Address delivered at the Saturday night meeting of the New England Society
Brooklyn, N.Y.

No 21

Sincerely
H. H. Rez
HOME RULE! Mr. President:

Really one might well, in these days, be puzzled not a little over the meaning of "Home Rule."

The grand old man of England, finding a home shattered because of the positive inability of a proper lord to rule his house, has, we fear, made a muddle of the whole business.

True O'Shea is emancipated from the privilege and duties of home rule; and the unwise Parnell has not yet, in proper and legal form, assumed them. So, Sir, there is neither a peaceful Parnell home, nor an original O'Shea home to speak of.

Meanwhile what a display of sides among the Kilkenny cats. One great one has had his ears boxed and his face scratched by his own HOME RULE!" PROTEST!

Health, one life well to these days, pe but

They set in little over the meeting of "Home

Judge.

The strain of men of England, finding a home asserted because of the positive inability to a property to put it, have now, here, we fear, were a multitude of the whole business.

One's shoes in mathematics from the privilege and subjects of home. It's by the nursing service her net, yet, in their and I feel, I seem entirely, so sit there in better a position be smart, not on its right, it's right, home to be smart.

Meanwhile want a glimpse of these streets the Kilimanjaro gates, one about one fee had his ear, one day, my fine face station by fine our kittens; and his antagonist, guarded by another crunching set of felines, has been nearly blinded by the clouds of lime-dust that came from the cats covered with the alkali getting out of the bag. The female cats claim it was not lime-dust, but mica.

Even Mr. Seward’s crooked telescope, which in 1861 uncovered the rebellion, taken from the archives and aimed across the ocean, could not now discover the slightest show of “Home-rule”, if indeed, there is any Rule at all, in old Ireland.

Home-rule, even in New York in the winter time, is at rather a low ebb. So I judge when I find husbands almost universally wandering off to what has been called “stag feasts” against the most solemn protests of their wives.

Think of these imported dinners from Germany,
Holland, Wales, Scotland, England, New England Kitten: and the luncheon, evening of another secretarial visit of letters, have been nearly practically of the evening of time-and-what: that came from the cafe covered with the skirt sitting out of the fire.

Even Mr. Sewall's creeper telescopes, which in 1881 encased the peregrines, taken from the arctic and Arctic, these the ocean, could not ever discover the reflector now at "Home-Rute.

If anyone there is any hope of all, in any Irland.

Home-Rute: save in New York in the winter time, it is to letter a few eggs. So I judge when I have purchased street municipally wondering all to which we have called "after lessons" see-and the most solemn property of their wives.

Think of these important citizens from Germany, Holland, Sweden, Scotland, England, New England and Ohio; where husbands in white neck-ties abound, but there is never a solitary housewife; unless by some extraordinary political influence she, half starved, succeeds from some lower corner or upper gallery, in absorbing fragments only of the intellectual desert; where she often gazes upon confusion so confounded that she can scarcely distinguish her own spouse. The tendency, Sir, of these feasts is against Home-rule!

But, to be more serious. Have we outside of our own homes, home-rule in New York or Brooklyn? I think we have, Sir!

In the last election the Clergy, home and foreign, were eloquent. Merchants came back from their suburb and sea-side homes; the Navy-Yard, ships in the harbor and neighboring Army garrisons minded their own business; while poliany others were suspended in white neck-ties spunk! but there is never a safety-pzone-at least twelve of some ex-territorial helpers!

Influence was, 'Hell afloat' - a.success from some four rows of upon right to be speed-no hegree even of the intellectual sector; where she often exude convolution into concern at least she can noticeably attristicate her own

The Fenian's sit of three leets in Britain Home-Ruler. but to be more serious I have no patience of our own homes; home-rule in New York or Stockholm.

I think I have said

In the last election the Green, Green and terrible" "awesome!" "terrifying!" came back from their support may rescue them; the key-very able is the perfect and dehumanized white boy; settlement mingles their own - handsome white boy.

ticians, with hearts and mouths full of reform, filled the newspapers with their letters and speeches; and the press with its great power exerted itself early in the morning and late in the evening. What resulted from all the eloquence, the coming back, the careful registration, the published speeches, the business-minded of sailors and soldiers and from the early and later rain of the public press? What resulted? Why, Tammany won; and Home-rule prevailed.

But, my friend whispers, do not be so narrow. Take the whole country in. Strange to say, at our last voting, in spite of all the reasoning of reasonable men, just as it often happens in a concrete house where obstinacy sets in, dishes break and doors slam, and broomsticks get the mastery, a perfect cyclone of It is with pleasure that I receive your letter and its enclosure, which contains the press with the fruit brand "Peaches!" that you sent me. I have tried it in the morning and late in the evening. The peach is delicious. I find the label, the product name, "Peaches!" and the brand name, very appealing. I would love to try more of your home-made product. What is the next flavor you plan to offer?

Your letter arrived on my birthday, and I was very touched. Thank you for your generosity. I really appreciate it. I hope to receive more like this in the future. Take care of the peach trees and the business, and best wishes for future success. the most wilful and uncontrollable Home-Rule swept over the whole country. Elderly, gray-haired, wrinkled faced citizens have their mouths wide open still, trying to comprehend and account for the situation: "Is it Reciprocity! Is it honest national support! Can it be international improvements! Surely it cannot be the happy home protection offered by the Ohio Statesman!"

No! No! friends, possess your souls in peace, it is only a windy freak of an obstinate, wilful national spirit, properly named "Home Rule."

The young ox fractures the stanchel and eats the corn from the crib. The three year old colt smashes the dash-board, breaks the reins, frees the carriage and runs wildly through the village. The farmer's well-bred dog suddenly the west mittal and acceptable home rule.

sweep ever the whole country.

Every day.

patriot, American keam citizen have spent months with open attack firing to commerce and mercy for the nation. "as it reports so we in the present national support. can it be in the people have protection allotted by the statement

Not key factors because your service in peace.

It is only a minor topic of an apathetic.

In national spirit, property named "home rule".

The number of lecturers by the afternoon and state.

The core from the grip.

cott members the 4th petition, please the people leave the committee and make timely changes.

Mr. Foster. The committee well-placed for authority wakes in the night, and springs through the kitchen window, runs yelping around the house, and then stops and howls at the moon! And we learn from good authority that at times inanimate things like shirt-studs, sleeve buttons and business banks have an inconceivable perversity, that nobody can account for, nobody restrain or control.

So with the voting population of this bless-ed country. Here, Mr. President, is the patient philosophy - what we cannot cure, that we must endure!

Home-Rule that sometimes strays and gets wild, will in time, bring us good oxen, safe horses, fine watch dogs, capital studs and buttons and substantial banks. How many thousand things have even at last done themselves to the general satisfaction of mankind.
woken in the night, my emotions throng the kitchen window, since visible above the house. And my feet clack on the floor at the moment. I see a shadowy figure in the picture, a scene portion next to a window, and a business park by a telephone pole. A variety that belong can account for problem.

Letter to a continent.

So with the national awakening at this place.

My country. Here, Mr. President, in the beam that philosophy - what we cannot cure, that we must understand.

Home rule that sometimes arises and native

With will in time, points to local action nice - hence, into water, zero; escape stage and part. How many thousand? How many thousand? How may thousands have seen it last gone there against to the general satirization of mankind.
I have long clung to the idea that the Home was itself an institution. Christian homes sprang from the "May-flower", and so, where Christian Homes most abound there is the best Home-Rule.

From experience we all know that the rule inside of the model home varies from time to time. Now the mother is on the lead, and in some places the mother-in-law. Occasionally a grand father, strong and determined, bears sway; and I have known a beautiful bride for an indefinite space to have her own sweet will. But, Sir, everywhere and always, the baby in the house has completely and persistently for months controlled and directed the entire home-life.

Listen to Jacob Abbott as he speaks on the sixth of December, 1620.
"On board the "May-flower" about this time a baby was born. The baby was a boy,—the son of Mr. White. They named him Peregrine. He Notwithstanding the scenes of suffering and hardship, among which he made his entrance into the world, seems to have been a healthy child, for he lived more than 80 years."

Strange that Mr. Abbott did not perceive that the health and strength of that first-born son was due to his having one hundred servants on board the "May-flower" to carry out his behests and supply all his needs.

How singularly gentle and yet potent is the presence and influence of a dear little child. We are not afraid of this sort of Home ruling, are we Sir?

Before closing let me reiterate my profound admiration for what Mr. Abbott says is "the "go beyond the "may-lower" point this time a paper was formed. the paper was a grey - the grey of the white. then amazed him, "paleface".

Wet plastering the scene of mutilating and paralyzing, money which he made his entrance into the war, seems to have been a peacful craft. it for pe like more than 80 years."

strange that we get to know better.

..it that the plastering and strangling of that life-grown you may see to the progress one hundred Probably by beyond the "may-lower" to carry out this poor hope and supply off the doctors.

how indolently retarded our not present in the presence may influence of a great little girl.

were not stated of the sort of Home nursing were we still before ceasing let me insterate my philosophy statement for what all "Apparet" we are to the first example in the history of mankind of the foundation of a civil state, by a written condition, on the basis of universal suffrage." Listen to some of its provisions: It begins:-

"In the name of God, Amen."
"We whose names are underwritten x x x x having undertaken for the glory of God, and advancement of the Christian faith and honor of our king and country, a voyage to plant the first colony in the Northern parts of Virginia, do by these present, solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and of one another, covenant and combine ourselves together, into a civil body politic, for our better ordering, and preservation, and furtherance of the ends aforesaid:
and by virtue hereof, to enact, constitute and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances,
In the name of God, Amen.

In whose name the constitution is x x x x x x

paving the way toward the rule of God, our God.

In the name of God, Amen.

In whose name the constitution is x x x x x x

paving the way toward the rule of God, our God.

In the name of God, Amen.

In whose name the constitution is x x x x x x

paving the way toward the rule of God, our God.

In the name of God, Amen.

In whose name the constitution is x x x x x x

paving the way toward the rule of God, our God.

In the name of God, Amen.

In whose name the constitution is x x x x x x

paving the way toward the rule of God, our God.
acts, constitutions and offices, from time to time, as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the public good of the colony, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience."

This is the foundation of State and National Rule that came from the colonists on the "Mayflower." There was no dissenting; for every man subscribed his name. The sovereignty after 150 years was changed, but the covenant itself is our inheritance.

"The advancement of Christianity" and "the honor of our country" - are indeed objects worth-thy of universal subscription. If our people forget this early promise may not our common Lord withhold his favor and blessing?
The Development of Christianity and the Religion of Our Community - The Inbreed Apparitions. If our people lose their early promise we put our community to our advantage. The persecution of our community. In our people were the early, the middle, the last generation and the present generation.