It is known and admitted that Thousand Island Park is the great Summer Resort of the St. Lawrence. Thousands bear testimony to its beauties, and to its health-giving properties. During the "season" it is one of the most densely crowded archipelagoes in the world. The grand hotel is now complete, and is a thing of beauty. It is one of the finest summer hotels in the country. A fine outlook from every room in the building. The cooking and laundry portions of the building are practically fire-proof.

Our program for the season is now all we could ask. We shall have at the park for preaching and lectures some of the best talent on this continent. Prof. Silas S. Neff, who is at the head of the National School of Oratory in Philadelphia, will be at the park this year, as he was last, and add interest to the entertainments. Several public entertainments will be given by him and his school. This school is not only national in name, but in reputation also. He will, with his able class of teachers, open his school about July 6, and continue for six weeks.

We are delighted to announce that Professor W. Waugh Lauder, of Chicago, late of the staff of the New England Conservatory, a graduate of Leipzig Conservatory, will be at the park and take charge of the music in the tabernacle during the season. He will organize classes, choruses, etc., and give instruction in all branches of music, vocal and instrumental. He has had lengthy experience as a critic, and lectures on all musical topics. During his stay, he will give at least four public concerts in the tabernacle. His classes will meet afternoons in the chapel, where he will give his wonderful "piano talks" and musical lectures. Prof. Lauder has no superior in this department in this country. This is a wonderful opportunity for musical feasts. He will reach the park July 1.

Prof V. E. Kilpatrick, professor of mathematics, elocution and military tactics in Glenwood Collegiate Institute at Matawan, N. J., will reach the park about the middle of July to form classes in some of the most popular summer studies, such as the teaching of Delsarte, the great French philosopher, as expounded by his daughter last winter in New York and Philadelphia, etc. He will form classes for instruction in physical culture, according to the latest scientific principles, etc.
