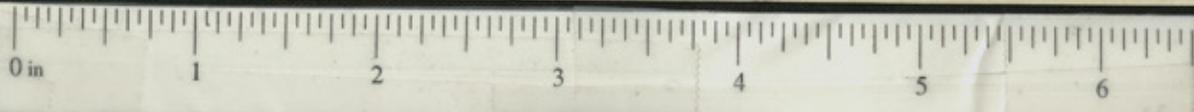

Your telegram was received yesterday and I replied last evening expressing the hope that we might be able to complete the arrangement with General Howard for July twenty-eighth.

To be perfectly frank the problem lies in the amount of the fee you suggest. We have a maximum fee of one hundred dollars and when I indicate the conditions I think you will see our embarrassment.

First of all Chautauqua is a genuinely educational institution not a money making enterprise. There is no stock and there are no profits to individuals. Every penny of surplus must by the charter of the Institution be used in developing its work.

In the second place, large numbers of prominent men and women come to us on the above understanding at fees greatly below their usual compensation. For example, in the present season there are three or four prominent people to whom we have said that one hundred dollars is our maximum fee. They have accepted this cheerfully on our statement of the situation.

You see in the circumstances we could not in justice to those persons and in justice to ourselves make any arrangement which exceeded our maximum fee. You will quite understand that it is not at all a question as to the value of General Howard's services. From the Lyceum standpoint the amount you mention is not only reasonable but modest but in the circumstances which I have described you see our dilemma.

I cannot urge General Howard to come. All I can do is to point out that we have the co-operation of notable people on the basis I have indicated above. We should be very glad if he felt that he could make this contribution to the building up of a purely idealistic enterprise on a strictly educational basis.

Will you be kind enough to telegraph me his decision after you have laid this matter before him.

Yours sincerely,

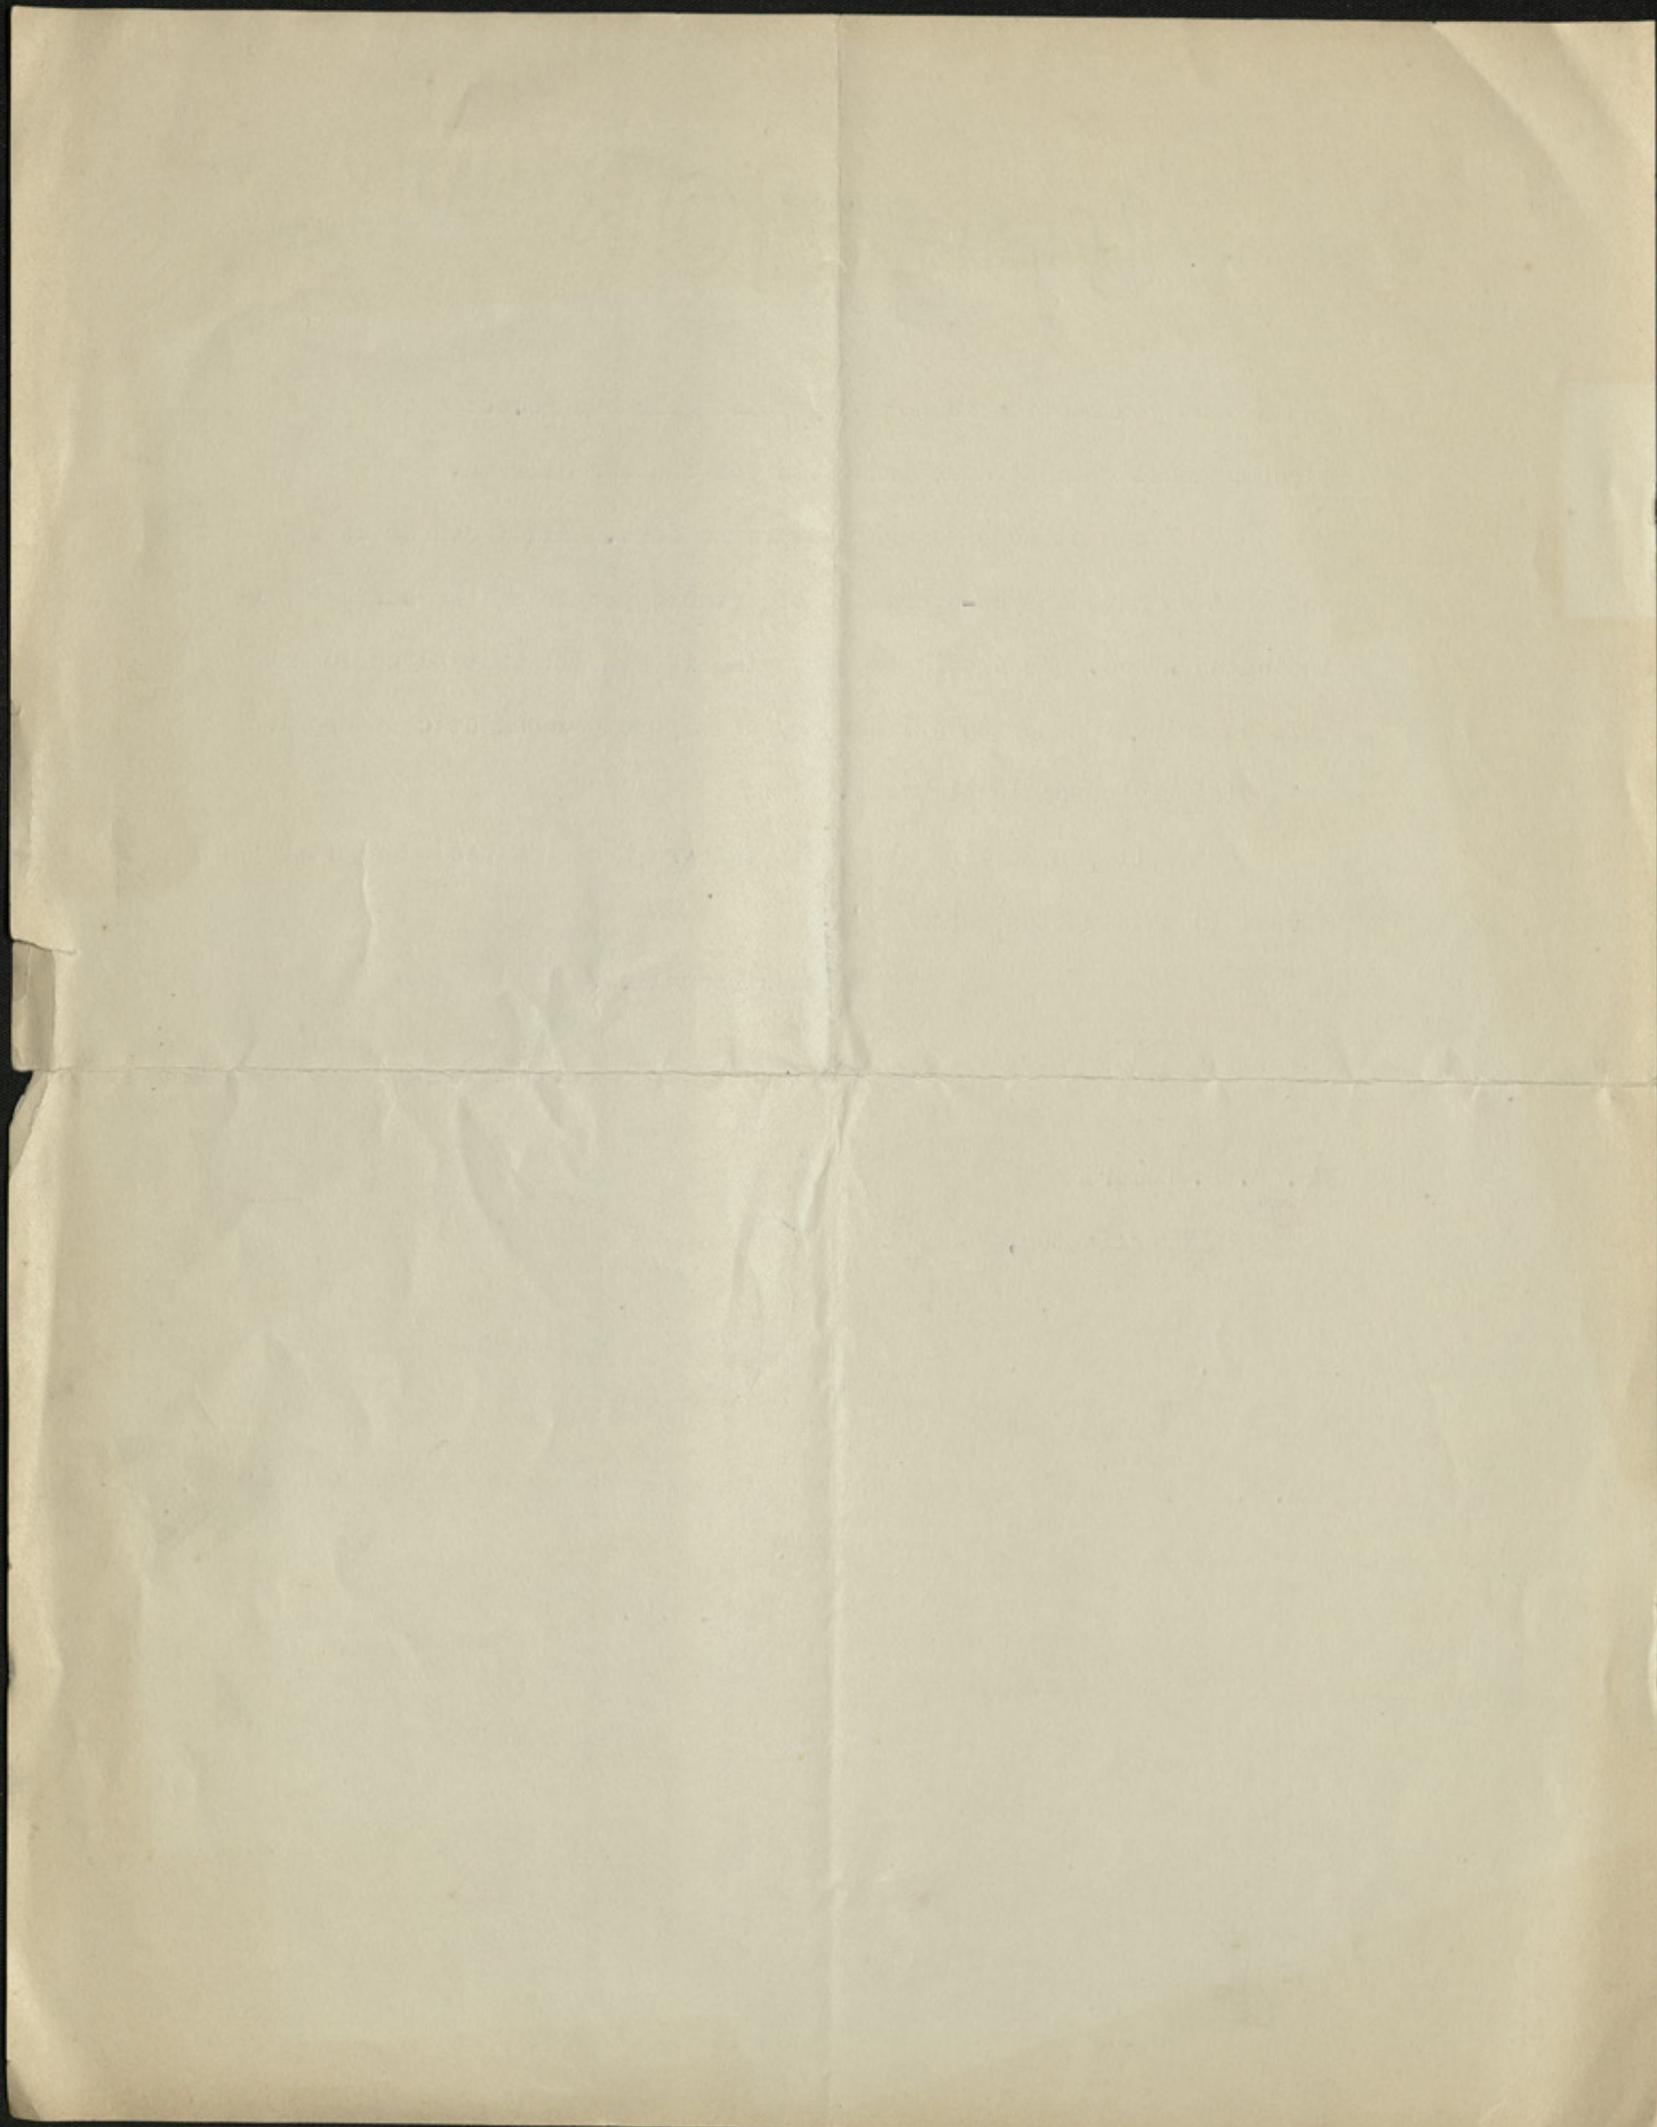

George E. Vincent.

My dear Mr. Howard:-

Your letter of July sixth is at hand. We are as I have written you counting on General Howard for the afternoon of July twenty-eighth. Governor Higgins of New York will be present on the occasion.

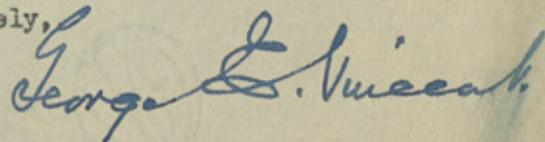

I regret to say that we are utterly unable to furnish any railway transportation. While we used to have a limited amount of this the new regulations have shut it off entirely. I am very sorry.

We appreciate General Howard's services and I am more than sorry that we are not in a position to make more tangible expression of our gratitude.

The address ought to deal with some phases of the Civil War. I should think the "Heroes of the Civil War" would be admirable. The fact that we have a very large number of Southerners makes it important that there should be no references which would cause them offense. It is I am sure unnecessary even to mention this because of the broad spirit in which General Howard has always dealt with this delicate topic.

We shall announce the General for "Heroes of the Civil War".

Yours sincerely,

Dear Harry:-

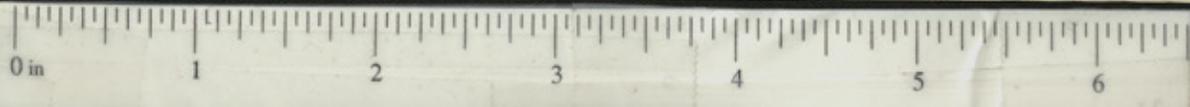

I reached here this morning and haven't done much the weather being exceedingly hot. General Hubbard cashed my Greenacre check about an hour ago and I had a nice talk with him. He was with his son running the bank at 60 Wall Street. His son grows finer looking as age comes on and he seems to be happy as a cashier. This office (Miss Ellis's) is very busy. This forenoon Will Wadhams telephoned over to see if I were here. I answered him, so that this afternoon I was able to do him a service. I went with him to the Army Building and introduced to him, the engineer in charge Colonel Livermore and I think he obtained what he wished, namely the transfer of an employee from Florida to this department. I leave to-night by the 8:25 train which will land me in Dayton to-morrow evening at 4:30. This will give me a rest of a night in bed. I am troubled to-day with an attack of neuralgia in my face owing probably to some trouble of my tooth. I had a good sleep last night on the train from Boston and was wakened this morning about a half an hour before we arrived. I think I told you all the news yesterday. I am a little anxious about Chancey, but think you and he can work it out to your mutual satisfaction. I communicated last night with R. A. Beard by telephone and he thinks he shall adhere to his resignation; he thinks it will be better for the institution, but he will hold on and help me in some way certainly till the Board meets, the 14th of August. I wish you would send a copy of your circular letter to Chancellor Spence, Knoxville, Tennessee. He was taken into the Board and Eager may overlook that fact. I shall go over so as to lunch on the other side of the Hudson. Miss Ellis was here, sends kind greetings to you and Sue.

Please give my love to all, especially to Elizabeth. I do not know how many that word includes in our family. Will Wadhams seemed very happy and spoke pleasantly of the family and of his father.

Can you tell me anything about the reliability, or otherwise, of William Willard Howard of New York? I bought some oil refineries stock of him some years ago, largely because your name was connected with the company as one of the directors, I think as president. Since then nothing but promises have been received, and all the expectations and guarantees on which the stock was sold, seem to have come to nothing. Mr. Howard recently organized a Howard Ink Company, in your honor, as I understand, and I understand him to say that he is a nephew or some relative of yours. He now makes another proposition which looks to me as unreliable as the others, and simply as a scheme for getting money under false pretenses. I shall be glad if you can give me any information about the matter.

C O P Y .

Dear Mr. Clark:-

As the Company gave our L.M.U. about $10,000 worth of stock, in order to examine the plant I went to Port Arthur, Tex., came back and reported what I saw. In the Company were some excellent men whom I knew. Mr. W. W. Howard (a very distant relative, if any, of mine) bore a good reputation, and I always found him full of enterprise and energy.

The ink was had from a bi-product, using material from the oil plant.

For a time I was on a Committee, declining to be chairman as I could not attend to the business. Not seeing very clearly what was coming of this trial I withdrew altogether from the Company, declining further responsibility, and asking my friends as far as I could to examine the plans and scheme of the Company for themselves.

I do not believe there is any dishonesty. You have plenty of friends in Stamford, Conn. Kindly write to some of them and ask them to look into this business.

The truth is, unexpected troubles arose in Texas; then the ink did not crop out largely enough; and I fear the wood alcohol may not be as successful as Mr. Howard, with his sanguine temperament, believes. I am now in no way connected with the Company and hold no stock. The L.M.U., which I represented, had the stock, and it was placed in our Treasurer's hands, and our L.M.U. Directors naturally want it to become of value.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Clark:-

As the company gave our L.M.U. about $10,000 worth of stock, in order to examine the plant I went to Port Arthur, Tex., came back and reported what I saw. In the company were some excellent men whom I knew, Mr. W. W. Howard (a very distant relative, if any, of mine) bore a good reputation, and I always found him full of enterprise and energy.

The ink was had from a bi-product, using material from the oil plant.

For a time I was on a committee, desiring to be chairman as I could not attend to the business. Not seeing very clearly what was going on this crisis I withdrew altogether from the company, declining further responsibility, and asking my friends as far as I could to examine the plans and actions of the company for themselves.
I do not believe there is any dishonesty. You have plenty of friends in Stamford, Conn. Kindly write to some of them and ask them to look into this business.

The truth is, unexpected troubles arose in Texas; then the ink did not drop out largely enough; and I fear the wood alcohol may not be as successful as Mr. Howard, with his serene temperament, declines. I am now in no way connected with the company and hold no stock. The L.M.U., which I represented, had the stock, and it was placed in our treasurer's hands, and our L.M.U. directors naturally want it to become of value.

Dear General Howard:-

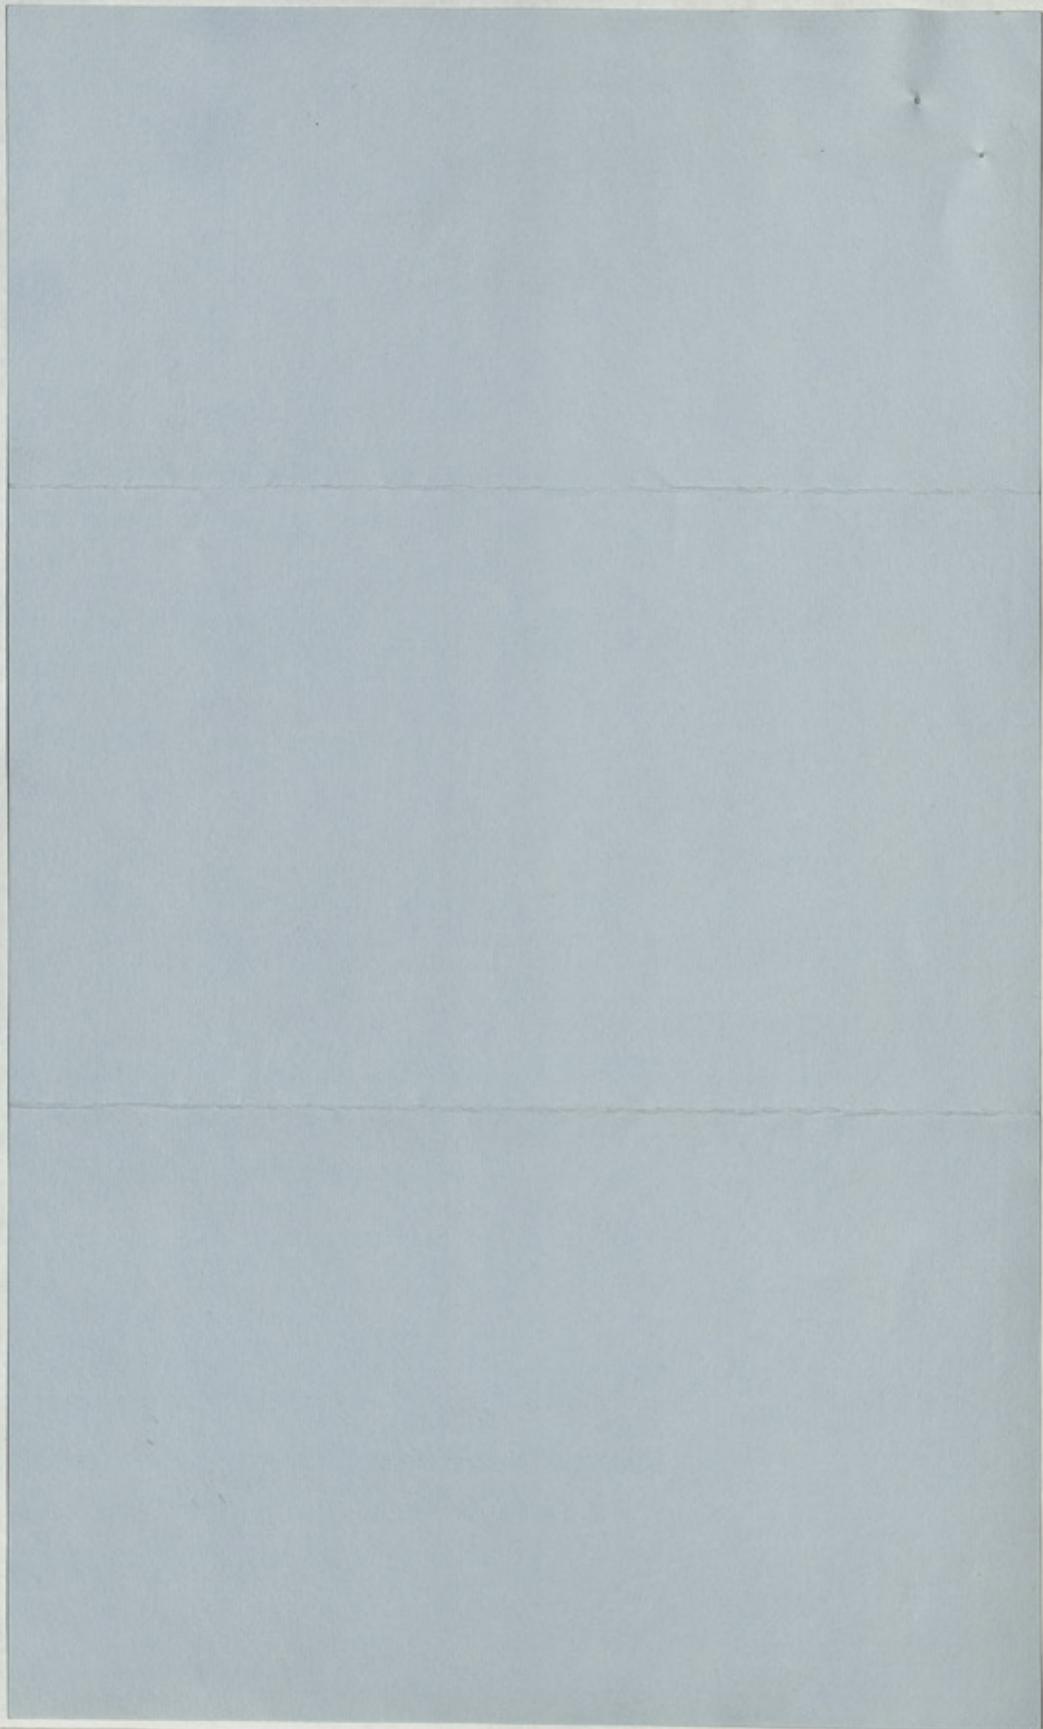

The only sign of age I have seen in you for a long time is your note, at hand today, in which you ask me if Mrs. Wanamaker and I are offended. Aint you ashamed of yourself, as if it were possible for you to do anything or say anything or not to do anything to offend me. I will carry your letter home to Mrs. Wanamaker that she may see how childish an old man may become.

I am full of my usual winter cold and am not equal to one-fourth of my usual work these days.

I hope this finds you very well.

Very sincerely yours,

John Wanamaker

My dear General,

Among the notes and letters of congratulation, and good wishes, which have fairly snowed me under, during the past week, none has given me more pleasure than your most kind and cordial letter of the 8th. The notice which my friends have taken of my 80th anniversary was wholly unexpected by me, and I am deeply touched by the kind appreciation of what I have tried to be and to do, and even more by the tone of personal regard which runs through most of these congratulatory letters. I want you to understand, my friend, that I value your friendship as above price. I reciprocate heartily your good wishes. May life, health, honor troops of friends attend you during many years to come. And wishing for you all good things in this life and the life beyond this,

I am ever sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Clark:-

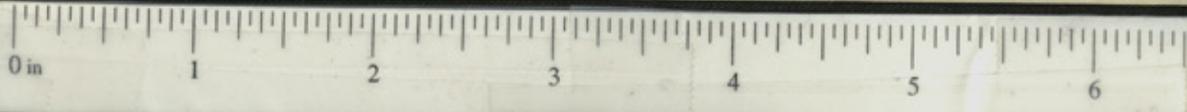

Your kind letter is at hand. I submit to you a list of chiefs whom I knew, with a word or two with regard to them. I should draw ~~up~~ their life history very much as I did that of Osceola, only with a little more personal familiarity with their doings, and would keep in mind that I was writing for young people, not presenting too much of the severe features of Indian life, but rather the good side and curious phases.

I have given you also the names of Chiefs with whose doings I have been familiar on account of intimacy with other officers of the Army, and also of historic characters if you thought it best for me to look up their characteristics and strong points and present them as I tried to do with Osceola. The enclosed list will show you what was in my mind.

Permit me to say that I can shape my writing, as I am still young, in accordance with your ideas from your intimacy with young people. Indeed, I would like to be governed somewhat by your own way of thinking.

Very sincerely yours,

Olin Olin Howard
