9. The Sergeant at Chattanooga.

10. Chaplain Eastman.

11. Captain Griffiths.
Two free negroes, belonging to Frederick, Md., who concealed themselves in the cars which conveyed the Rhode Island Regiment to Washington from that city, were returned this morning by command of Colonel Burnside, who supposed them to be slaves. The negroes were accompanied by a sergeant of the regiment, who lodged them in gaol. -- Baltimore American, June 22.
HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON,
Washington, D. C., July 17, 1861.

General Orders, No. 33.
Fugitive slaves will, under no pretext whatever, be permitted to reside, or in any way be harbored in the quarters and camps of the troops serving in this department. Neither will such slaves be allowed to accompany troops on the march. Commanders of troops will be held responsible for a strict observance of the order.

By command of Brigadier Gen. Mansfield:
Theodore Talbot,
Asst. Adjutant-General.
HALLECK'S GENERAL ORDER NO. 3.
Headquarters Department of Missouri,
St. Louis, November 20, 1861.

General Orders No. 3.

1. It has been represented that important information respecting the numbers and condition of our forces is conveyed to the enemy by means of fugitive slaves who are admitted within our lines. In order to remedy this evil, it is directed that no such persons be hereafter permitted to enter the lines of any camp, or of any forces on the march, and that any now within such lines be immediately excluded therefrom.

2. The General Commanding wishes to impress upon all officers in command of posts and troops in the field the importance of preventing unauthorized persons of every description from entering and leaving our lines, and of observing the greatest precaution in the employment of agents and clerks in confidential positions.

By order of Major General Halleck:

William McMicking,
Asst. Adjutant-General.
