

Referred to Gen. Howard

228

Errors

On p. 113 of Gen. O.O. Howard's Life of General Zachary Taylor, "9th of April" should be "9th of May."

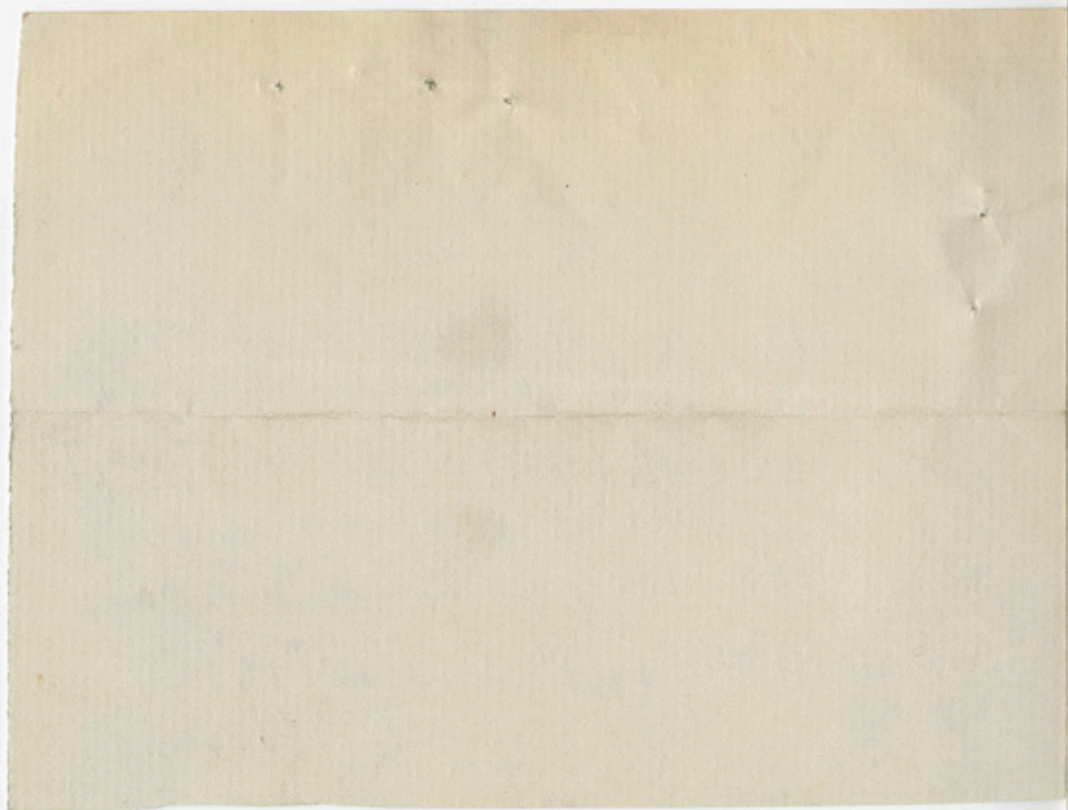

" " 115 "8th of April" should be "8th of May," and "April 9th" should be "May 9th"

" " 122 "9th (April)" should be "9th [May]," and "8th (April)" should be "8th [May]".

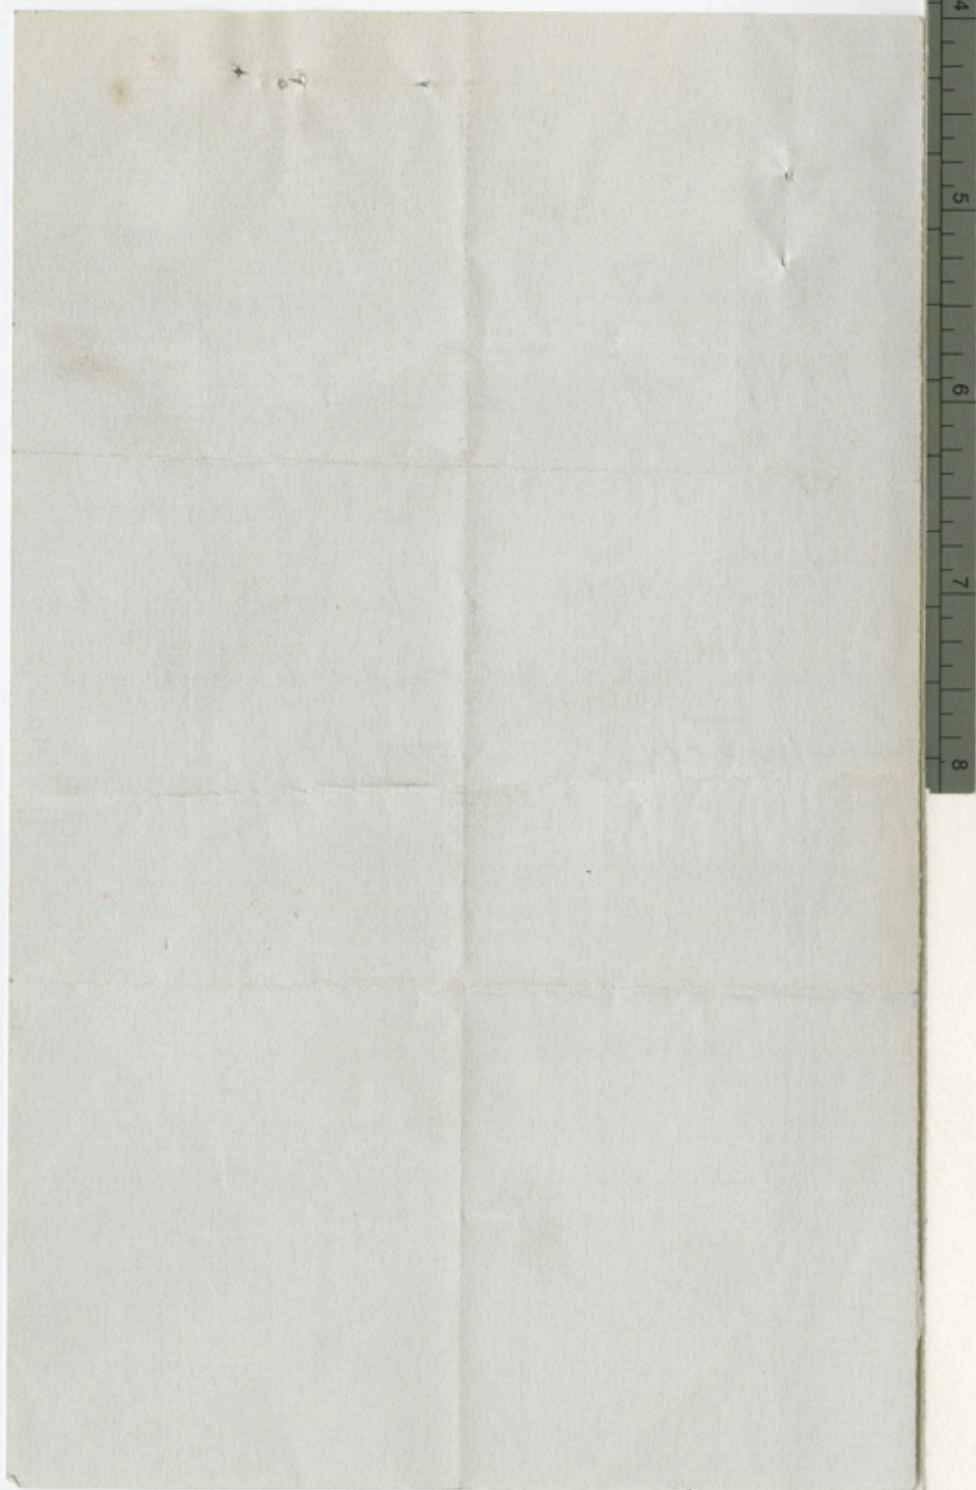

" " 123 "10th of April" should be "10th of May."

" " 115 "1861" should be "1862".

On p. 318 "Henry L. Pierce" should be "Edward L. Pierce". C. W. Lewis.

Solom Borland was born in Nausmond
County, Va., Aug. 8, 1811. Gleason's Pictorial for March 5, 1853, had a picture of him, together with a biographical sketch. C. W. Lewis.

228

Copy

New York Herald, June 2nd 1894.

Washington News:-

"A private letter from Winchester, Va., mentions the interesting fact that Mrs. Bettie Taylor Dundridge, the only surviving daughter of Ex-President Zachary Taylor, who resides in that city, has just discovered, after a long search, the sash of General Braddock, which was long supposed to have been lost. This sash was sent by General Gaines.

copied by V. J. D.

228

Copy

New York Herald, June 2nd 1894.

Washington News:-

"A private letter from Winchester, Va., mentions the interesting fact that Mrs. Bettie Taylor Dumbidge, the only surviving daughter of Ex-President Zachary Taylor, who resides in that city, has just discovered, after a long search, the sash of General Braddock, which was long supposed to have been lost. This sash was sent by General Gaines.

Replied by J. J. J.